Mayor Gibbs City-Wide Saturation Oral Polio Immunization Planned

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs cast the lone vote against the adoption of a $10,693,713 school budget when it was approved 7-1 by the School Committee.

The Mayor declared that he recognized allowances had to be made for the growth of Newton's public school population. He further said he was not arguing about the raises voted for the teachers.

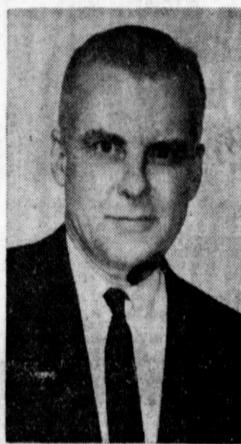

But he said there were other aspects of the budget to which he was opposed and that since he had to record himself either for or against the over-all budget, he was voting against it.

School Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman asserted that the Mayor has been a devoted and conscientious School Committeeman. Freedman said he recognized that Gibbs was filling a dual role as School Committee member and Mayor.

Freedman went on to say he was sure the Mayor's vote against the budget was for certain technical reasons.

He praised Gibbs and said the Mayor was "in sympathy with the overall objectives of the Newton public schools and the desire of the citizens as I saw it for the School Committee to maintain quality education in Newton."

School Committeewoman Grace C. Whitmore was not in attendance at the session at which the school budget for

Staff Changes At Newton Schools

The Newton School Committee accepted three resignations last week and gave approval to appointment of four teachers. The resignations were: Walter L. Cooper, who retired as custodian of the Division of Instruction, Mrs. Irene Linto-Smith, Newton South High teacher, Carl E. Pickhardt, Weeks Junior High and Robert H. Stegeman, Jr., Newton South High. The following were appointed: Mrs. Judith G. Beard for fifth grade at Burr School, Mrs. Lillie A. Davis, part-time mathematics teacher at Newton South High, Joan W. Gettig part-time teacher of Russian at Newton South, and John R. Mulkern, day division, Newton Junior College.

cycles", Dr. Greenleaf stated. "There was one outbreak in 1955, another in 1959. The next cycle year is 1963."

Final plans for the campaign were mapped out at a meeting of the Steering Committee held at City Hall last week.

The January 14 date has been designated as the period during which the Type I vaccine will be available for administration to students of the public, private and parochial schools in Newton.

The week of January 21 has been selected for the vaccine administration to all citizens of Newton. Dates for Type II and Type III vaccine oral administration will be announced later.

Chairman Basbas emphasized that this important program for immunization against polio is nation-wide and is being sponsored by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry.

Chairman Basbas emphasized that this important program for immunization against polio is nation-wide and is being sponsored by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry. It is sponsored in Massachusetts by Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health, and in Newton by Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf, Director of Public Health.

In presenting the program goal to the Newton Steering Committee, Dr. Greenleaf urged that all persons in Newton take advantage of this vitally important health project to prevent the disease from spreading through the city's population.

"With a successful coordinated program Newton can hope to wipe out polio infantile paralysis that has been such a dread disease to humanity for so many years."

Couple Going To Africa For Stay Of Five Years

A young Auburndale couple left last Friday for a five-year stay in the Republic of South Africa, where they will continue their educational work among the African people that was interrupted by a year's furlough here.

The Rev. and Mrs. P. Allen Myrick had lived for the past year in the Walker Missionary Home, Auburndale, while Mr. Myrick studied at Harvard Divinity School.

They took with them their three children, two of whom sprinkled their English with a liberal amount of Zulu. Mr. and Mrs. Myrick made their first trip to South Africa in 1956, when he was awarded a fellowship to travel for a year in a country of his choice. When they went back to South Africa in 1958 their daughter Elizabeth was six months old.

Her sister Helen was born there a year later. Their parents learned to speak Zulu fluently, and the girls became quite proficient. Philip, born here last summer, is making his first trip to Africa, and is likely to master the language during the family's stay.

Mr. Myrick, 32, is a Cambridge native, and was grad-

Aldermen Expected To Okay $2-Million Bond Issue For Rumford Ave.

A $2 million bond issue to finance the construction of a proposed new municipal incinerator on Rumford avenue in Auburndale, near the Waltham line, is expected to clear the Board of Aldermen next Monday night.

This will conclude a controversy which has flared periodically for almost a year over the selection of a location for the incinerator.

If the bond issue reaches Mayor Donald L. Gibbs next Tuesday, as now appears probable, he will immediately order that plans for building the incinerator be carried forward as swiftly as possible.

The Mayor has declared repeatedly that the new incinerator is urgently needed and that the old, antiquated incinerator on Elliot street in Newton Highlands is no longer adequate to meet Newton's needs.

Two other sites for the new incinerator have been considered during the prolonged dispute as to where it should be placed. One was on Pine street in West Newton, the other on Elliot street in Newton Highlands, next to the existing incinerator.

Strong opposition developed to both those locations, and the Mayor decided some weeks ago that the site to which there was the least public objection was on Rumford avenue.

He also has emphasized that a modern incinerator, with all its improvements, is no longer the nuisance in a neighborhood which some people believe.

In line with such a cycle situation, Dr. Greenleaf emphasized the tremendous importance of the Newton Polio Immunization Program Drive and said "it would be criminal for the city not to accept and take advantage of the Sabin Oral Modified Live Vaccine which is the tested and proven best protection for the individual and the community. The development of this vaccine is the culmination of many years of dedicated medical research, and effort on the part of the manufacturer. We must immunize as nearly 100% of the Newton population as possible, and before the start of the summer season which can be expected to be a relatively high polio year."

50 Breaks Accounted For But Crime Here Continues

Crime continues to present a challenge to the investigatory abilities of the Newton police, despite the fact that some 50 breaks, here and in nearby communities, seemed to be cleared up with the arrest of three youths and a jail sentence handed to one of them.

Francis J. McCarthy, 21, of 30 Harrison street, Newton Highlands, was sentenced Monday to the House of Correction by Judge W. Lloyd Allen in Newton District Court. He had previously confessed to a long series of breaks that began last July.

Nine were in gasoline stations, three of which were broken into three times each in that period. He also admitted to robbing two Needham Street cafes.

Judge Allen continued until Jan. 23 the cases of two other Newton youths. Held in $10,000 each were David N. Albert, 20, of 6 Glastonbury circle, Waban, and David S. Lennon, 19, of 1057 Boylston street, Newton Highlands. Police said the arrest of the latter pair had cleared up 24 Newton cases, 13 in Needham, five in Brookline, three in Sherborn and one in Natick.

Other crimes under investigation are as follows:

Early last Friday morning, according to police, a thief or thieves got $75 in a break at Tony's Italian Villa, 34 Jackson street, Newton.

The day before, a 12-year-old bag snatcher got $6 from Mrs. Rachael Murtagh of 50 Jefferson street, Newton. The money was in her leather wallet that one of her children was carrying for her on Washington street.

Early Saturday, Christopher Carney of 288 Highland av-

Newton Man Is Honored For His Fifty Years Of Service

The American Felt Company for the company, working out recently honored a Newton of its office at 10 High street, resident for his service over a 50-year period.

Mr. Heintz joined the company in its Boston office in 1913 as purchasing agent, and later was transferred to sales. He was appointed New England District Sales Manager in 1935, and held that position until his recent appointment as sales consultant.

He was born in Boston, and his first job was as office boy for Massachusetts Governor John L. Bates. He went to work later for the United Shoe Machinery Corporation in its purchasing division. American Felt was his third employer.

On the eve of his 50th anniversary with the firm, more than 50 employees and officials from its general offices in Glenville, Conn., attended a

4 Million High School Project To Be Launched

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has taken the first step toward a $4 million program for the expansion and improvement of facilities at Newton North High School.

The Mayor this week forwarded to the Board of Aldermen a letter containing a notification of the School Committee's request for the erection of new buildings at the high school.

His next step will be to seek appropriation of funds for the employment of an architect who will prepare plans for the high school expansion which will be undertaken over a period of about four years.

Rep. Muther Sees Favorable Vote On Bill For Land Taking Relief

Help for persons and firms displaced by eminent domain land taking is the aim of a bill deliberated late by Rep. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Newton Republican.

"My purpose in filing this measure late," Muther said, "is to bring it in for consideration after having already gained a four-fifths vote of the Rules Committee for admission."

He explained that last year several bills that could have protected those displaced by land takings had been defeated. One of them, a promising measure to provide some moving expenses, was buried and allowed to die in Senate Rules after having passed the House.

"Although other bills on this issue have been filed again this year," the Newton legislator said, "I hope by this late filing tactic to have the general issue at the very least brought before the Rules Committee early in the game, and at the most to receive favorable commitments for the principle involved which can provide enough backing and momentum to carry it through successfully in 1963."

Rep. Muther has also filed two bills of special local interest. One, originated by Alderman William P. Ripley and backed by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, would allow "meter maids" to issue tickets for parking violations. The other, supported by Rep. John W. Whitemore and Sen. Leslie B. Cutler, Republicans, and by Democratic City Committee Chairman Lawrence B. Cooke, would have the Metropolitan District Commission take a protective strip of land around Norumbega Park, together with an island and the park's present holdings in the river bed of the Charles.

The home of Joseph Tomassio, 7 Washington street, Newton, which straddles the Newton-Boston line, yielded $125 in coins and eight bottles of liquor to a thief who operated in the side of the house that is in this city.

Edward Ballen, of 37 Voss terrace, Newton Centre, reported Sunday that burglars took jewelry valued at $125 from his home.

His connections in the Boston business community are warm and friendly and extend through two and in some cases, three generations," Mr. Lehmburg said, adding that "Al Heintz epitomizes the finest traditions of American Felt Company, and we are proud to do him honor."

Goldman Named Chairman For Heart Sunday

Maynard Goldman of 20 Nobscot rd., Newton Centre, Boston attorney and member of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, has accepted appointment as Heart Sunday chairman, it was announced by Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, general chairman in Newton of the Massachusetts Heart Association annual fund campaign.

The newly-named Heart

Fund official will direct the four-day climax of the month-long drive — a house-to-house effort designed to reach every home in the city between Thursday, Feb. 21, and Sunday, Feb. 24.

"I am happy to accept this responsibility," said Mr. Goldman, who also serves as treasurer of the University of Michigan Club of Boston, and as trustee of Minuteman Lodge, B'Nai B'rith.

"Here in Massachusetts, major improvements have been made with the help of Heart Funds," he continued. "Many persons are alive and well today who would not be with us if it were not for this great organization and the dedication and genius of the research it makes possible.

"I urge all our citizens to contribute generously, each according to his means."

In announcing the Goldman appointment, Mr. Thresher asked all who are willing to help raise funds to combat heart disease to get in touch with her immediately. "Just an hour or two calling on neighbors can mean much to the drive's success," she said.

Service Appreciated

Now that the holiday season, with the combined impact of Christmas and New Year's, has been written into recent history comes the time to look around with the thought that much credit is due in many quarters.

We are concerned at this writing with the herculean task once again efficiently performed by the Newton postoffice personnel under the skilled direction of "Tim" O'Neil, superintendent of mails at Newtonville.

The annual log-jam of holiday mail which inundates the postoffices of the nation annually was borne out in Newton. The rising tide reached peak-flood proportions despite the efforts of many citizens to get their cards and parcels into the mails early. But, with accustomed efficiency, "Tim" O'Neil's boys met the tide head-on and had it flowing out of the city or into the homes of Newton residents on schedule.

This service may, or may not, be taken for granted by many folks around the holiday season. However, it just doesn't happen and it isn't an accident. It is the result of planning and know-how, smooth team-work by a corps of trained men under skilled leadership. This editorial tribute is well deserved. It is extended to Superintendent O'Neil and his staff by The Graphic speaking for the residents of Newton, who again were the recipients of postal service par excellence.

Political Highlights

In short, Volpe acted like most other lame duck Governors before him who had been defeated for re-election or renomination.

He had even more trading to do than most of them because he had delayed filling a number of positions until after election—an election he was supremely confident of winning.

Most political experts are disposed to minimize the harm Volpe has done to himself in the public eye by his trading just before he left office.

A few pundits interpret Volpe's actions as indicating that he has no intention of seeking election again and that he is through with politics.

Most, however, reason coldly that Volpe's wheeling and dealing will be quickly forgotten as public attention shifts to a new Governor and a new administration.

It's true that the trading of jobs and votes will be quickly forgotten by most people who, unfortunately, have come to take such things pretty much for granted.

But there are elements within the Republican party who will not quickly forget what happened during the dying days of Volpe's administration.

Two months ago, it was generally assumed that Volpe could have his party's nomination for Governor for the asking in 1964 and that he would be entitled to a return race with Peabody if he desired it.

That is no longer the case. Volpe will face a fight at the GOP State convention if he decides to attempt a comeback and make a new run for the Governorship in '64. And the trading and wheeling and dealing would be used as an issue against him.

It is a political fact of life that Volpe could not have gained the approval of the all-Democratic Executive Council for some of his appointments if he had not made deals with certain Council members.

Volpe, however, was supposed to be above such horse trading. There are those in his own party who believe it would have been better if the Governor had seen some of his appointments go down the drain but had retained the image he carried through most of his administration.

Mr. Volpe assumed the Governorship two years ago as a businessman in politics. He left it as a professional politician.

Mixing in House Fight Blunder By Peabody

While outgoing Governor Volpe seemingly was killing himself politically in the Republican party by his trading with Democratic politicians, incoming Governor Peabody committed what most observers consider an incredible blunder by mixing into the fight for the House Speakership.

Regardless of what Peabody's purposes or motives may have been in backing Representative Michael Paul Feeney against John F. Thompson, the new Governor was certain to injure himself severely in his own party by jumping into the battle among House Democrats.

Back through the sweep of the years Governors have avoided involvement in fights for the House Speakership and the Senate presidency as they would the plague.

Opposing candidates might have been their ardent supporters or their bitter enemies. They, nevertheless, maintained a rigid hands-off policy, recognizing that even if they succeeded in swinging the necessary votes to a friendly Speaker, or Senate president, they would be hurt in the end.

Political onlookers assumed that Peabody as titular head of the Democratic party in Massachusetts would sit back until the battle for the Speakership had ended, then assume the role of peace-maker and try to pull together the warring Democratic factions.

Instead, he stunned the political experts by jumping headlong into the midst of the struggle.

It is understandable that Peabody's sympathies would have been with Feeney in the latter's fight against Thompson.

Feeney played a big part in swinging the endorsement of the Democratic State Convention to Peabody. Thompson, on the other hand, was neutral in the clash between the Democratic candidates for the Governorship.

He is an acknowledged expert on international problems. If a Republican were serving as President, his services would be eagerly sought in some capacity for the State Department. His talents might be used even by the Kennedy administration, for he has the kind of ability and sturdy integrity which the nation needs.

What the future holds for Laurence Curtis is uncertain. He ran for the U. S. Senate friendly to him on the line for Feeney.

But to take sides publicly in the Thompson-Feeney battle, to place his prestige as Governor on the barrel head and to incur the hostility of Democratic legislators whose support he will need, was a momentous booh-booh.

What this reflects is the political inexperience not only of Peabody but also of the persons advising him. An astute and seasoned politician would have told him quickly that even if he could have defeated Thompson and elected Feeney by taking a public stand, the political price he would have to pay would be too high.

Most politicians attach great importance to keeping their word once they have given it.

Those Democratic House members pledged to Thompson found themselves in an embarrassing position when they were asked by Peabody to shift to Feeney.

They were confronted with the choice of turning down the man who will dispense the patronage at the State House for the next two years or breaking their word to Thompson.

Peabody's implication that Thompson would not support his legislative program was also somewhat silly since up to that time Peabody had not revealed his program.

These observations are not intended as any endorsement of Thompson's service as Speaker or as any defense of the dictatorial tactics he has employed at times in running the House. Nor is there any dispute that Feeney might make a good Speaker.

The issue here, however, is whether Peabody acted wisely as an incoming Governor in injecting himself openly into a fight on which Governors traditionally maintain a hands-off policy and leave to the members of the House of Representatives to settle.

Peabody's action obviously has aroused strong resentment among many Democratic legislators who during the year will be voting on proposals by the Governor.

From the standpoint of achieving a harmonious working relationship with the Legislature, which is vital to the success of his administration, Peabody has got off to just about the worst possible start.

Laurence Curtis Retires

One of the most respected public figures in Massachusetts has retired temporarily to private life.

After 10 years as a Congressman, two years as State Treasurer, 10 years as a member of the State Legislature and four years as a Boston City Councilor, Laurence Curtis has resumed the status of private citizen.

Curtis was nosed out for the GOP nomination for the U. S. Senate by George C. Lodge in the primary last September.

But he was really a victim of the redistricting law which revamped the State into 12 new congressional districts instead of the previous 14.

Curtis actually ran for the Senate only because the congressional district he had represented for 10 years was broken up and there was no opportunity for him to remain in Congress where he had attained seniority after a decade of excellent service and was a member of the important House Foreign Affairs Committee.

This man accepted the adverse spin of the political wheel uncomplainingly. He took adversity with the same grace as victory.

To the people he represented on Washington's Capitol Hill for exactly 18 years, Laurence Curtis was a Congressman who never asked their party enrollment or how they had voted when he could be of service to them.

A Republican, he provided a quality of representation and service which made him unbeatable in a district which grew steadily more Democratic. One Democrat after another challenged him. Curtis' winning plurality mounted with each election.

Curtis would be a natural to head up the Republican State ticket for the 1964 campaign. His interests, however, lie more in the field of foreign affairs than in Beacon Hill politics.

He is an acknowledged expert on international problems. If a Republican were serving as President, his services would be eagerly sought in some capacity for the State Department. His talents might be used even by the Kennedy administration, for he has the kind of ability and sturdy integrity which the nation needs.

Coming and Going in Waban

BY JANE SCHNEIDER

(Ed. Note: The following column is devoted to the activities of residents in Waban. Persons living in that section or in other areas of the Newtons are invited to drop a note to Jane Schneider, The Newton Graphic, P. O. Box 102, Newtonville, reporting the happenings in their neighborhoods.)

Home for the holidays and away for the holidays this was a week of coming and going in Waban.

The holiday spirit invaded the home of the Wendell Hibberdans this past week when their daughters and their families returned to Waban for a short stay. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoll from West Sayville, Long Island, New York, came to celebrate the holidays along with their daughters, Susan and Sally. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lawton and children, Linda and Mikal, arrived from Athol, on Christmas Eve for a few days. Mrs. Stoll is the former Ellen Hibberd and Mrs. Lawton is the former Jane Hibberd.

Mt. Snow, Vermont, was the destination of Jeff Schneider and his friend Richie Levine when they left for the ski country on Christmas Day.

They spent five days at the Marlborough Inn and skied at both Mount Snow and Hogback Mountain. Both boys are juniors at Newton South High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rubinstein and Alan and Alice spent the vacation week at their summer home, "Rube's Root," in Oxford, Me. They skied at North Conway on Mount Cranmore. Alan is a junior at Andover Academy.

Home from Harcum Junior College in Bryn Mawr, Pa., were Lynne Taylor and Linda Mandell. Neither of the girls had been home since September. They are both 1961 graduates of Newton South.

North Conway was also the vacation spot of another ski family, the Arnold Morks. The Mork children, Arnie, Dave and Doretta are all skiers.

Newton Students Given Medical Education Help

One of John A. Volpe's last official acts as Governor was to announce that 137 medical, dental and nursing school students in the Commonwealth had been awarded scholarships totaling $75,000 to enable them to complete their medical education.

This was the fifth year that the financial assistance has been given by the State Medical, Dental and Nursing Scholarship Board, one of whose members is Mrs. Charlotte F. Rabb of Newton Centre.

There were nine Newton residents among the recipients.

Their names, and the schools which they will continue to attend, are as follows:

Eleanor A. O'Leary, 70 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, Boston College School of Nursing.

Benjamin L. Antonelis, Jr., village, Georgetown University School of Dentistry.

Paul B. Josephs, 44 Longfellow road, Newton Lower School of Dental Medicine.

Linda G. Kimball, 16 Richardson road, Newton Upper Falls, University of Massachusetts School of Nursing.

Harry Kushnir, 101 Ripley street, Newton Centre, Harvard School of Dental Medicine.

Richard A. McKenna, 10 Cambria road, West Newton, Seton Hall College of Dentistry, Jersey City, N. J.

Caroline M. Sprissler, 12 Gordon terrace, Newton, St. Elizabeth's Hospital School of Nursing.

Marvin C. Weinstat, 118 Austin street, Newtonville, Tufts University School of Dental Medicine.

PRIVATE NURSING CARE

The Hamilton House Nursing Home is located in Needham directly opposite Glover Memorial Hospital. It is the newest and most modern home in this area. Here the patient comes first. Every convenience is provided for his comfort and rehabilitation. Our most up-to-date kitchen provides the finest cuisine with particular attention paid to the special dietary needs of our patients.

Our lounges, recreational facilities and experienced staff are devoted to the one desire — to provide the very best of nursing care. Surely, this is a home away from home. Registered nurses are in charge of all shifts. The rates are reasonable and inquiries are invited.

Caribbean Trip Followed Saks-Perlmutter Wedding

After a trip to the Caribbean, Mr. Gerald David Saks and his bride, the former Miss Janet Sara Perlmuter, will make their home in Woburn.

Rabbi Roland B. Gittlesohn officiated at the pretty winter bridal, which took place at the Chateau Garod in Brookline.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Perlmuter of Newton Centre and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Saks of Springfield are the couple's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's portrait gown, designed with a full court train, was made of ivory bouquet taffeta. Her mantilla was fashioned of hand-ruin Spanish lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Honor maid for her sister was Miss Carol Perlmuter of Newton Centre. Miss Deborah Baron of Brookline, Miss Gail Stein of Springfield and Miss Ellen Kahn of Chestnut Hill were her other attendants.

Joel Saks of Springfield served as best man for his brother. Another brother, Nelson Saks of Springfield, joined Richard Rosenbloom, cousin of the groom, and Steven Greyser, both of Cambridge, as ushers.

The bride a graduate of Wheaton College, is teaching at the Hartwell School in Lincoln.

Mr. Saks, an industrial engineer, was graduated from Cornell University.

World Affairs Council Meets On January 10

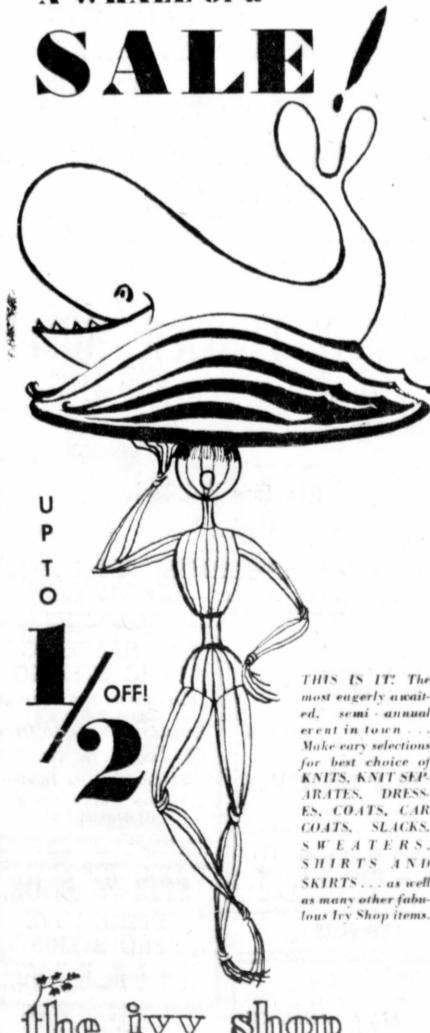

The next meeting of the World Affairs Council of Newton will be held at the library of the Newton Junior College, Washington Park and Walnut St., Newtonville, on January 10th at 7:45 p.m., according to the announcement by Mrs. Anton R. Fried, president of the council. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Thomas Derasia Arackal, member of the Congress Party of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, and teacher at Kerala University, will speak on the subject of "India's Foreign Policy." Mr. Arackal is presently studying for his doctorate at Boston College.

Mrs. Martin R. Karlin, chairman of the World Affairs Council-sponsored Great Decisions series for 1963, announces that the series will begin this year in the week of February 3. As in previous years, television background and discussion programs over WGBH-TV, Channel 2, will be coordinated with the topics to be discussed each week by participating groups. Newton Junior College this year will offer the Great Decisions series under the leadership of faculty members for the eight weeks. Registration for this evening course may be made by calling the Adult Education Registrar of the College.

Mr. Nicholas Nyary, executive director of the World Affairs Council of Boston, will be on hand at the January 10th meeting to discuss plans for Great Decisions 1963 in Newton.

Robert Pollard And Bride Living In Wellesley Hills

Now making their home at 5 Bemis road in Wellesley Hills are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rollins Pollard (Thelma Louise Knight).

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Knight of 50 Bowers street, Newtonville. Mr. and Mrs. S. Everett Pollard of 13 Oakdale road, Newton Highlands, are the groom's parents.

The First Congregational Church in Rockport was the setting for the pretty 3 o'clock afternoon service, which was performed by the Rev. Edmund W. Nutting, former minister of education at the Second Church in Newton. A reception was held at the Tavern in Gloucester.

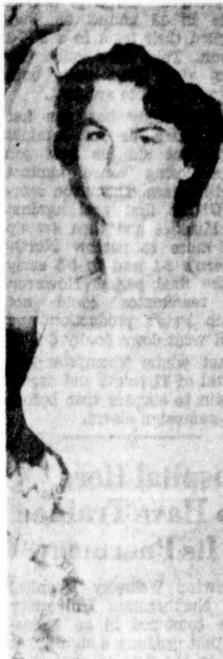

Mrs. Knight gave her daughter in marriage. The bride's short-skirted gown of silk organza over taffeta was marked with lace appliques. A matching organza bow was fastened with an elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Miss Bernice Olsen of Waltham was the bride's sole attendant.

Serving as best man was Edward G. Najjar of West Roxbury.

Bermuda was the honeymoon destination of the couple.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from Newton High School. Mr. Pollard received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Eliot Church Women to Meet On January 8th

The first meeting of 1963 of the Woman's Association of the Eliot Church of Newton will be held on January 8 at 12:15 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of the church. Following the luncheon of which Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison and Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck are co-chairmen, there will be a business meeting of the association led by the president, Miss Alice M. Corson.

The program of the afternoon will consist of a talk by Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer illustrated with colored slides. She will tell of her trip Around the World in 180 Days putting particular emphasis on social and economic conditions for women of the world as she saw them. Women of the community are welcome to attend.

Slippery Going Causes Injury To Many Here

A number of injuries to motorists during the past several days were attributed to the treacherous driving conditions caused by slippery road surfaces.

Irene Swartz of Oak Hill was injured when her car skidded into two parked automobiles.

Mrs. Gararda Mazzola of 92 Chapel street, Newton, was injured last Thursday when a car operated by her husband was in collision with that of William E. Hart 18 Hemlock road, Newton Upper Falls at Boylston and Eliot streets. She was thrown against the dashboard.

Gertrude Hurvitz of 40 Acacia avenue, Chestnut Hill, whose car skidded into a parked vehicle at Lee road and Reservoir avenue, Chestnut Hill, was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for a nose injury.

Five persons, all from out of town were treated at the hospital following a collision involving two buses and two cars on the Worcester Turnpike Wednesday, Dec. 26.

John J. Oberly of 11 Irvington street, Waban, was injured in a Thursday morning collision on Albemarle road.

During a period of a little more than an hour on Wednesday, Dec. 26, three pedestrians were taken to Newton-Wellesley Hospital and held for treatment.

They were Sally Cutler, 8, of 894 Centre street, Newton Centre, struck by the car of Michael J. Robinson, 1496 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, on Centre street; Mrs. Elizabeth Resnick, 59, 200 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill struck at Commonwealth avenue and Manet road, and Richard Achione, 24, of 66 Clinton street, Newton, struck on Washington street, Newtonville. The latter two suffered leg fractures.

Thompson Tied For Top Score Honors At UNH

Pete Thompson, former Newton High star, is currently first for the scoring lead on the strong University of New Hampshire hockey team.

After one-third of the season, Thompson has scored six times and set up nine others for a total of 16 points which ties him with linemate Tom Canavan for team honors.

Along with Captain Dick Lamontagne who skates left wing on his senior first line, Thompson has helped score 23 of New Hampshire's 46 goals to date.

Last year the trip had 34 goals in 18 games as they sparked their team to a 10-7-1 season. This came only two years after Pete broke both knees in an auto accident.

Pete already has one hat-trick under his belt against M.I.T. but did his best job in a losing cause against Northeastern. Thompson scored UNH's first goal against the Huskies and then set up two more to narrow Northeastern's 1-1 lead to 5-3 early in the final period. However, his teammates could not match Pete's production and UNH went down finally 8-4.

Last winter Thompson had a total of 21 points and seems certain to surpass that before this campaign closes.

Hospital Here To Have Trainee In Its Pharmacy

Newton-Wellesley Hospital and Northeastern University have combined in an endeavor that produces a significant first in the field of pharmacy education, it was reported last week.

A joint announcement by George L. White of Newton, president of the hospital's board of trustees, and President Asa S. Knowles of the university, reveals that beginning on Jan. 28, a sophomore in Northeastern's new College of Pharmacy will become the first student in the United States to be employed by a hospital pharmacy under a cooperative plan of education.

The sophomore, Charles S. Sweet, will begin a two-year apprentice training program in Newton-Wellesley Hospital's pharmacy department.

Under Northeastern's plan, students alternate periods of classroom instruction with regular paying jobs, thus enabling them to combine theory with practical experience. The pharmacy coop plan differs slightly in that students undergo full-time classroom study for 2½ years then, for the remainder of their college career, alternate 10- and 16-week periods at Northeastern with practical experience in hospital and retail pharmacies.

Sweet has already had three years of experience in retail pharmacies through part-time jobs. "I have wanted to go into hospital pharmacy for some time," he said, "but getting a part-time job there is pretty much impossible. Now I will have the opportunity."

Officials of the hospital and Northeastern believe that coop training in pharmacy has endless potential.

Skating Everywhere

The sub-zero weather, arriving as the year 1962 was closing out its business, had one effect that caused rejoicing in some circles, notably the younger element whose members are most happy when gliding on ice.

All the city's ponds, including Bullock's Pond and Crystal Lake, plus numerous flooded areas, were put on the safe skating list.

Social News*Miss Fitzpatrick Is Bride Of Mr. John Donnelly, Jr.

At an 11 o'clock ceremony on Saturday morning, December 22, in St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, Miss Katherine Chisholm Fitzpatrick was married to Mr. John Donnelly, Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Donnelly, formerly of Needham.

Daughter of Mrs. Chisholm Fitzpatrick of Boston and of Mr. J. Joseph Fitzpatrick of Providence, R.I., the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a coat of ivory satin fashioned with a jeweled neckline and tapered sleeves over a crepe gown, embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. Her cathedral length veil of candlelight silk illusion fell from an open crown pillowbox, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Rev. Francis V. Sullivan, S.J., officiated at the wedding ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Louis XIV Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset, Boston. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Paris, Rome and London.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Henry F. Barry, Jr., of Wellesley Hills, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Sullivan of Cambridge acted as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Alan Call of Jamaica Plain, Miss Maude Ann Kirk of Newton and Miss Eleanor Donovan of Brookline.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Mr. Kevin Riley of Weston, and ushers included Mr. Henry F. Barry, Jr., and Mr. Thomas Swan, Jr., both of Wellesley Hills; Mr. John E. Chisholm, Jr., of Boston, Mr. Kenneth D'Arcy of Cambridge, Mr. Michael J. Cronin of Newton Centre and Mr. Charles Saris of Milton.

The bride is an alumna of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Newton and of Colby Junior College. A debutante of the 1958-59 season, she was presented at the Colony Debuteante Ball and at the Thanksgiving Assembly.

Mr. Donnelly prepared at St. Sebastian's Country Day School for Harvard College, where he is a member of D.U., Pi Eta, and the Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770.

He is a grandson of the late Joseph P. Tumulty, formerly of Washington, D.C., secretary to President Woodrow Wilson.

The couple will live in Boston.

Miss Whitehouse At Newtonville Club

"Reminiscences of the Theater," a program by Doris Bramson Whitehouse, will be the feature of the Newtonville Woman's Club meeting in the Parish House, St. John's Church, Lowell avenue, Tuesday, Jan. 8.

Miss Whitehouse will speak of great personalities she has known and give dramatizations based on current New York plays.

The meeting opens with a coffee hour at 1:30, followed by a business session at 2.

Compass Club Meets

The Compass Club of Newton will meet tomorrow, January 4 at 1:15 at the Newton Highlands Workshop. Mrs. Duncan A. Brash and Mrs. H. Hoyt Hallas will be the hosts.

PAMELA J. FOLEY

Newton Girl Will Serve In Africa

A Newton teenager has been selected to participate in the Operations Crossroads program in Africa next summer. Miss Pamela J. Foley, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Foley, 41 Chatham Rd., Newton Highlands, received word last week that she will work with a group of collegians for eight weeks on a construction project in Africa.

Operation Crossroads is a privately sponsored organization, which predates the Peace Corps. The summertime project was organized six years ago. The Crossroads work for approximately eight weeks on various construction projects as requested by African governments and then travel for the final two weeks of their stays.

Miss Foley, a 1961 graduate of Newton South High School, is currently a sophomore at Connecticut College for Women.

She has experience in working with interracial groups as a participant in the pilot Philadelphia Tutorial Project last summer and as a leader in the civil rights group at Connecticut College.

"While the Crossroads organization provides each participant with $800 in funds necessary for expenses," she said, "I am expected to raise the remaining $900 from interested groups in my home city, to whom I will give talks on my experiences when I return."

Panel Discusses Youth Problems At Church Jan. 8

Problems of local young people and what the churches and temples of Newton could do about them will be outlined by three community leaders at the Men's Fellowship of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church at a supper meeting next Tuesday, January 8th at 6:30 p.m.

This aspect of the religious interests of the community will be discussed by a panel comprising Dr. Donald Davidson, principal of Newton South High School; Samuel Handler, chairman of youth activities at Temple Reylim, and Officer Charles Feeley of the Newton Police Department.

Members of the panel will discuss what the churches and temples are doing for young people at this time, from the viewpoints of the educator, the expert on Jewish youth activities, and the law enforcement officer. They will also lead an open forum on how these religious groups can move towards a more productive program for the youth of Newton during the coming year.

January Set As Cerebral Palsy Month By Gibbs

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, in proclaiming January as Cerebral Palsy Month, urged the community's citizens to recognize the observance and to take full advantage of the expanded educational programs being offered by those dedicated to easing the plight of persons afflicted.

The Mayor gave a reminder that the major problem of mankind continues to strike someone every 53 minutes, and pointed out that it has become well established that with proper care and prolonged treatment, CP victims can be helped to attain their maximum capacities and to live more normal lives.

He also emphasized the fact that in the last 10 years, United Cerebral Palsy has made striking progress in its programs and services that have resulted in freeing palsied children from the bondage of stigma.

Newton Officials Pushing Ahead On Construction Plans For Incinerator

FIRST FOR THEM, FIRST FOR CITY—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Melamut, 109 Eastbourne Rd., proudly gaze at their daughter, Holly Clare, born in Faulkner Hospital at 3:24 a.m. on Jan. 1 to become Newton's first baby of the year. As such, the infant received a host of prizes in the Newton Graphic's First Baby of 1963 Contest. Holly Clare is the couple's first child. (Chalas Photo)

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Speakership Fight Revealed Lack of Leadership in GOP

One thing the bruising battle for the House Speakership pointed up strikingly was the utter lack of any real leadership within the Republican party in Massachusetts.

To be sure, this was a fight between opposing Democratic factions in the House of Representatives, with the new Democratic Governor squarely in the middle of the knock-down brawl.

Republican House members were confronted with three possible courses:

1. They could cast meaningless votes on ballot after ballot for their own party leader, Representative Sidney Q. Curtiss of Sheffield, and thus prolong a stalemate indefinitely.

2. They could follow the leadership of the Democratic Governor and the Democratic State Committee Chairman and depose Speaker John F. Thompson.

3. Or they could administer a defeat to Governor Peabody by swinging behind Thompson, whose rule over the House many of them had openly and publicly criticized.

There was no strong leader and no clear party voice to tell them what to do.

The result was that they divided into splinter groups.

On the final ballot 20 Republican House members voted for Thompson. Five others took a walk, cutting down the number of votes Thompson had to poll in order to win.

A second and somewhat larger group voted for Representative Cornelius F. Kiernan of Lowell, who for several years had served as Thompson's first lieutenant.

Jurors Selected, Funds Are Voted By City Aldermen

Newton officials are moving ahead "as speedily as possible" on the construction of the new incinerator at the Rumford Ave site in Auburndale.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs revealed yesterday that he will appoint the firm of Metcalf and Eddy to draw up the plans and specifications for the project, the completion of which is expected in 18 months.

Public Works Director Willard Pratt estimated that it will take "about six months" for Metcalf and Eddy to draw up the plans and specifications and put them out for bid. Another 12 months is needed for construction of the incinerator.

The last stumbling block in the way of the construction of the city facility was removed on Monday night, when the Board of Aldermen defeated a motion to reconsider its action of a previous meeting.

In December, the Aldermen voted by a 16-6 margin funds for the project. However, Alderman Earle D. Wood, who favors the Elliot St. site, moved for reconsideration of the action. This motion was defeated 16-7 Monday.

Arguing for reconsideration, Wood said, "I'm still not 100 percent sure that we need a new incinerator . . . The present one with proper adjustments could be made to last another five years. And, in that period, there might be improvements" in incinerator planning.

After commenting that Board opinion six months ago wasn't so favorable to the incinerator site, he added, "I've seen nothing in the past six months to change it, except perhaps pressure of citizens."

Get Fat Out, Put Pep In Party

Drastic Shakeup For Local GOP Underway; Uehlein Heads Group

A complete shakeup and major overhaul of the Republican Party organization in Newton has been launched with an eye to adding more pep and power to the party locally and to whip it into top condition for the campaigns of 1964.

Edward C. Uehlein, a practicing attorney who served three years as president of the Newton Republican Club and who has been active in political circles for many years, has been named to head a select committee handed the task of rebuilding the GOP here.

This committee will cut out the organizational fat and deadwood and develop a strong, aggressive Newton force ready for the tough political infighting ahead.

The move was first made following the elections last November. At that time the Republican City Committee, comprising more than 400 men and women in the ward and precinct committees, author-

Mrs. S. McGinn Is Fund Worker

Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, 39 Mason Rd., Newton Centre, has been named advanced gifts chairman for Newton's 1963 Heart Fund drive. She was appointed by B. Alden Thresher, the local campaign chairman.

As advanced gifts chairman, Mrs. McGinn will launch the 1963 drive in February by encouraging and coordinating generous contributions from community leaders.

Meter Revenue Drops By $1,000

Revenue from parking meters in Newton decreased $1,000 in 1962, DPW Director Willard Pratt reported Tuesday.

The 1962 revenue totals approximately $34,000, while a total of $35,000 was tallied in 1961, the official said.

Part of the decrease was attributable to the removal of from 35-40 meters in Newton Centre, Pratt explained.

Pre-School Oral Vaccine Clinics Set Next Week

Fair Housing Group Seeks City-Paid Full Time Representative

The Newton Fair Housing Practices Committee will meet with Mayor Donald G. Gibbs and members of the Mayor's Human Relations Committee on Thursday, January 17, in an attempt to enlist their support for expanded activity by the human relations group.

In a December 18 letter to the Mayor, the fair housing group urged that a full-time professional worker be hired by the city at a $6,500 salary to strengthen and "realize the program of the Mayor's Human Relations Committee."

The fair housing committee's action comes at a time when the group is in the midst of assisting in the relocation of many Negro families in Newton uprooted by the toll-road extension.

"Fortunately, in Newton, incidents of overt discrimination in the important areas of education, employment and physical well-being occur less and less frequently and are usually quickly taken care of by the human relations group.

Police Photos May Identify Gun Wielder

Detective Captain William Burke of the Newton Police Department has put together an exhibit of photographs of known criminals whose method of operation has been to pose as members of the clergy. Burke will meet with William F. Callahan this week to see if the Turnpike Authority chairman can identify one of them as that of his Monday evening assailant at his Waban home.

Meantime, the police are attempting to round up every suspect whose name ances would lead them to believe them capable of the attack on the 72-year-old engineer.

According to latest reports, Mr. Callahan has suffered no ill effects from the attack.

His attacker, whom he invited in to the house when he said he was a priest from St. Philip Neri Church in Waban, struck him with a sawed-off shotgun he pulled from under his coat.

Philip Cummings, noted economic consultant and world traveler, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the West Newton Woman's Club to be held Wednesday afternoon, January 16, in the Parish House of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton.

The appearance here of Mr. Cummings was arranged by Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, program chairman.

He is a world traveler and his duties have taken him to the far corners of the earth. Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Venezuela, the Netherlands Antilles, Malaia and Thailand, Southwest Africa, the Rhodesias, Australia, South Africa, Norway, Finland and Denmark, as well as other nations and areas.

Long a holder of the Million Miler Flying Card, Mr. Cummings is well on his way to his second such card and has but recently returned from his fourth trip around the world.

This world traveler and economic expert will come to Newton through the courtesy of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company. Officers of the bank will be guests at the meeting.

Mrs. Thomas S. Williams and Mrs. Frederick E. Whelby will be co-chairmen of the dessert and coffee hour at 1 o'clock. Miss Avis C. Walsh, president, will be in charge of the brief business meeting at 1:45 o'clock. The meeting is open to members and their friends.

the fact that "the immunization vaccine is available free to all school children and residents between the ages of three months and 19 years. For adults, a voluntary contribution of 25 cents will be accepted if it can be afforded. Such contributions are expected to cover the costs for the doses and for campaign expenses."

Following this month's administration of Type I vaccine, Types II and III are scheduled for March and May, the chairman said.

Dr. Alfred L. Frechette, state public health commissioner, made the following statement in support of Newton's campaign: "If the people could travel with me to state institutions and see the paralyzed patients, especially children, still hospitalized from polio attacks suffered during previous epidemics, they would not delay in getting their children, and themselves, immunized against this dread disease."

Here are the time schedules for adults clinics:

Seven p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 21 through Jan. 25.

The clinic locations are: Newton City Hall, Bigelow Junior High, Frank A. Day Junior High, Meadowbrook Junior High, Levi F. Warren Junior High, John W. Weeks Junior High and Angier School.

Q—Why are there three types (I, II, III) of oral polio vaccine?

A—Because polio may be caused by any one of three types (I, II, III) of polio viruses. To have immunity against all three types of polio, it is necessary to take separate doses of each of the three types of Sabin vaccine.

Q—What are the main differences between Salk and Sabin vaccines?

A—Salk vaccine is given by injection. Sabin vaccine is taken by mouth.

There is only one kind of Salk vaccine.

There are three different types of Sabin vaccine.

Each injection of Salk vaccine contains all three types of polio viruses. Each dose of oral Sabin vaccine contains only one of the three types of Sabin vaccine.

Salk vaccine contains killed viruses.

Sabin vaccine contains living (weakened or tamed) viruses.

Salk injections give temporary protection against all three types of polio viruses. For satisfactory protection, a series of three injections with periodic booster shots is necessary. Each dose of Sabin oral vaccine gives long lasting (perhaps even permanent) protection against only one of the three types of polio viruses.

Sabin vaccine causes a gastro-intestinal immunity so that the patient cannot be a carrier in the future—Salk vaccine does not confer this immunity.

Q—How can we be certain that Sabin polio vaccines, even if made with weakened or tamed viruses, cannot cause a real case of polio?

A—They have been subjected to extensive laboratory and clinical investigations over a period of years. Mass immunization programs involving many millions of people in various parts of the world have already been conducted without causing polio.

Q—Why should a person who has had previous Salk injections receive the Sabin oral vaccine?

A—Because of the much longer duration of the immunity it confers and because it prevents him from becoming a polio carrier.

Q—Who should receive Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine?

A—All infants and preschool children over three months, all school children and all ungraded children, and all residents of the Commonwealth of all ages.

Q—If one has already re-

Unusual Film

"If These Were Your Children", a film produced for national distribution by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will be presented with the co-operation of the Newton Public Schools at the meeting of the Spaulding School PTA on Wednesday, January 16th at 8 p.m.

In the first portion of this unique two-part production, the pupils are themselves and are shown in a school setting with a Newton teacher. The second part will include a filmed panel discussion included in the panel of eminent educators will be Dr. Charles E. Brown, Newton Superintendent of Schools.

Following the film, Mrs. Mary Barry, psychological counselor in the Newton Public Schools, will moderate a group discussion by members of the audience.

Prior to the program, Marshall Paisner, PTA president, will conduct a short business meeting. Arrangements for the evening have been made by Jerome Schlakman, program chairman, and second vice president.

Newton Woman Is Chairman Of Luncheon

Mrs. Herbert Carver, of Newton, is 1963 chairman for the 21st annual luncheon of the Brookline Hospital Women's Auxiliary to be held April 24 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Titled "Promenade in Paris" the luncheon and fashion show will help provide the money necessary for the Women's Auxiliary to maintain its broad network of financial aid, volunteer service and community education, Mrs. Carver pointed out.

Mrs. George Neitlich and Mrs. Edwin Cohen have been appointed reservations chairmen. Some 1200 women are expected to attend the luncheon.

Spring Dance
By Brotherhood
On January 26

The annual dance of the Brotherhood of Temple Shalom of Newton will be held on Saturday evening, Jan. 26 at 8 o'clock. Theme of this year's dance will be "June in January."

Mickey Hoffman and Sam Grunes are the co-chairmen of the event. They are being assisted by a committee comprising, Nathaniel Roosin, Ralph Plotkin and George B. Rubin, refreshments; Murray Glickman, entertainment; Jack Yudin and Herbert Rosenberg, table captains; Robert Topaz, treasurer; Jack Bloom, publicity; Miss Deborah Glickman is assisting the Brotherhood with decorations for the dance.

Received the Type I and Type II Sabin oral vaccines do they need booster doses of Type III?

A—No, all they need do is to take Type II vaccine in March for complete protection against all three forms of polio.

Q—Are there any ill effects from taking the oral Sabin vaccines?

A—No. The State's experience last May and June shows that there were no adverse effects such as nausea, vomiting, etc.

The Health Department also stated, "the older the infected person, the more severe polio is apt to be. Sabin vaccine is said to be almost 100 per cent effective, it will produce faster immunity, each dose protects within a week. Salk vaccine immunity is attained in about a month. Another important factor in favor of Sabin oral vaccine is that the immunized person in the future cannot be a transmitter or carrier of polio and this is the reason health workers believe the disease can be eliminated."

Protect your loved ones, yourself and the community by attending the Newton clinics for polio immunization.

Valentine Ball On Feb. 8th Will Benefit N-W Hospital

Plans for the Feb. 8 Valentine Ball, proceeds from which will benefit the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, are in the final stages. The ball will take place in the Newton Armory and is sponsored by the Junior Aid Society.

Funds raised this year will help to finance conversion of a hospital sterilizer into a high speed bulk unit, capable of cleaning operating instruments much faster than the present method. Previous projects supported by ball funds include a new call system and a jeep with snow-plow attachment.

Tons of pinks and reds will decorate the armory, with Don Russell and his orchestra providing dance music for the affair.

Mrs. H. Eugene Bruce and Mrs. Harris A. Reynolds are co-chairmen of the Valentine Ball. Sub-committee chairmen are Mrs. Thomas Franks, Mrs. Samuel Lowe Jr., Mrs. Robert Hailer, Mrs. Robert Kinna, Mrs. Harry Ham, Mrs. John Lutz, Mrs. Carnig Thomason,

Oral Polio Vaccine

Newton has the most ambitious oral polio vaccine program of any community in Massachusetts.

The objective set by the Newton Citizens Oral Polio Immunization Committee headed by City Clerk Monte G. Basbas is to have the oral vaccine taken by every adult and by every child over the age of three months.

This is a highly praiseworthy goal. It probably cannot be fully realized. But it can be approached with the cooperation of adults and parents of children of pre-school age.

Boys and girls attending school will get their oral vaccine next week.

Adults are being asked to visit one of seven locations between 7 and 9 p.m. at night during the week of Jan. 21.

This program is being undertaken on so broad a scale in Newton in order to provide maximum protection for you, your children and your community.

Even though you yourself may be immune from polio, you may still be a carrier of polio. The oral vaccine immunizes an individual from being a carrier.

Everyone should take advantage of this endeavor to immunize them and all the people of the city against polio.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JOAN MOFENSON

Ten students were recently selected to be in the 1963 Drama Festival from Newton South. The play, to be presented Feb. 8 at Newton High, is "The Prodigal" by Jack Richardson. Chosen by Miss Helen Ryan and Mr. William Spink, directors, the cast members will present excerpts from the first act of the play which is based on the story of Electra.

The cast includes: Clara Ann Bliss, Radcliffe Pam Sztucinska as Electra, Roberta Boynton as Clytemnestra, Adrienne Miller as Cassandra, Peter Brecher as Orestes, Brian Simblist as Agamemnon, Marc Cornblatt as Aetistheus, Biff Levy as the first soldier, Howard Tanger as the second soldier, Ed Geltman as the third soldier, and Ricky Levin as the fourth soldier. Joan Klevens is the student director.

Club members from four of the language clubs met together recently for their annual seasonal party. Represented were the German Club, led by President Carolyn Gray; French Club, headed by Brian Simblist; Latin Club, led by Ann Medaglia; and Spanish Club, with President Donna Guy.

Each club presented an informal type of entertainment and sang in the language of its country. Refreshments and decorations were provided by club members.

January College Boards will be administered this Saturday (Jan. 12). The morning session is for students taking the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Tests and the afternoon session is for students required to take Achievements Tests and the Writing Sample.

Eighty members of the NSHS Ski Club went on an all-day trip to King Ridge, N.H. last Saturday for their first event of the season.

The students, accompanied by five teachers, Mr. Chester Mattson, Mr. Irwin Hoogheem, Miss Abigail Eaton, Mr. David Clemens, and Miss Martha Donahue, left NSHS by bus at 6:30 a.m. and arrived at their destination approximately 2½ hours later.

The skiers, both beginner and advanced, were able to take lessons or ski alone. The group returned about Saturday night. Similar trips are being planned for the future by the club, led by Frank Lewenberg, president.

Ina Donahue, a senior, recently received a certificate of Honor and Membership in McCall's Teen Fashion Board for outstanding achievement in sewing and clothing class work. The Board is a national honorary organization.

Early acceptances from various colleges have been given to a number of seniors: Ronald Blattel, Dartmouth; Ruth

Retired Men's Club Observes 3rd Anniversary

The installation of new officers highlighted a recent meeting of the Retired Men's Club. The session marked the club's third anniversary.

The next meeting of the group is set for 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 17, in the parsonage hall of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church.

New officers, who were installed by George A. Morley, executive committee chairman, are: John G. Learmonth, president; Paige B. Coons, vice president; Carl C. Perry, secretary; Richard M. Hill, assistant secretary; Carl S. Cooper, treasurer, and Allston Budgett, assistant treasurer.

Members of the new executive committee include the officers, Morley, William S. Knickerbocker, William C. Mattox, A. Gordon Weinz and Donald C. Root.

Named to the hospitality committee by President Learmonth were Warren P. Forde, chairman, and Edward Humphrey and Edward T. Jones, co-chairmen. Howard C. Gay heads the sick and visiting committee, which includes Frank H. Wrigley and Frank P. Pickett.

Coons is chairman of the program committee with Root and Mattox as other members. Root is also in charge of publicity.

The club, which started with eight members in January, 1960, now boasts a membership of 301.

Guest speaker at the anniversary meeting was Dr. Camille Lambert Jr. of the Heller Research Center at Brandeis University. In 1962, Dr. Lambert conducted a survey in Newton of persons 65 years of age and older. Seventeen members of the Newton Retired Men's Club assisted in the project. Dr. Lambert discussed the survey and commented upon its conclusions.

N.W Bank People Hear Discussion On Phys. Fitness

Dr. Warren I. Guild, staff physician at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, was a speaker at a recent meeting of Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co. employees.

Dr. Guild defined physical fitness and ways in which the audience could obtain greater well being without excessive effort or expense. He showed slides on the various exercises which can be most advantageous to different age groups.

The program was sponsored by the Medical Foundations, Inc., of Boston, a voluntary health agency supported by the United Fund. The physical fitness program is one of several available from Medical Foundation. The bank committee which coordinated the presentation was headed by Misses Ruth and Margaret Burns and Howard Strum, in association with Hiram Nickerson of the Foundation.

Goldovsky Opera Theatre Perform

The Goldovsky Opera Theatre will be the feature presentation in the third of a series presented by the Lasell Concert-Lecture Committee at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 16, in Winslow Hall on the Campus.

Boris Goldovsky will be featured at the piano, with witty comments on opera and demonstration of opera themes and technique. A group of young singers will appear with him, singing a short opera.

Mrs. Hazel Weden of the faculty is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Ruth T. Lindquist and James H. Remley, also of the faculty.

There will be no admission charge to the concert which is open to the general public.

The session will take place at 9:45 a.m. in the Newtonville Library.

Prof. G. David N. Worswick, a visiting professor in economics at the MIT Center for International Studies, will be the featured speaker.

Prof. Worswick is a Fellow of Oxford University in England and University Lecturer in Economics there since 1945. He is also a member of the Council of the Royal Economic Society in England and has served on various government committees on economic problems in the United Kingdom.

The educator will discuss the effect of the Common Market on the farmer, as well as other questions relating to the European Economic Community.

OUR READERS SAY

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The line between politics as usual in Massachusetts and the restoration of this Commonwealth's fine traditions of good government was sharply drawn in the Thompson speakership contest. The House of Representatives had an opportunity to take a giant man's step forward in refusing to go along with "the leader of the boys," but the old fraternal instincts of the members of the club won out over the public good, and the ruts of irresponsibility are further deepened in the fabric of today's General Court.

Cleaning up and modernizing state government should be the major platform of the Republican party, but after the sell-out by the Republican House members last week, it will be difficult now for the Republican party not to sound hollow. Where was the Republican State Committee and any other Republican leadership on this one? Is there any leadership in that party representative of the principles it has so frequently enunciated?

Cleaning up and modernizing state government should be the major platform of the Republican party, but after the sell-out by the Republican House members last week, it will be difficult now for the Republican party not to sound hollow. Where was the Republican State Committee and any other Republican leadership on this one? Is there any leadership in that party representative of the principles it has so frequently enunciated?

I am proud of the two Newton Republican House members who stood their ground. I am proud, too, of our governor, who, while he may be said to be politically wet behind the ears, is nevertheless, starting right out in front of the forces for better government in Massachusetts. He may get his block knocked off, but I hope he sticks to his principles.

Mr. Volpe could have contributed much more to the traditions of good government, if he had made a string of the finest possible appointments and put them up to the Council to take or turn down instead of wheeling and dealing with the Councillors "for the boys." Sooner or later, the corner must be turned in this state, and I have the silly notion that a popular office holder, who consistently calls his shots for better government, can retain his popularity and win the ball game, even though he will get thrown for a loss now and then.

Political Highlights

tenant but was his leading challenger in the last round of the Speakership struggle.

Still a third faction cast their votes for Representative Curtiss as the solution to the dilemma confronting them.

The 20 GOP legislators, who voted for Thompson and were promptly blasted for providing his winning margin, had a ready answer. They asked whether as Republicans they were supposed to save the day for a Democratic Governor.

Nobody was really quite sure what they were supposed to do to best promote the interests of the GOP. Arguments on that point are still raging in Republican councils.

There was a point in the blazing fight for the Speakership when the Republican dictated the choice of the new Speaker if they had stood together in a bloc.

But there was no show of party discipline, no one who could speak with the voice of authority, no one who could hold them together and tell them what to do.

The old pros and the Young Turks in the GOP House minority split sharply.

The old pros were unwilling to bail out a Democratic Governor and rescue him from embarrassing defeat.

The Young Turks wanted to side with Peabody and throw out Thompson.

What it all added up to was that Republican fortunes in Massachusetts have plummeted to an all-time low and that the GOP is now in a complete state of disorganization...

Dem. State Chairman Not For Republicans

An example of Governor Peabody's political inexperience came in the midst of the Speakership fight when he decided on Representative Gerard F. Doherty of Charlestown as the compromise candidate against Thompson.

Peabody and his aides rushed to the State House for a strategy meeting on the eve of his inaugural when it became apparent that Representative Michael Paul Feeney of Hyde Park, Peabody's first choice for the Speakership, couldn't make it.

Doherty might have been a strong candidate for the Speaker's post except for one thing. He had been elected chairman of the Democratic State Committee a few weeks earlier.

When the Republican House members were asked to join in coalition support of Doherty, they balked at rallying behind the head of the official Democratic State Organization.

This possibility apparently had not occurred to Peabody. As a result the anti-Thompson forces had not agreed upon any new candidate and were forced to stall for time when the fight was resumed on the floor of the House on inaugural day.

More Defeats Ahead For Governor Peabody

Now that the dust has begun to settle after the furious struggle for the House Speakership, political observers on Beacon Hill are wondering if the first big defeat suffered by Governor Peabody is a harbinger of things to come and how many more battles Peabody will lose in the months ahead.

Peabody has demonstrated beyond any shadow of doubt that he has the courage of his convictions and that he will not hesitate to stand up and fight to put his ideas into operation. But courage alone is not enough in the political jungle.

Governor Peabody lacks the deft touch of a skilled politician. His thinking is not attuned to that of the professional politicians. He is an amateur in politics. So are most of the people around him.

In the late Governor Paul A. Dever at the height of his power and influence had undertaken to dictate the choice of a House Speaker, the fight would have been all over well before the legislators assembled on Beacon Hill to begin their session.

It would have been a smooth behind-the-scenes operation, with a minimum of public squabbling and political hair-pulling and blood-letting.

Dever never would have placed himself in a position where he had to ask Democratic House members to break from custom and refuse to abide by the vote of a Democratic caucus or where he had to depend on the Republicans to provide the votes to elect a Democratic Speaker.

Peabody made the mistakes of a sincerely motivated political novice who piled headlong into a fight at the last moment without clearly knowing where he was going or what his strategy would be.

The fierce clash over the Peabody in the Council is strong and bitter and that Peabody will have no easy time there.

Members of the Legislature, while less hostile to Peabody than the veteran Councillors, resent his public intrusion into the contest for the Speakership and are sitting back waiting for Peabody to make his moves.

No Governor in memory started his administration in a more hostile and unfriendly atmosphere than did Endicott Peabody.

Most Governors have enjoyed a so-called political honeymoon upon assuming office, a period of varying lengths, during which they were immune from criticism while they adjusted themselves to their new duties. Peabody's honeymoon ended even before he assumed office.

It took plenty of courage for Peabody to look the Executive Councillors in the eye and recommend publicly that their body be wiped out of existence. But make no mistake about the fact that the feeling against

There are some strong arguments to support Peabody's contention that the Council should be wiped out.

Under former Governors Volpe and Furcolo the Council was a political trading post in which deals were made in return for votes, and nominations were measured in the light of partisan politics, not on the qualifications of a person recommended for a particular position.

But some controls and checks should be maintained over the appointments made by a Governor, and the idea of transferring the power of confirming nominations from the Executive Council to the 40-member State Senate has questionable merit.

Whatever arguments may be advanced for or against the abolition of the Executive Council, the fact remains that a majority of the members of the Legislature probably will not buy Peabody's idea. In one way or another the proposal would abolish the Governor's will be sidetracked.

While Peabody has not yet announced his program, it is generally expected that he will recommend a sales tax in the name of an educational tax, with the proceeds from the tax to be distributed among the 351 cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

It's possible that such a tax might be adopted if the officials of the local communities rally behind it and lobby legislators in their area. However, it's improbable.

The average legislator now considers that he's risking his political life if he votes against anything relating to education. But he's far from certain that applies to an educational sales tax.

A fairly strong sentiment exists in the Legislature against enacting any new taxes. Some law-makers point to the overwhelming vote against the graduated State income tax as indicating that the people just don't want to pay any higher taxes than are now being levied on them.

When ex-Governor Furcolo

made a fight for a sales tax in 1957, the Republicans played politics and opposed his move even though they had previously advocated such a tax. If they had joined with Furcolo, he would have won his battle since he lined up a majority of the Democrats.

What position the GOP legislators would take toward a sales tax submitted in the name of an educational tax is uncertain. It's unlikely, however, that they would provide the votes necessary to pass it.

How big Peabody's budget will be or how much additional funds will have to be raised by the State to do the things he wants to do are still unanswered questions.

Peabody's inaugural address contained few specifics. Those will come in his budget message and in the special messages he submits to the Legislature.

All the evidence now indicates that Peabody will have to fight hard for what he wants and that he'll fall far short of getting everything he wants.

Newton Couple To Receive Honors At Award Breakfast

GEORGE CHALETZKY

MRS. GEORGE CHALETZKY

A Newton couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Chaletzky, who have served Temple Reyim quietly and without headlines or fanfare for more than 10 years, will be honored at the Annual Award Breakfast of the Temple Brotherhood at the ninth consecutive ceremony to be held on Sunday, January 13, in the social hall, 1860 Washington street, Newton.

Mr. Chaletzky has served the Temple as chairman of its building committee, chairman of its board of directors and is currently a vice-president.

He is treasurer of the Investment Corporation of Boston, a partner in Norge Realty Management and formerly a member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Real Estate.

Mrs. Chaletzky is a former president of Temple Reyim Sisterhood and currently a member of its board. She is also active in the Brandeis National Women's Committee and Order of Eastern Star, Newton Chapter, 226.

Mr. Chaletzky is a former in favor of his charter objection.

As for the future of the current dumping facilities at Elliot St., both Mayor Gibbs and DPW Chief Pratt indicated that the site will not be abandoned when the new incinerator is built.

"We will keep it on a stand-by basis," Mayor Gibbs said. "We definitely will not close it down."

Pratt elaborated that the Elliot St. facility will be used for the demolition of brush and lumber. "These items could not be put into the new incinerator under controlled conditions anyway."

Residents in the Elliot St. area have been active opponents to the location of the new incinerator in their neighborhood. Numerous residents of the area have attended all Aldermanic sessions on the matter, including this past Monday's meeting when approximately 100 to 150 of them showed up.

The Alderman's action in defeating the move for reconsideration of the $2 million bond issue and appropriations of $130,000 and $71,000 for preliminary work apparently ends a year-long controversy over the selection of a site for the incinerator.

Three different sites were considered: Rumford Ave., Elliot St. adjacent to the present incinerator in Newton Highlands and Pine St. in West Newton.

Several weeks ago, the Mayor decided on the Rumford Ave. site as the one for which there was the least public objection. The main argument against this site was the increased traffic situation because of the trucks taking rubbish to the incinerator.

Fair Housing-

and often with real neighborliness, a Negro who has succeeded in acquiring a home in their midst, the Negro seeking housing in Newton has an enormous task ahead of him. Some of the families the committee has worked with have been refused housing over 100 times and one family over 200 times before being accepted for a home that was suitable.

"And Newton is approaching a time of crisis in this area," the spokesman continued. Within a matter of weeks, 15 to 25 Negro families now renting apartments in the Negro community and being displaced by the toll road, will be seeking housing elsewhere in the city.

"These families would have had difficulty finding housing accommodations now in Newton without the handicap of race, for they seek low-rent apartments which have always been scarce in this city. . . .

What is most disturbing is that some may succeed in locating a suitable home and then be turned down solely because of their race. This situation has already occurred once and within just a few blocks of the family's present home.

He also commented that any plans for development of the Newton property, which is unoccupied land now, await architectural plans of the entire project.

"We want to see where this 7 1/2 acres fits in the entire scheme."

Motel Hearing-

2. The Messenger Nursing Home, 399 Newtonville Ave., wishes to expand its facilities from 11 to 43 beds.

3. The Trustees of Boston College request permission to construct a four-story classroom building, to serve as a Graduate Center, at 140 Commonwealth Ave.

4. California Car Wash, Inc., seeks a change of access and egress on California Ave.

Also scheduled are two requests for change of zone.

Three Zoning Board of Appeals decisions were reported at Monday's Board of Aldermen's meeting. All three variance requests were denied. Seeking the variances were George and Mildred Prescott, 413 Cherry St., West Newton; Valentino and Rose Melideo, 75 Prairie Ave., and Wallace G. and Barbara V. Burbo, 23 Putnam St., West Newton.

Uncle Dudley Is Guest Speaker At
NH Woman's Club

James H. Powers of the Boston Globe, better known as "Uncle Dudley," will be the guest speaker at the Wednesday, January 16, meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at the Congregational Church Parish House.

The session will open with a dessert and coffee hour at 1 p.m., with Miss S. Marie Morrison, Mrs. E. C. Prietz and Mrs. Douglas A. Snow as hostesses. Mr. Powers' address will follow a brief business meeting at 1:45 p.m.

In a talk, "Hot Off the International Wire," Mr. Powers will offer his interpretations of the latest world conflicts.

Special guests of the club at the meeting will be officials from the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co. who arranged for the guest speaker's appearance.

The art corner at the meeting will feature a traveling exhibit of winning high school paintings as well as the winning entrants in the club's recent camera contest.

Brooke Assumes Office Thursday; McCormack Out

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Attorney General - elect Edward W. Brooke assumes office next Thursday. At the same time Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., will retire to the private practice of law.

Brooke will become the top Republican office-holder in the State government and could well provide the leadership which the GOP in Massachusetts now needs so desperately.

The stories of both Brooke and McCormack are unusual ones.

McCormack could be Governor today. He could have had the gubernatorial endorsement for the asking. And he undoubtedly would have been elected had he desired to stand for the Governorship.

Instead, McCormack trained his sights on a seat in the U. S. Senate, engaged in a fight with Edward M. Kennedy in which the odds were heavily against him and was defeated both at the June convention and in the September primary.

The simple explanation in McCormack's case was that his consuming ambition was to sit in the U. S. Senate and that he wasn't interested in being Governor.

Brooke, of course, is the first Negro ever elected to state-wide office in Massachusetts.

He faces a tremendous challenge during the two years ahead, one which carries both great opportunities and weighty responsibilities.

One of the major cases Brooke will take over will be the prosecution of the persons indicted in connection with the Boston Common garage scandal.

Also still hanging fire are indictments which resulted from the long investigation into the operation of the State Waterways Division.

Brooke has been a crusader who believed in the soft sell. In speech after speech he has emphasized that one of his prime objectives was to close the loopholes which make possible graft and corruption.

Now Brooke is about to take over the post as the State's chief law enforcement officer. What he does and how he does it will be front-page news during the months ahead.

John E. Powers To Get New Democratic Honor

Senate President John E. Powers will be elected on Saturday as the new Democratic national committeeman from Massachusetts, succeeding former Mayor John B. Hynes who resigned from the post at the start of the New Year.

For the hard-working Powers it is a new and well deserved honor. Powers is highly respected in other sections of the country where he is known as an outstanding legislator and an extremely able parliamentarian.

He probably will make the position of Democratic national committeeman a much more active one than it has been for a long time.

****

GOP Senate Leader Two-Fisted Fighter

Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, the new Republican leader in the State Senate, is a hard-working two-fisted fighter.

At times Graham may give the jitters to the more liberal elements of the Republican party because of his conservative views on some matters. But for a stand-up political battler the GOP would have to go a long way to find Graham's equal.

Graham would have been elected president of the Senate six years ago except for an adroit political maneuver executed by Senator Powers, then the Democratic leader in the upper legislative chamber.

Graham was the overwhelming choice of the Republican caucus for the Senate presidency in 1957, polling 15 votes to six for Senator Newland H. Holmes of Weymouth.

But when Holmes and his five backers refused to be bound by the caucus and voted for Holmes, Powers swung 15 Democratic votes behind Holmes to give him the presidency.

Graham's fight for election as GOP leader in the Senate probably means he intends to seek the Republican nomination for Governor next year.

TEEN TIME TOPICS

By DOT DUNN

Don't forget this column belongs to all young people in the teen-age group. Your questions may touch on any subject. Boy-girl problems are very common at this time. There are many other queries that often trouble you. Even though your name and address must be on your letter, we will publish only your initials or a pen name, nickname. Join the ever growing group and mail your letter today.

Dear Dot.

I was wondering if you could please give a few suggestions to teen-agers on what to do on dates. My friends and I are pretty bored with movies and bowling. Thank you. J. B.

Dear J. B.

This is a very common complaint, especially with your age group. How about a few parties? Remember you'll soon tire of these, too, if you don't give them a little thought. It's a good idea to get your friends and your parents to help with the planning.

There's no more fun than having a covered-dish supper. All the guests bring either a main dish, salad or a dessert. If they bring their own place settings, which I highly recommend, the hostess is as relaxed about the clean-up as is the guest. She provides the rolls, butter and the beverage. Then she lets the radio or record player produce the music. Simple, isn't it?

Progressive parties are just as much fun. Each course is served at a different house. The hostess provides an interesting activity. The surprise element as well as moving around helps create, as well as hold, interest.

Dear Dot.

I am 15. I feel this is unfair. Do you agree with me or the school authorities? R. M.

Dear R. M.

You forgot to say, but I'll bet you go to an all-girls school. If so, as long as you have that well-scrubbed look and concentrate on neatness, why bother your pretty little head with a problem so easily solved.

Most teachers will agree with parents that you are in school to learn. Remember the natural look is most becoming to all-age gals. Get together with your mother for some advice on the type of makeup for you to use on special occasions and week-ends.

Postal Advice On Correct Use Of New Stamps

Postal authorities strongly urge patrons to be sure and place the correct postage on their mail. New postage rates went into effect this week.

Postage rates for first-class letters were increased from four cents to five cents an ounce with air mail letters now costing eight cents an ounce instead of seven.

First class post cards now cost four cents instead of three with air mail cards going from five to six cents.

The extra charge of one cent for stamp booklets containing the five-cent and eight-cent denominations has been dropped. The booklets are being sold at their face value at one dollar and two dollars respectively.

In addition, the booklets contain a handy postage chart on the inside cover.

Authorities called attention to the fact that insufficient postage will be collected from the addressee or the letter returned to the sender.

Rate increases are now effective on circulars, second-class mailings and educational materials. Additional information on all rate changes can be obtained at local post offices.

Dear Dot,

I am 17. I am to be a bridesmaid at my sister's wedding. It will take place in February. We haven't picked out our gowns yet. The problem is this. My sister insists that all the attendants wear dark colors. What do you think of this? M. M.

Dear M. M.

I think you better decide on those gowns real soon. The bride always chooses the colors that her attendants will wear. It's her day.

I'll bet you are thinking of pastel shades. These are worn in the spring and summer. Your sister has in mind the jeweled tones which are usually used in the winter months. These darker shades are so becoming at this time of the year. Remember a bride will want her attendants to compliment her. Just be a little more open-minded on the subject.

Dear Dot.

My school bahts make-up. I am 15. I feel this is unfair. Do you agree with me or the school authorities? R. M.

'Joy Of Living' Series Set By Beth-El Atereth Israel

A "Joy of Living" series will be inaugurated by Congregation Beth-El Atereth Israel, Newton Centre, at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 13. The five Sunday evening programs will feature national and international personalities.

Mrs. Mackey Reappointed As Assessor

Mrs. William K. Mackey was reappointed to another three-year term as a member of the Newton Board of Assessors.

The Board of Aldermen, on the recommendation of Mayor Donald Gibbs, named Mrs. Mackey Monday night on a 21-1 closed ballot.

The Assessor has been a member of the Board since 1955 when she was named to fill an unexpired term. She subsequently received three-year appointments in 1957 and 1960.

Mrs. Mackey resides at 38 Moreland Avenue, Newton Centre.

Another appointment of the Mayor's confirmed by the Alderman was that of Mrs. Malcolm N. Jackson, 37 Cheswick road, Auburndale, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Marion B. Ford as a trustee of Jackson Homestead. The term expires May 31.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Joshua B. Clark will introduce the speaker, Mrs. E. Graham Bates. Mrs. Bates will give an illustrated lecture titled, "Welcome To Jackson Homestead."

Mrs. Leigh B. Liggett and her committee will serve bouillon at 10 o'clock. Pourers will be Mrs. William S. Dunklee and Mrs. David Skinner.

Fisher Blasts Bradley For Thompson Vote

Attorney Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., unsuccessful candidate for the House of Representatives in last November's election, this week called on Representative Joseph G. Bradley to explain why he voted for the re-election of Speaker John F. Thompson.

"Throughout the campaign Mr. Bradley assured the people of Newton that he was opposed to Thompson but at the first opportunity after his election voted for him," Fisher charged.

"The people of Newton are entitled to know what inducements led Mr. Bradley to break his word to the people and repudiate the leadership of the Governor who is from his own party," asserted Fisher.

"The citizens of Newton through Mr. Bradley's action have been placed in a position of supporting the type of government which has brought disgrace to the State. Mr. Bradley owes it to himself and the people he represents to give whatever explanation he has for his vote," Fisher concluded.

Representative Bradley was not immediately available for a comment on Fisher's statement.

However, Bradley stated last week, prior to the balloting for election of a Speaker, that he would follow Democratic customs and vote for the choice of the caucus of Democratic House Democrats. He made the statement after Speaker John W. McCormack of the national House had told the Democratic legislators that they had a party obligation to abide by the choice of the caucus.

Thompson defeated his closest opponent 2-1 in the caucus, and Bradley subsequently cast his vote for Thompson.

Late Surge By Our Lady's Is Non-Productive

Our Lady's cagers produced a threat in the third period of their Monday game with St. Mary's of Brookline at the Parish Center, but it was a case of too little and too late, and their Catholic Suburban League opponents topped them by a score of 44-35.

The local lads were unable to wipe out the 16-point deficit facing them when the game had only six minutes to go.

Their high scorer in the contest was Nicoletta with 10 points.

Mrs. Leigh B. Liggett and her committee will serve bouillon at 10 o'clock. Pourers will be Mrs. William S. Dunklee and Mrs. David Skinner.

Two to choose from... one black, one white. Standard Shift, Radio and Heater.

Bay Path Council Names 4 Newton Women to Office

Four Newton women were elected to office at the recent chartering meeting of the Bay Path Colonial Girl Scout Council.

Named were Mrs. Nathan Bugbee of West Newton, vice president; Mrs. Walter Lockwood of West Newton, secretary; Mrs. Ralph Werman of Newtonville, program service chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Gregorian of Newton, board member.

Each of the four women has been a Girl Scout worker for 15 to 19 years. Three of them held offices on the Colonial Development Committee, Mrs. Bugbee as vice chairman, Mrs. Lockwood as secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Werman as program services chairman.

Mrs. Gregorian is former vice president of the Newton Girl Scout Council and is currently chairman of Region 1, Girl Scouts of America.

Also at the session, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall presented the Council a flag which has flown over the U. S. Capitol in Washington.

Four Newton girls were members of the Honor Color Guard at the meeting. They are Regina Chase, Joyce Albin, Adele Smith and Barbara Leonard.

The Bay Path Council represents 12,000 Girl Scouts and 3,500 adult leaders in 24 area communities.

JULIAN BRIGHTMAN

Brightman Firm Will Work With Catholic Guild

The Julian Brightman Co. has been named public relations consultant for the American Center for Research in Blindness and Rehabilitation, a new service of the Catholic Guild for All the Blind, 770 Centre street.

The center will open this month as a service to medical, rehabilitation, psychological and research organizations throughout the world in the fields of blindness and rehabilitation. Dr. Leo H. Riley is its research director.

Mr. Brightman, 70 Oldham road, West Newton, and president of the advertising and marketing agency, started his work with the blind when the U. S. Army selected him as a psychological counselor to blinded servicemen and assigned him to an Army Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Connecticut in 1944.

There, he met the Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, now director of the Catholic Guild. After World War Two, Brightman continued working with Father Carroll for the Blinded Veterans' Association and the Catholic Guild.

Strange Tale Of Purchases In Wrong Car

This is a strange tale but a true one. The Newton housewife involved cannot explain how it happened—but it did. She is minus some valuable merchandise and somewhere, in Newton, maybe there's a white Chevrolet with her property in its trunk.

The woman, who will remain anonymous at this writing, procured three items, a Westinghouse Hair Dryer, a pair of Weiss Pinking Shears and a Tote Bag by trading Gold Star stamps at the redemption store in Newtonville.

She had parked her car, also a white Chevrolet in the municipal lot on Austin St., in Newtonville, across from the Star Market. She placed the three articles in the trunk of what she thought was her car, and returned to nearby stores.

Later she returned to her car and placed additional purchases on the front seat. Her shopping concluded, she drove home and it was then that she discovered that the trunk of her car did not contain the three stamp redemption articles.

The Newton woman concludes that she had mistaken another white Chevrolet for hers, had opened the trunk compartment and deposited the three articles. However, she had placed the other purchases, made later, in her own car. The incident happened about 7:30 o'clock last Friday night.

She has identified herself to The Graphic and stated that 3½ additional Gold Star stamp books, also left in the strange auto, bear her name and address.

If any Newtonite had a white Chevrolet parked in the Austin Street lot last Friday night around 7:30, it might be a good idea to check the trunk compartment.

St. Bernard's Holy Name To Meet on Sunday

The monthly Holy Name Communion of St. Bernard's parish, West Newton, will be held on Sunday, January 13, at the 8 o'clock Mass.

Following the Mass, a meeting will be held in the school hall. Rev. John O'Brien, Richard Cardinal Cushing's representative to the Inter-racial Council, will be the speaker. His topic will feature the moral and legal aspect of segregation in private housing. A light breakfast will be served at the meeting.

Newton Adults Urged To Get Oral Vaccine

Newton Holy Name District Outstanding in Archdiocese

The Newton district, one of 16 in the Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies in the Boston archdiocese, has become outstanding among them, due for the most part to the character of its monthly meetings.

The district comprises 30 parishes under the Archdiocesan parish societies under the direction of a representative group of officers that can be

It will be the adult population's turn to obtain their polio vaccine next week, as the city goes all out to make Newton a polio-free community.

Starting on Monday, Type I oral vaccine will be offered to the entire adult population of Newton. Pupils in public and parochial schools, as well as preschool youngsters are receiving their vaccines this week.

Seven adult polio immunization clinics throughout the city will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. next Monday through Friday, January 21-25. They will be located at the following sites: Newton City Hall, Newton Centre; Bigelow Junior High School, Newtonville; Meadowbrook Junior High School, Newton Centre (Oak Hill); Levi F. Warren Junior High School, West Newton; John W. Weeks Junior High, Newton Centre, and Angier School, Waban.

A special makeup clinic is set for Sunday, January 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the City Hall.

During the entire polio immunization program locally, children will receive the vaccine free of charge. Voluntary donations of 25 cents will be set for Sunday, January 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the City Hall.

Mayor Launches 'Decisions '63' Series Program

The formal announcement of registration for "Great Decisions 1963" series on next Monday, January 21, was marked this week with the presentation to Mayor Donald L. Gibbs of a fact sheet kit, as honorary president of the World Affairs Council of Newton, by Mrs. Martin R. Karlin, series chairman; Mrs. Anton Fried, president of the Newton World Affairs Council, and Charles W. Dudley, director of Newton Junior College, where the series will be given.

Newton Kiwanis Club Holds Ladies Night, Installation

The Newton Kiwanis Club held a combined Ladies Night and Installation of Officers at Valley's Steak House, Chestnut Hill, last Friday night, January 11th.

C. John Madden was installed as president of the club with the following other officers:

Representative Joseph G. Bradley this week was elected president of the "freshman class" of the State Legislature.

It was a notable tribute paid to Bradley by the 46 first-term members of the House of Representatives.

The new legislators traditionally select their own leader on a non-partisan basis, with no party lines in the voting.

It means that Bradley will be the first freshman to preside over the House of Representatives. He will serve as unofficial spokesman for the first-term members and also will arrange a banquet which is held for the members of the House.

In addition to serving in the House, Bradley is a member of the Board of Aldermen from Ward 1.

Many Proposals Heard In Zoning Of Florence St.

When City officials sit down to decide on the future zoning of the north side of Florence street, Chestnut Hill, they won't be without alternatives.

Monday night's hearing by the Planning Board and the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee was called to consider a zone change of parcel of land contained in the triangle of Boylston street, Florence street and the Brookline line.

First the Claims and Rules Committee submitted a proposal to change the land facing Florence street to Residence E zone which would permit construction of a high-rise apartment house and to make the land facing Boylston street as Business A.

Iced Streets Cause Trouble

The weekend ice conditions were the major cause of most of the accidents reported over the Friday to Monday period, when a number of sanding crews of the Street Department were fairly constantly on the job.

Earl C. Gassenheimer of 150 Prince street, West Newton, required treatment for facial cuts at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after his car skidded into one operated by a Wellesley man at Prince and Dartmouth streets on Saturday.

There were a dozen skidding accidents Saturday and Sunday, with injuries resulting from three of them, and property damage only in the others.

2 Arrested In Break; Police Probe Others

Newton Police had a busy week investigating a series of breaks and attempted burglaries in a five-day span from last Thursday to Monday.

The first was a break into the apartment of Mrs. Sadie Goodman late last Thursday afternoon, when approximately $400 worth of jewelry was taken. The criminal was seen by two elderly women on opposed to the erection of the incinerator on Rumford avenue.

Court Fight

That Mayor Gibbs was flabbergasted by the revelation of Mayor Rhodes is an understatement.

After recovering from his initial surprise, however, Gibbs emphasized that he is going ahead with his plans for building the incinerator on Rumford avenue.

Gibbs told The Graphic he intends to take three immediate steps.

1. He will submit an order to the Board of Aldermen at their next meeting asking that they approve eminent domain proceedings to take the land. It is assumed that this measure will be approved since the Aldermen already have voted a $2 million bond issue.

to finance the construction of an incinerator on Rumford avenue.

2. City Solicitor Matt B. Jones will take court action to clear the title to the land and remove any cloud of doubt as to its legal ownership.

3. An engineering firm will begin designing the interior of the incinerator. This will take about four months. Gibbs is hopeful that by that time any dispute over the land will have been resolved and that it will then be possible for the firm to design the exterior building for the incinerator.

Mayor Gibbs indicated that his relations with Mayor Rhodes are friendly and cordial but made it plain that his duty is to protect the interests of Newton and that he intends to do exactly that.

He said that real estate taxes dating back at least to 1959 will be deducted from any damages Newton pays the City of Waltham for the land taken for the incinerator location.

Mayor Rhodes, who insisted that there is no question that Waltham owns the land, said that his city never has received a tax bill from Newton and consequently has paid no taxes on the property. Whether Waltham would make any court fight to block eminent domain proceedings by Newton was not disclosed.

Mayor Gibbs conceded that a court battle might delay the erection of the incinerator but expressed the conviction that Newton would prevail in a legal fight.

However, Gibbs said that if he should be blocked in his move to take the Waltham-owned land, he would look for alternate sites in the Rumford avenue area on which the incinerator could be placed.

Coming and Going in Newton

By JANE SCHNEIDER

Icy streets and freezing weather kept most Newtonites indoors last weekend. However, some managed to travel in spite of the weather conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Levin of Newton Highlands spent last week in New York City where Mr. Levin had a business appointment.

Mr. Saul Rice of Newtonville is vacationing in Puerto Rico this week where he is enjoying golf.

Mrs. Gerald Glunts visited Magnolia Manor last week with two friends from Newton.

Betsy Tichnor is leaving for Mount Snow on Saturday for Mount Snow on Saturday will stay at the Snow Barn with two classmates from Boston University where she is a senior majoring in education. Betsy previously attended Skidmore College.

JoJo Parkhurst spent last Saturday at his summer home in New Hampshire with his friends Jimmy Murdock, Tommy Kates, and Bobby Heany.

The Kolpack family of Waban went on a two week cruise recently. They left from New York aboard the France. They visited Trinidad, Haiti, Martinique, and Curacao.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Salow of Newton Centre have just returned from a trip to New York City.

Miss Susan Joan Rice of Newtonville is planning a ski trip to Mount Snow next week with two roommates, Linda Klein and Gruna Leibert.

The annual meeting of the Newton Community Center, Inc. will take place at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at Warren Junior High School. President John J. McLeod announced this week.

The meeting agenda includes the reading of reports and transaction of other corporation business. The corporation meeting will be followed by the annual meeting of the board of directors.

Members of the executive board of the agency for the past year, in addition to Mr. McLeod, include Mrs. William Biddle, first vice president; Mrs. Samuel Werner, second vice president; John R. Clark, third vice president; Mrs. C. Uehlein, recording secretary; Miss Ruth Eddy, treasurer; Mrs. William Price, corresponding secretary; Archibald Barron, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Ernest Kuebler, member-at-large.

The activity was spurred by a letter from the president of Barron's Inc., who said that expansion plans for the department store had been suspended pending solution of the expected traffic problem in the establishment's vicinity.

The idea is to work out an alternate route that will make for less traffic congestion.

Aldermen Tennant, Dangel and Nixon have been closeted with Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt, and a meeting with the Traffic Commission has been scheduled.

Their activity was spurred by a letter from the president of Barron's Inc., who said that expansion plans for the department store had been suspended pending solution of the expected traffic problem in the establishment's vicinity.

The program is open to all residents. Children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be admitted if accompanied by their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Baldi are chairmen of the affair. Committee members are Mrs. Matthew Jefferson, Mrs. Joseph Albano, Mrs. Alex Castaldi, Mrs. Margaret Gardner, Mrs. Charles Constantine, Mrs. Caroline Alsmeier, Mrs. William Bright and Mrs. Clement McCarthy.

Center Opens

will be the director of research.

The new research center is located on a site that abuts the present quarters of the Catholic Guild on Center street. It is housed in a commodious carriage house on a 5 1/2-acre site, with the administrative staff occupying another house adjoining the center.

Father Carroll reported that the new center has been in the progress of organization for more than five years. "It is intended," he said, "to promote a two-way flow of information and trained personnel. The center will also become a library for the sifting and cataloguing of vital data from around the world, as well as a distribution point for the results of its own in-depth researches."

The new research center, he continued, will seek answers to many problems that have been increasingly acute due to the increase in blindness among geriatrics, diabetics (because of increased longevity) and victims of non-industrial accidents.

Dr. Riley, a member of the staff of St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center since its founding in 1954, commented that many unanswered problems in rehabilitation of the blind have developed during the eight years that St. Paul's has been in operation.

The new center, he said, gets underway with 80 major projects already scheduled. In researching specific projects, Dr. Riley continued, the American Center will attempt to provide new material of interest to researchers in other fields. It also expects that doctors, scientists and researchers, as well as students in specialized fields, will come to the center for observation and study.

Dr. Riley expressed the hope that eventually personnel associated with the center will help to staff or direct existing and future rehabilitation centers for the blind in the United States and abroad.

In addition to his association with St. Paul's, Dr. Riley has been on the staffs of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Newton-Wellesley Hospital and the Tufts University Medical School.

The Catholic Guild will officially sponsor the opening of the American Center with a series of professional seminars later this month.

For Zoning

Then, residents in the area asked to have the unused portion of the area classified as E zone for the construction of a six-story, 56-unit apartment house.

And, a developer, William Krupp Co. seeks a Residence E zone for the construction of a six-story, 56-unit apartment house.

The 25-member Chestnut Hill Associates favors the Residence D designation, thus opposing the City's plan. The Oak Hill District Improvement Association also went on record for the D zone.

To further complicate matters, Bernard Roberts, owner of a nearby shopping center, opposed both plans, as detrimental to future use of some of his land for business.

In the Waban Union Church recently, Miss Eleanor Jane Rose was married to Richard Hogop Marashlian by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Steadman Rose of 347 Quinobequin road, Waban, and the late Mr. Rose. Mr. and Mrs. Aram T. Marashlian of 125 Langdon street, Newton, are the bridegroom's parents.

Ferns, smilax and mixed white flowers decorated the altar for the pretty 5 o'clock candlelight service, which was followed by a reception at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Mr. Robert Tomb Rose gave his sister away. Her white silk mist gown was bodiced with Alencon lace. The princess skirt terminated in a chapel-length train.

A bouffant veil of imported illusion was caught to a pearl encrusted Dior bow. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and white orchids.

Honor maid was Miss Martha Holmes of Needham Heights, while Miss Lillian Nazarian of Watertown was her other attendant.

Aram T. Marashlian of Winchester served as best man for his brother. The ushers were John Gregorian of West Newton, Ronald Nalbandian of Meriden, Ct., cousin of the bridegroom, and Joseph Kelley of Watertown.

For her going away costume the bride chose a smartly styled white suit. Now in New Hampshire on their honeymoon, the couple plan to make their home in Newton.

Among the wedding guests were the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. Howard L. Tomb of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Floyd Rose of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of Chapel Hill School, Garland Junior College and the Academie Moderne. During the Beethoven School, Waban, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21.

Elliot Binder, vice president of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, will be the guest speaker. He will also give information on a guardianship plan.

The "Special Class P.T.A." composed of parents and teachers of retarded children in the Newton public school system, was formed last fall to promote the moral, physical and social welfare of these children.

The discussion will explore the differences in curriculum and teaching methods among the elementary schools and the effect of these differences on pupil preparation and teaching problems at the junior high school level.

The speakers will be, Dr. Edward Landy, assistant superintendent for guidance; Donald Welsh, acting superintendent for curriculum; and Joseph Slyva, acting principal of the Weeks Junior High School. Questions by parents are invited.

The meeting will be preceded by an open house at 7 o'clock. The public is invited.

Frances P. Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Keyes, 40 Puddington Lane, Newton Centre, appeared with the Whims, an informal singing group at Wheaton College, when the group sang on WJAR-TV in Providence Jan. 15.

1963 RAMBLER WINS "CAR OF THE YEAR" AWARD

from Motor Trend Magazine

Each year the automobile industry eagerly awaits the selection of one car as "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend's impartial experts. For 1963, this most-wanted, hardest-to-get honor goes to Rambler... "for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership." Read why Rambler won this prized award over all other cars.

Here are some of the experts' reasons:

"New styling is based on lean, clean lines that are apparent from almost any angle."

"Motor Trend's Cars of the Year prove their mettle in actual testing, confirm their engineering excellence, reliability, sturdiness and performance."

"Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points."

"In unitized bodies, which American Motors pioneered, this latest design represents a real advancement... biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year."

"This new construction method results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value."

"The interiors of both the Classic and Ambassador are roomy and comfortable... offer plenty of legroom."

"A good safety device. Self-adjusting brakes and dual master cylinders... if one system fails, the other brings the car to a safe stop."

"Trunk is large. Low loading lip makes it simple to load."

"Our Classic... with the rugged, ohv in-line Six... gave a high of 26.7 mpg highway cruising... mixed city and freeway gave 23.4."

"A sportier, more performance-oriented vehicle, the Ambassador V-8 should satisfy the wants of the Rambler buyer who favors performance."

"There isn't any pitch or choppiness noticeable even on rough roads."

"Summing up... it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

Police Power
Not To Assail
A Free Press

By Carleton I. Pickett
Executive Secretary
Mass. Farm Bureau Fed. Inc.

The press is neither a target or its police power. No place is free where the press is not free. There has been a tendency in the last few years to forget our fundamental principles and to consider the wisdom of the past as a piece of moldy thinking.

The freedom of the press is not a matter to be left to editors to protect. It is your freedom and mine.

The Massachusetts Legislature will consider a Bill to set up a code of ethics for newspapers which has language which would not only destroy the established defenses against libel but set up procedures to make suits for libel as intriguing a pastime as trying for a free automobile by writing your name on a card at your supermarket.

The code of ethics set up last year was the sort of thing which invited extension into other fields. It was bad enough applied to public employees. We said so at the time and now others are saying so more loudly. To extend it to a newspaper is unthinkable.

The police power of the state is not to be used lightly and never to pounce, pry, investigate, assail, and try the motives of free speech and free press.

The history of the press from its early beginnings shows steady progress toward responsibility. Some of the first newspapers used language that would make a proper Bostonian wince and there were trials for libel.

There is no more eloquent speech on the necessity of a free press than that of Alexander Hamilton and the jury in the Zenger case had, we thought, settled forever the right to freedom of the press. Our Constitution sets forth this principle—"the liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state; it ought not, therefore, to be restrained in this Commonwealth."

It ought not, therefore, to be restrained.

There are remedies for those unjustly injured. They lie within the province of our Courts. We may dislike an editorial position with an almost white-hot dislike but if that editor or that newspaper can be restrained or threatened with restraint it is no longer free to cry out the truth as it sees it and you and I have lost a freedom to hear.

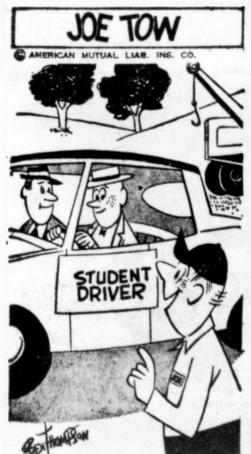

The press is important to freedom. It is one of the first of institutions to be muzzled wherever freedom is lost. It is perhaps about the only institution in American life today that does not feel the heavy hand of governmental intervention—always for the people's good, of course.

In Atlanta, Georgia last month thousands of farm people from every State drew up a statement of a policy we will pursue. It contained these words: "we believe in freedom of speech, press, and peaceful assembly."

"Individuals have a moral responsibility to help preserve freedom for future generations by active participation in public affairs."

These were not pious words from the Farm Bureau but carefully made decisions. We shall not shirk our responsibility to guard these rights. Here in Massachusetts the game of "code of ethics" is about to involve the press. We do not believe reasonable people, when informed, will care to invite the police power of the state into the area of restraint of press either by direct or by indirect pressures.

Newton Temple Honored At Chicago Convention

Temple Emanuel of Newton received signal honors at the recent National Convention of United Synagogue Youth held in Chicago when it received the highest number of awards of any congregation in the country. 1200 delegates from the United States and Canada attended the affair.

Each of the eight chapters sponsored by Temple Emanuel received an award for its outstanding program. In addition, personal awards were given to Joan Borowsky, Lauri Elgart, Arlene Glaser, Linda Katseff and Steven Thompson.

Temple Emanuel delegates attending the National Convention were Robert Baker, Marilyn Bellar, Judith Glickman, Robert Kaplan, Sheldon Lourie, Michael Sobol and Steven Thompson.

The USY program at Temple Emanuel is under the leadership of Chester A. Rubin, Youth Activities Director; and Rabbi M. David Weiss. Morris Bernstein is chairman of the Youth Activities Committee, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Bickelman, vice chairman. Rabbi Albert I. Gordon is supervisor of the entire Youth Activities Program.

There are more than 200 USY'ers at Temple Emanuel with eight separate USY groups, each with their own officers and adult leadership. Several groups are presently working on projects for the Brookline Hospital, Metropolitan State Hospital and the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Officers of the Youth Council at Temple Emanuel are John Borowsky, president; Robert Baker, treasurer, and Trudy Shore, secretary.

Mail Pink Slips Basbas Advises

Persons who were not at home when police called to obtain poll listing information, and who fail to fill out and mail in the pink slips the officers left at their residences, lay themselves open to a fine up to $500 or imprisonment, according to a warning issued by City Clerk Monte G. Basbas.

In calling their attention to their possible neglect, the city clerk is concerned in two ways, first for their welfare, and second for the importance of the city's having complete listing information.

Newton Skaters Hope For Win Vs. Cambridge

For the first time in two seasons, the Newton High hockey team finds itself out of first place in the GBI League, and perhaps even worse, in danger of not qualifying for the State tourney.

The club, which dropped from first to third place after being shut out 2-0 by Arlington last week, hopes to return to its winning ways at 1 p.m. Saturday when it takes on weak Cambridge at the Boston Arena. Cambridge shows but one win and two ties in eight outings this season.

Mrs. Charlotte Howard, principal, will introduce the panel members, who are Miss Katherine T. Murphy, Mrs. Anne E. White, Mrs. Freda B. Serkin and Mrs. Sarah Mansfield.

Mrs. Howard will also present a summary of the individualized reading program and the new, testing program at Clafin.

A question and answer period will follow.

Mrs. Wilfred B. Neptune is program chairman.

H.C. Grid Coach Talks At Kiwanis

Mickey Connolly, backfield football coach at Holy Cross College, was the guest speaker at yesterday's (Wednesday) meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club.

Connolly, former star for Boston College in the Sugar Bowl, spoke on physical fitness.

Also addressing the club recently was City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, general chairman of the Newton Polio Immunization Citizens Committee.

Peabody Faces Bitter Fight On Plan To Hike Income Tax

Governor Peabody apparently is headed for a bitter battle in the Legislature over a plan for drastically revamping the State income tax law in order to obtain a far greater amount of money than the tax presently produces.

Persons close to the Governor declare that this is the method Peabody will recommend be used to raise funds for distribution to the local communities to help meet their educational costs.

The likelihood is that Peabody would have a better chance of securing the passage of a sales tax bill than he will of winning legislative approval of the income tax measure he reportedly has in mind.

In fact, it would not be surprising if the income tax proposition is eventually scrapped and Peabody is forced to turn to the idea of a sales tax to help out the cities and towns.

Peabody has long been an advocate of a graduated State income tax as a means of securing increased revenue for the Commonwealth.

However, the voters killed the graduated income tax proposal in so overwhelming a fashion last November that it probably will be a long time before Peabody or anybody else tries to revive it.

What Peabody now evidently intends to do is to seek a complete overhaul of the State income tax law.

It is understood that he will recommend the elimination of the deduction now allowed for federal income taxes, that he will propose that the tax levy itself be increased and probably that personal exemptions be reduced.

That probably would be too much of a bite for the legislators to swallow in one gulp.

Not only would everyone who now pays a State income tax be required to pay a higher one under Peabody's plan, but the State also would put the bite on some people who now pay no income taxes to the Commonwealth.

While city and town officials undoubtedly would rally behind Peabody in his fight since he would be helping them with their problems, they would have a very difficult time selling this scheme to a majority of the legislators.

The average law-maker might be willing to vote for a modest increase in the State income taxes. But a modest hike would not bring in the amount of money Peabody wants to raise.

A loud cry of protest would be sure to go up against the elimination of the deduction now allowed by the State for the amount paid in federal income taxes.

One argument would be that the State would be levying a tax on a tax, that Bay State residents would be paying taxes on money they don't get.

A reduction in personal and dependency deductions—if one is recommended—also would be the subject of heated dispute.

Peabody's answer presumably would be that if he is going to make good on his pledge to aid the cities and towns there are only two ways he can get the money. One is by enacting a sales tax. The other is by increasing the State income tax.

Republican legislators would be almost certain to oppose the income tax measure. Its political implications would be far too great for the GOP law-makers to pass up the opportunity to capitalize on them.

Democratic legislators probably would be unwilling to place themselves in the position of voting a substantial increase in the State income tax while the Republicans sat back and voted against it.

The fact that the people receded themselves so heavily against a graduated State income tax also will cause the average legislator to hesitate to vote for any sweeping revision of the income tax law.

In addition, of course, there is a natural disposition on the part of a legislator to back away from any increase in taxes.

Peabody undoubtedly will sweeten up the proposition by earmarking the new taxes—or most of them—for education.

Most legislators now are reluctant to vote against anything which would advance the cause of education. But they are likely to be even more reluctant to risk their own political necks by voting for a big boost in the State income taxes.

If McCormack does run again next year, only one spot on the Democratic State ticket would be open to him. That would be the nomination for Attorney General—the office he has just left.

All the other places on the State ticket would be filled by men now holding office and standing for renomination and reelection—Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Governor Peabody, Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti, State Auditor

Teen Time Topics

By DOT DUNN

Dear Dot,
I am 15. When I go to the movies, my mother insists I be home by 11:15. Don't you think that's a little old fashioned? N.M.

Dear N.M.,
Maybe I need a lesson on what the term "old-fashioned" really means. It appears to me that your mother is treating you more like an adult than a little girl. When you comply with such a reasonable hour, your mother is likely to recognize your attempt to build a sense of responsibility.

Why not put the question before the interested parties? Just before leaving on your next date, come right out with the fact that your parents expect you in around 11 o'clock. Your date will have no doubt that your parents have the same interest in you as his parents have in him.

Dear Dot,
During the recent vacation I met a boy whom I like very much. He goes to a private school, where he lives. He has promised to write. If he does not, do you think it would be all right for me to send the first letter? L.B.

Dear L.B.,
Try not to cross a bridge before you get to it. Why not give him a little time? As a rule boys don't have the same desire to follow through

Dear Dot,
I am 16, so nothing could stop him. How can we convince him that this is a foolish move? N.S.

Dear N.S.,
It appears that your friend is really mixed up. He could accomplish his mission by working outside school hours. Most teen-age boys, who are good students, recognize the fact that after getting a good education, buying a car is a simple matter.

Maybe good marks come too readily to this young man.

Sounds as if he's about to learn the hard way. Too bad he didn't want to fly to the moon. He would have had no alternative but to stay in school. When he sets his sights on something a bit more difficult to attain, he'll have to return to school.

Then and only then will you and all his friends be able to help him make his decision.

Dear Dot,
Just because I help my friend when they have problems with one of their school subjects, I have been considered a "brain." This name makes me very uncomfortable.

I am a good student, but by no means among the all "A" group. How can I get rid of this label? T.R.

Dear T.R.,
I'll bet this is just a friend of yours. Are you perhaps overly sensitive? Why not take it in stride?

The next time somebody refers to you as a "brain," why not say something like this, "It's about time for another Madame Curie, didn't you know that I'm a candidate?"

Another retort might be, "I'm so glad you've noticed my assets, I've been worried they weren't showing."

In a short time you will be able to take a little kidding in the spirit in which it is given. It's really just part of growing up.

Dear Dot,
What can you do about a boy who shows up at a girl's house to escort her to a dance when he's sporting two week's growth of a grizzly beard?

This was sort of a shock to me, as he usually is so clean shaven, I didn't even think he had to shave. B.M.

Dear B.M.,
This seems to be a fad lately. Maybe it has something to do with the folk singing rage. I'm really not sure of the reason. It seems to me that most teenage boys go through this stage. It's usually only for a short while. Doesn't it seem to you that he might be trying to prove that he's really maturing? Possibly you have been treating him as if he were immature. My advice is to try showing some admiration for this beard. If you find something nice to say about it, you may be sure that it will soon vanish.

Modern Salon Ready For Milady Saturday

The most exciting, exotic, vacy . . . luxurious drying Boston's newest and smartest beauty salon. The Beauty Garden 1912 Beacon street, Cleveland circle, Brookline, opens its doors to the public Saturday, Jan. 19.

A completely new concept in Beauty Salon decor has been especially created to provide the ultimate in luxury and styling for the discriminating in taste. Over 10 months of meticulous planning has produced a living concept emphasizing every possible comfort and convenience.

The Beauty Garden's elegant decor has been created by an authority famous for beauty salon interior and design. You will delight at the dramatic and color richness of the distinctive walls and paneling. The Beauty Garden boasts of its private and semi private booths, which above all else assure personal pri-in soft colors and restful atmosphere it is truly the finest plush and supremely well designed beauty salon Boston has yet seen. The keen perceptiveness of the designers of the fabulous new Beauty Garden has resulted in a beauty salon which, it is claimed, has no equal in Boston or anywhere else in New England.

Articulate craftsmen have created subtle pageantries of light and shadow. An ordinary site transformed into a beautiful room explosive with radiant color, as exciting as your first date, as exotic as a new continent. Exterior as well as interior columns and panels, lounge and dryers all add new dimensions in beauty salon living. The distinctive entrance and chandeliers provide a note of drama.

These wondrous achievements of men and material will be yours to enjoy as guests in the extravagantly beautiful new Beauty Garden, when it opens its doors on Saturday, Jan. 19. While all this is new, their prices and policies remain the same.

First Production Of "Y" Theatre Rip Van Winkle

"Rip Van Winkle" will be the premier production of Newton Y. M. C. A.'s Intermediate Company of the Children's Music Theater tomorrow evening (Friday) at the "Y" at 7:30, and on Saturday afternoon at 3.

The double-duty chorus includes Stephen Caggiano, Steven Coser, Jenefer Kano, Jasmine Clifton, Linda Seltzer and Beth Wickstein, all of Newton.

Included in the balance of the case are the following Newtonites:

Phyllis Bronson, Kathie Misch, Janet Bearson, Lessie Farrell, Dewie Weiner, Laurie Flaschman, Judith Saltzman, Susan Nicolaik, Bonnie Taymore, Jan Solomon, Kim Kirjassoff, Toby Colten, Rebecca Crosby, Riva Spear, Debra Wilensky, Beth Weekstein, Jacqueline Rando and Carol Cohne.

Mrs. Hilda Moses has general direction of the Children's Theater.

Proceeds from the two presentations will be applied to the fund for rebuilding the Camp Chickami activity hall, which was leveled by fire.

ALLAN S. MCLEAN
Bachrach Studio
Names Local Man
As Vice President

Allan S. McLean, of Newton, has been named vice president of the Bachrach Studios, Portrait Photographers, according to the announcement this week by Bradford Bachrach, president of the organization.

Mr. McLean has been with the Bachrach firm since 1924 and for the past fifteen years has been manager of the studio in Copley Square, Boston. He and his wife, the former Anne McGovern, reside with their four children at 30 Washburn street, Newton.

He is a member of the Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, David I. Walsh Chapter, Fourth Degree.

Freedom League In Poems For Peace Contest

The Newton-Wellesley branch of the International League for Peace and Freedom is sponsoring a poetry contest entitled "Poems for Peace."

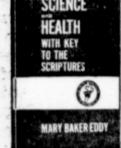

Prizes will be awarded to three adults and to three entries in the juvenile division for original, unpublished poems limited to 20 lines.

Judges will be three well-known poets, Anne Sexton, author of "All My Pretty Ones," David Ferry, Wellesley College professor, and Allen Grossman, professor at Brandeis. Literary merit and relevance to the cause of peace will be considered.

Entries must be in the hands of Edna Margaret Long, 1830 Commonwealth Avenue, Auburndale, by February 15. She will be glad to supply complete instructions on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The League, founded in 1915 by Nobel Prize winners Jane Addams and Emily Greene Balch, seeks through social action, education and the arts, to contribute to the achievement of universal peace, freedom and justice.

EVERY HOME- MAKER

book to bring peace to the household

Today's homemaker finds it increasingly important to maintain an atmosphere of peace in the family, where each member can find strength to meet the problems of the outside world.

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy many families are finding the intelligent answer to all their problems.

Science and Health may be read or examined, together with the Bible, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Or it may be purchased at $3.

Junior College Evening Program Begins Feb. 4th

The second semester of late afternoon and evening classes at Newton Junior College will begin Feb. 4, with registration set for Thursday, January 31, from 4 to 8 p.m.

Altogether eight late afternoon and 16 evening courses will be offered to Newton residents. Included in the special series of courses is the opportunity to work towards associate degrees in data processing or electronics.

The eight late afternoon classes, which start at 3:30 and 4:20, include Fundamentals of Accounting, English Composition and Literature, Effective Speaking, Introduction to Art History and Appreciation, Elementary French, Elementary Spanish, General Physics: Light and Modern Physics, and General Physics: Laboratory.

Evening classes are Data Processing, Engineering Drawing, Introduction to Education, Electric Circuits, Fundamental Electronics, Electronics Laboratory, Communications Engineering, Advanced Electronics Laboratory, English Composition and Literature, Review of Mathematics, Introduction to College Mathematics, Integral Calculus, Psychology of Adolescence, Psychology of Personality, General Physics: Electricity and Magnetism and Imperialism in Africa and India.

Classes will be staffed by members of the regular college faculty, lecturers from neighboring colleges and universities and consultants in technical fields who will conduct a variety of first and second-year college credit courses and laboratories.

Copper Classes Start Tuesday

Morning and evening classes in handcrafted copper will be resumed on Tuesday, Jan. 22, when the Newton Recreation Department's mid-winter term gets underway.

The sessions will again be under the direction of Carl Ockerbloom, and will be held in the Burr Playground Building, Waverly Ave., Newton Corner.

The Tuesday classes will be held from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m.

Classes feature copper tooling, which includes lamp making, jewelry designing, the making of waste baskets, trays, platters, plaques and numerous other items.

Applications should be made as soon as possible at the Recreation Department in City Hall. Enrollment is limited, and there is a small fee.

Garden Club To Meet Tuesday

Allen H. Morgan, vice-president of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, will speak on "General Conservation Needs in Massachusetts" at a meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club in the Workshop, Columbus street, Newton Highlands, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22.

The talk, and an Audubon Society film, will follow a coffee hour at 7:30.

The club president, Mrs. Langill, will preside, and hostesses will be Mrs. Rose E. Langill, Mrs. John Arthur Samuelson, Mrs. Howard C. Hobbs, Mrs. Henry Nelson and Miss Priscilla L. Hayden.

Janet Stuart Guild Fashion Show Saturday

The Janet Stuart Guild of Newton College of the Sacred Heart will conduct a hat fashion show and tea in the Chapel Hall, on Saturday, January 19, at 2 o'clock. The Mildred Bailey Shop in Wellesley will show the latest spring selections. Kay Dolores Hogan will be the commentator.

Mrs. Willis Frisbee of Wellesley is chairman of the affair. Mothers of students will model. Mrs. John Curtin, Weston; Mrs. Cedric Callander, Newton; Mrs. Timothy J. McInerney, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Garrett Sullivan, Wellesley; Mrs. Thomas Heffernan, Dorchester.

Pourers for the tea will be Mrs. John McCarthy, Melrose, and Mrs. Edward Becherer, Newton.

Postage Boost Brings Rush Like Christmas

Post office workers in all the Newton branches, having survived the annual Christmas mailing rush, had to call on their "second wind" in order to cope with the heavy demand for stamps the hike from four to five cents for first class mail caused last week.

People who were let with a supply of fours lined up at all stamp windows to buy ones to make up their deficit.

Others, who asked for fives, got them until the supply ran out, and had to be contented with combinations of twos and threes.

The major cause of the five-cent stamp shortage was Friday's fire in the Boston General Post Office which destroyed requisitions from branches in the Boston postal district for enough of them to fill the expected demand.

The story in the various Gardeens City branches is best told in the following record of first day sales:

Newtonville — 25,000 one-cent stamps, 20,000 fives, 300 books of fives, 150 coils of fives, 30 $25 coils of them, and 2000 eights or air mail. Newton Highlands — 30,000 ones, 10,000 fives. Newton Centre — 75,000 ones, 30,000 fives and all the five-cent stamped envelopes in stock.

West Newton — 15,000 ones, 10,000 fives and coils of twos and threes after the supply of fives was exhausted.

Club Meeting In Combination

A combined meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and the Emerson PTA was held in the Emerson School all purpose room, High and Pettee Sts., Newton Upper Falls, Monday evening, Jan. 14, at 7:45.

Mrs. Ralph W. Hamilton, president, conducted a business meeting for the Woman's Club and Robert B. Proctor, president, presided at one for the PTA.

Mrs. Ann Verhulst showed movies and slides of a trip she made in her native Holland.

Mrs. Martin Daven was program chairman, Mrs. Donald Neanover, the hostess, and Mrs. Frederick L. Capen and Mrs. Louis E. Lopez, pourers.

Lasell Lauded By Accreditors

A three-member team of educators from other colleges who conducted a two-day inspection of Lasell Junior College to determine if it should continue to be accredited as a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, complimented Lasell on the healthy morale among faculty and students, on its well-arranged study program, and on the sound preparation available for students who do superior work or going to senior institutions.

Lasell was originally approved in 1938, and has been accredited ever since.

RICHARD M. LOCKWOOD

Newton Youth Selected For Africa Study

Richard M. Lockwood, of Newtonville, has been selected by Lehigh University as one of the undergraduates who will participate in the people to people program of Crossroads Africa, Inc., during the coming summer. The program is sponsored by the Crossroads Africa Committee of Arcadia.

Lockwood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman M. Lockwood, 28 Bullough Park, Newtonville, and is a graduate of Newton High School. He is a sophomore at Lehigh.

After completing a special readings course in African studies prepared by the Department of International Relations, at the University during the 1963 spring semester, Lockwood will spend the summer in Africa.

While in Africa, he will continue the study of the area's culture, economics, and politics while working with African students toward the satisfaction of some specific need of an African community.

Waban Rector To Join Church Of The Advent

The Vestry of the Parish of the Good Shepherd in Waban, at a meeting held recently, accepted with regret the resignation of the rector, the Rev. Nathaniel Treat.

Lockwood, who will become affiliated with the Church of the Advent in Boston.

The resignation is to be effective May 1.

Father Whitcomb, in a letter to the Wardens and Vestry, explained that he had accepted the invitation of the Rev. Samuel J. Wylie, rector of the Boston church, to join the clergy staff next July 15.

"This has been a difficult decision for me," he wrote, saying that "it is always difficult to sever a relationship that has been warm and fruitful."

He explained that the fact that the burden of his training and experience had rested with a ministry to graduate students and professionally oriented individuals was a major reason for his acceptance of the new post, and reminded them that he had always been concerned with the medical arts and therefore was eager to return to the field of medicine and religion.

"When I leave," he concluded, "we will have shared almost three years. They have been good years for me, richly blessed with friendships and the joys which only a pastor can fully understand."

Trains For Air M. P.

Airman Basic Victor F. Gigliotti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor F. Gigliotti, 19 Beech street, and a graduate of Newton High School, is attending a technical training course for air policemen at the Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Chosen For Govt. Day
Walter M. Furman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Furman, 50 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, a senior at Roxbury Latin School, West Roxbury, has been elected by his fellow students to represent the school at the State House on Student Government Day next April.

Furman takes a deep interest in politics, and plays on the school soccer team.

Survival School Is Planned By Scout District

A winter survival school has been scheduled at the Hidden Valley Scout Reservation, it was announced by Scout Commissioner Gunnar Koskinen at the January meeting of Scout leaders of North District, Norumbega Council.

In setting the date, February 17 through February 23, Mr. Koskinen stated that "this is a tough, rugged course that will teach one how to survive when lost in wilderness, as the course covers the basic fundamentals of what to do and when and how to do it in order to stay alive."

The school will be open to 24 Explorer and Senior Scouts of Norumbega Council, with eight boys coming from each of its eight districts.

Carlton E. Merrill, North District chairman, announced at the meeting that the Council Recognition Dinner would be held Wednesday, February 13, at Valle's Steak House. Two Silver Beaver awards will be made there in recognition of scout leaders' contribution to scouting. Frederick King is the dinner chairman.

It was announced by Roy Bowman that Troop 11 had been reactivated at Bigelow Junior High, and that Explorer Post 11 had been established at that school under the leadership of Warren Howe. Mr. Bowman also said that Cub Pack 301, comprising three dens, had been reactivated at the Cabot School, Newtonville.

Reports were also made by Russell Mack, institutional representative from Troop 24 of the Auburndale Congregational Church; James E. Fagan, camping and activities committee; Chester A. Phelan, district advancement chairman and from the new scout executive of Norumbega Council, Douglas Creighton.

Others in attendance were Gordon Wares, C. & A. Committee; Raymond Van Buskirk, Advancement Committee; Philip Rashway, institutional representative of Pack 307 of the Davis School; Robert Fray, institutional representative of Pack 306 of the Horace Mann School; Edmund G. Kling, institutional representative of Pack 313 of the Franklin School; Frederick Cole, camping and activities; James S. Mansfield, health and safety; and Jack Crosby, scoutmaster of Troop 324 of Auburndale.

Mr. Merrill stated that the next North District meeting of the Council would be held on Wednesday, February 6, and at that time information on the forthcoming sustaining membership campaign would be presented to the representatives of the 30 pack and troop leaders and representatives within North District.

The resignation is to be effective May 1.

Father Whitcomb, in a letter to the Wardens and Vestry, explained that he had accepted the invitation of the Rev. Samuel J. Wylie, rector of the Boston church, to join the clergy staff next July 15.

"This has been a difficult decision for me," he wrote, saying that "it is always difficult to sever a relationship that has been warm and fruitful."

He explained that the fact that the burden of his training and experience had rested with a ministry to graduate students and professionally oriented individuals was a major reason for his acceptance of the new post, and reminded them that he had always been concerned with the medical arts and therefore was eager to return to the field of medicine and religion.

"When I leave," he concluded, "we will have shared almost three years. They have been good years for me, richly blessed with friendships and the joys which only a pastor can fully understand."

REV. ROBERT J. BANKS

Clergymen To Take Part In Supper Here

"Religion in the Public Schools—Can We Find An Answer?" will be the subject of the first Supper Forum Meeting of the year sponsored by the Temple Emanuel Couples Club in cooperation with the Adult Education Committee, on Sunday evening, January 27, at 6:30 o'clock in the Temple Community Hall, 385 Ward street, Newton.

Taking part in the discussion will be the Rev. Robert J. Banks, S.T.T., the Rev. Dr. Forrest L. Knapp, and Mr. Gerald A. Berlin.

Rabbi M. David Weiss, associate rabbi at Temple Emanuel, will act as moderator. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross are chairmen for the program.

Rev. Robert J. Banks, S.T.L., J.C.D. is professor of Canon Law at St. John's Seminary in Brighton. He was ordained at the North American College in Rome and received his doctorate of Canon Law at Lateran University in Rome.

Dr. Forrest L. Knapp is general secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Churches which represents twelve Protestant denominations working together. He was chairman of the committee which prepared a study guide on the relations of church and state which has been widely used throughout the country.

Mr. Gerald A. Berlin is an assistant attorney general of the Commonwealth, has been an outstanding advocate of civil liberties and has lectured at local universities and law schools.

Temple Emanuel Couples Club is an organization of young married people carrying on a varied program of religious, cultural and social activities.

Graphic Reader Finds Purchases In His Car Trunk

A news story published in the Newton Graphic last Thursday produced prompt and happy results.

A Newton housewife who accidentally had placed three purchased articles in the trunk compartment of the wrong car had her property returned. An honest man promptly came forward with the news that the Graphic story had prompted him to take a look into his automobile trunk to discover the missing purchases.

Harold J. Bernstein of 8 Bonwood street, Newtonville, followed the suggestion in the Graphic and peeked into the trunk of his car. The three articles were there. They were returned to their owner, Mrs. Ethel Newstadt, 131 Langdon street, Newton, who had mistaken the Bernstein car for hers in the parking lot. They are identical Chevrolets.

The news story appeared in the Graphic on Thursday. Mr. Bernstein phoned Friday morning to announce his discovery.

Affidavit Holds Key To Award Of City Contract

Thomas J. Forde, city purchasing agent, has requested from R. Zoppo Company of Roslindale an affidavit stating that the concern has customarily performed the type of work required in a sub-contract to install the chemical and monitoring apparatus, plumbing and heating, at the fluoridation feeder stations for Newton's water supply.

Zoppo was the low bidder on the general and the sub-contract. The second low bidder and two sub-bidders had challenged the validity of granting both contracts to the one bidder, contending that Zoppo was not qualified to meet the terms of the sub-contract.

Forde said that on receipt of the affidavit he will recommend that the contract award be made to Zoppo.

Venezuelan Post For Newton Man, B.U. Professor

Dr. Saul B. Cohen, a resident of Newton and a Boston University geographer, has been called upon by the Central University of Venezuela to aid in Venezuelan commercial planning and development.

Dr. Cohen, a professor of geography at the University's College of Liberal Arts, left Friday, January 18 by plane for Caracas and the Central University to organize research problems in marketing geography at the request of the Central University and the Industrial Bank of Venezuela.

The research techniques and findings will be utilized in future planning by Venezuelan communities in commercial land use and retail store development.

Initial invitation was extended to Dr. Cohen by Dr. Tejera Paris, president of the Industrial Bank and professor of economics at the Central University in Caracas.

Dr. Cohen has been a member of the Boston University faculty since 1952 and has also served as consultant to several leading American firms in the field of store location planning. He received B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University.

Newton Vs. Waltham Court Battle Looms On Incinerator Site

The possibility of a Newton versus Waltham court fight looms as more of a reality this week, as the local Board of Aldermen voted to take by eminent domain three parcels of land, belonging to the City of Waltham, for the proposed City Incinerator.

With the threat of possible court action facing them, the Board of Aldermen Monday votes, 17-2, to start landtaking proceedings on the property located on the northeastern side of Rumford Ave., northwest of Lexington St.

It has been reported that Waltham contends the two acres of land in question, which that city owns, were purchased for recreational purposes and therefore cannot be taken. Newton, however, claims that the land has not been designated for any purpose.

The Aldermanic vote for the landtaking almost didn't happen Monday night. With five of the 24 members absent from the meeting, the meas-

Crime Having No Apparent Drop This Year

Although 1962 saw a slight drop in Newton District Court's criminal cases over those of 1961, according to a report to the state commissioner of correction by Clerk Edward J. Cronin, the year 1963 promises to be average in local wrongdoing, if the crime log for the past week is any indication.

Last Monday two young men, Robert A. Mitchell, 23, of Somerville, and Wilfred I. Penkethman, 23, of Stoneham, were held in $10,000 each by

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

An Uneasy Republican Peace Exists In House And Senate

An uncertain and uneasy peace exists among the Republican members in the two branches of the State Legislature. Dissension and dissatisfaction simmer just below the surface and could boil up into the open at any time.

The bitter fights which have been waged for the posts as GOP leaders in the Senate and the House have left scars and bruised feelings, with the Republican minorities in both bodies split into opposing factions.

Two weeks after Representative Sidney Q. Curtiss of Sheffield was reelected by the House Republicans as their spokesman, he narrowly missed getting the heave-ho in a revolt by the so-called Young Turks in the body.

Curtiss actually might have got the axe if the Young Turks hadn't insisted on a secret ballot when they probably would have had a better chance of deposing Curtiss on a rollcall in which each House member would have been obliged to stand up and record himself.

Things aren't much more serene among the 12-member Republican bloc in the Senate than in the 90-member GOP minority in the House.

Fred I. Lamson of Malden was dropped from his post as Republican leader in the Senate and hard-hitting Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton was elected to supplant him after a prolonged fight.

135 Classroom Goal In Plan To Rehabilitate High School

The proposed rehabilitation of Newton High School, expected to cost in the area of $4 million, will be a four-year project, it was revealed at Monday night's Board of Aldermen meeting.

Included in the overall plans, which were explained in general terms by Alderman Melvin J. Dangel, chairman of the Public Building Committee, is the demolition of the 75-year-old classical building, the oldest portion of the high school complex. It would be replaced by the construction of new facilities.

On Monday, the Aldermen took the final step toward the eventual rehabilitation of the city's oldest high school, by appropriating $20,000 "for partial payment to an architect for preliminary studies, costs and schematics for rehabilitation of Newton High School." The vote was 19-0 in favor.

Alderman Dangel listed the for the library and cafeteria. appropriation, based on a preliminary construction schedule as follows: 1964 through 1967 for renovation and construction work and NHS student population, the School Committee seeks a tober, 1968 for demolition of the classical building.

According to Dangel, facilities in five subject areas are now "inadequate" in Newton High School. They are science, industrial arts, music, art and physical education. In addition, further space is sought the Board for the $20,000 ap-last March.

Polio Immunization Drive In Final Days

Newton's all-out effort to make the community polio-free is in its final stretch with city residents having three more days to receive their Type I oral vaccines.

Seven adult clinics throughout the city will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. today (Thursday) and Friday. The final immunization session is a special makeup clinic from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the City Hall.

The vaccine, which is administered on a cube of sugar, is offered to all residents free of charge. A voluntary contribution of 25 cents is asked, but not required of persons taking the vaccine.

The committee hopes to administer a total of 30,000 vaccines this week in Newton. Last week, a total of 12,578 persons, predominantly children, received the vaccines at school clinics.

Officials termed the public response "good" for the first two nights of the clinics this week, with more than 3,000 persons showing up at the seven stations.

Chairman Monte Basbas reported that a total of 161 volunteers (23 at each clinic) are assisting each night this week. It's a wonderful thing to realize that more than 800 Newton people have volunteered their services for these weeknights clinics," he said.

Location of the seven clinics tonight and tomorrow is as follows: City Hall, Bigelow Junior High, Day Junior High, Meadowbrook Junior High, Warren Junior High, Weeks Junior High and Angier School.

Among the Newton organizations assisting the committee at the clinics are the New Chapter, American Red Cross and the Newton League of Women Voters.

Local Representation To Attend Relocation Bills Hearings Today

The City of Newton is expected to be well represented at a State House hearing on four relocation bills, including one filed by Newton's legislators, at 11 a.m. today (Thursday).

The purpose of these bills, which are similar in nature, is to extend to all persons and businesses affected by projects taking property by eminent domain, the same relocation benefits currently available only to those displaced by Urban Redevelopment projects, including adequate moving allowances to a Relocation Agency.

The latter expenditure is significant to Newton, since the cost will be borne by the projects taking the property and not, as is presently the case in Newton, by the city.

Several hundred Newton residents have been affected in recent months because of the Massachusetts Turnpike extension.

When questioned early this week, Mayor Donald Gibbs commented, "I subscribe to the principle of these bills. However, I do not know if my schedule will permit me to attend the hearings at the state house."

One of the bills was filed by Newton's State Senator Michael Galvin and Representatives Joseph Bradley and Irving Fishman.

Similar legislation was defeated by the General Court last session.

Of the 25 to 30 such bills filed this year, Attorney Edward L. Richmond of Newton Centre, legislative chairman of the Massachusetts Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, commented, "Many of them are similar, but this bill (the one filed by the local solons) is by far the best. It includes provisions that the Relocation Agency must insure the availability of decent safe and sanitary housing for displaced persons and also that any person affected by a taking would be able to apply for injunctive relief."

Eliot-Pearson School Friends Meet At Tufts

Friends of Eliot-Pearson School, college for teachers of young children at Tufts University, including parents of youngsters enrolled there, attended a discussion of the aims and methods of the new laboratory-demonstration school for children which opened last October.

The meeting, held yesterday (Wednesday) evening in the Tufts campus, was arranged by a committee that included Mrs. Douglas F. Farrington of 163 Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Henry D. Stevens of 96 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Edward Uehlein of 217 Varick road, Waban.

Dr. Evelyn Goodenough Pitzer, the school's director, described the ways in which the physical plant was specifically designed to meet the needs of a school for young children. She said the school was first a source of valuable experience for children, who learn under the guidance of experts in the field of early childhood education.

PAUL E. FAIR
Appointment Of Newtonite Is Announced

Church In Auburndale To Remodel

The Auburndale Congregational Church has announced a $55,000 expansion and renovation project for the church facilities.

The plans, overwhelmingly voted at the Jan. 17 annual meeting, call for renovation of the present parish house in a contemporary design, the erection of small new wings to house the church office, minister's study and an office for religious education personnel, as well as rooms for pre-school children from birth to five years of age.

The new building will release three larger rooms for children in the upper grades.

Members are currently working on fund-raising and other details. Construction is slated to occur during the spring and summer with completion in the fall. Tetsuo Takayanaki is the architect.

Charles S. Grover is chairman of the planning committee. Other members are Fair, formerly assistant advertising manager with American Sisalcraft Co., Attleboro, and has also served as district sales manager with the Airtemp Division of Chryslers Corporation.

He received a B.S. in Marketing from Boston University in 1951. He is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, and the Massachusetts Industrial Editors Association.

Initially Fair will have responsibility for the planning and execution of sales promotion programs for the products of Dewey and Almy's Polyfibrion (polymer-fibers) Division, which manufactures and markets industrial chemical specialties for the automotive, shoe, textile, printing and paper converting industries.

Fair lives at 20 Merton street, Newton. He and his wife, Janette, have three children, Peter 8, William 4 and Paul 3.

West Newton Women Meet

"Let Our Leadership Stand" was the subject of a program presented by Philip Cummings economics consultant, at the January meeting of the West Newton Woman's Club.

He was introduced by John N. Sullivan, vicepresident of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co., sponsor of the program.

Invited guests included Mrs. Anna Q. Walsh, assistant treasurer of the bank, members of St. Bernard's Guild, The Woman's Council of Second Church, Union of Baptist Women, Sisterhood of Temple Shalom and the Unitarian Alliance Club.

Miss Avis Walsh, club president, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, program chairman, commented on the February program. Mrs. Thomas S. Williams and Mrs. Frederick Whelpey were the social hour hostesses.

Judge James Mellon, after they pleaded innocent to charges of breaking and entering and larceny, having burglar's tools, and car stealing. The Stoneham man also claimed innocence on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on the arresting officer.

Thieves entered the home of Harry A. Stein, 31 Baldgate Hill road, Oak Hill, Saturday night, and made off with $100 in cash, wearing apparel, silverware and a clock. They left in their victim's car, which was recovered in Dorchester.

Early Sunday morning police discovered a break at the Sally Ann Restaurant, 187 North street, Newtonville. It had been entered on at least six other occasions. This time the loot comprised cigarettes and the contents of coin boxes in a juke box and a cigarette dispenser.

Paul V. Paris, 68 Pembroke street, Newton, reported that the battery was stolen from his car parked in the driveway Sunday.

Judge Mellon held James Yancey, 23, of 107 Hicks street, West Newton, in $500 bail Monday, after he pleaded innocent to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Police said he fired a 12-gauge shotgun to frighten his brother-in-law, Earl Dupee of 25 Douglas street, West Newton, Saturday afternoon. The case was continued to tomorrow (Friday).

Galvin Leads Fight Against 'Super Court'

Newton's Senator Michael J. Galvin this week led the fight which defeated the "Court of the Union" proposal by a 370 margin in the State Senate.

The proposal would have recommended to the U. S. Congress a Super Court, consisting of the Chief Justices of the 50 states, with the power to review and reverse decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court on the basic rights and liberties guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

Senate Leader John Powers, who appointed Galvin to lead the opposition, described the proposal as "the most important matter to come before the State Senate in 25 years."

The proposal was made by the Council of State Governments and was filed in 30 incoming legislatures throughout the country. Massachusetts was the first state to act on the proposal. It was the local legislature's first item of business for 1963.

Many Accidents Keep Hospital Staff Occupied

Mishaps in a wide variety of forms kept Newton-Wellesley Hospital's accident ward unusually busy this past week, with slippery conditions responsible for many of them.

The week's toll included the following:

John R. Fraizer, 30, of 7 River street, West Newton, was treated for a scalp laceration after his car skidded and hit the abutment of the Washington street bridge at Rte. 128 in Newton Upper Falls early Tuesday morning.

William Tracy, 20, of 6 Hagen road, Newton Centre, a filling station attendant, was treated for burns after a gasoline flareup that occurred while he was removing a car's gas tank. The accident was attributed to a cigarette.

Raymond Deshler, 51, a Brighton steelworker was taken to the hospital following a 20-foot fall into the basement at the new Star Market on Austin street, Newtonville. His injuries included a fractured arm and various cuts and bruises.

Esther Kent of 412 California street, Newtonville, was injured on the head and ankle as a result of a collision between her car with one operated by Naomi Pennell of Calvin road, at Lowell avenue and Calvin road, Monday night.

Donald P. Murphy of 496 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, employed on a city rubbish-collecting truck, was treated for a leg injury after a car skidded and hit the truck near 1564 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, Monday morning.

The weekend rain followed by a freeze caused a great number of automobile accidents and injuries to pedestrians who had trouble maintaining balance in the slippery going. Newton-Wellesley Hospital reported more than 20 cases treated, the majority of them coming during the morning rush hours.

Washington—President Taft brought the first automobile to the White House. It was a model propelled by steam.

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By JOAN MOFENSON

Lead roles in the Spring Musical production of "The Boy Friend" were announced recently by David Kaplan, music director at NSHS. The fifteen students who have lead roles and twenty-five others who have chorus roles, were chosen after several auditions. Most of the parts in this musical comedy, set in the "Roaring Twenties," require both singing and dancing talent.

The fifteen parts assigned are: Eunice Olderr, Maisie; Elaine Woo, Dulcie; Sandra Bryant, Fay; Vickie Gates, Nancy; Debbie Glaser, Polly Browne; Annetta Labourene, Madame Dubonnet; Paula Tannenbaum, Hortense; Fred Katz, Bobby Van Hesen; John Shapiro, Perival Browne; Donald DeLollis, Dony; Ronald Blattel, Lord Brockhurst; Rita Flanagan, Lady Brockhurst; Mark Edinberg, Marcel; John Strumwasser, Pierre, and Robert Andelman, Alphonse.

Three assemblies, one for each house, were held January 16, 18 and 22 to acquaint the student body with the purpose of the American Field Service program. Teri Porzecanski of Uruguay and Andy Wezeye of Uganda, both exchange students at South participated in a panel discussion during which they expressed their opinions and impressions pertaining to their stay in the United States. The assemblies closed with a singing of foreign countries.

Yvonne Baginsky, a NSHS Junior, has been chosen to spend the remainder of the year in Brazil as an exchange student. Yvonne was chosen by the AFS Committee members. She will leave February 9 to spend six months on the southern coast of Brazil.

In addition to the many students who participate in exchange programs with other countries, several teachers from South are contributing to the international programs. Robert Franke, NSHS math teacher, recently left for Nigeria on a two-year leave of absence where he will help staff a new six-year comprehensive high school.

In conjunction with the same program, Van Seasholes, social studies teacher, will leave for Nigeria next summer. Dr. Davidson, Newton South principal, helped set up the school last spring. The exchange is part of the "People Helping People" program of the U.S. Government through the Agency of International Development.

The Civics Commission of the Associated Council has planned a drive for the collection of books to be sent to the same Nigerian school system.

Under the direction of Wayne Altree, social studies department head, a Saturday morning seminar committee has been organized at which students will discuss various civic matters with local political figures. The first seminar will be February 9 in the school lecture hall on the subject of "Party Responsibility in Massachusetts."

Participating in the seminar program are Rick Radio, Jay Gold, Phil Kaplan, Lee Sherman and Jeff Karol.

A school store which sells book covers and other school supplies opened in the cafeteria recently under the direction of Miss Beverly Basile and Richard Avrich.

Registrations Being Taken For "Decisions"

Registrations are being taken for the World Affairs Council "Decisions 1963" discussion series to be given at Newton Junior College which will meet at the college every Monday night at 8 o'clock starting February 4th.

Among early signers was Mrs. William C. Custer, 275 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, international relations chairman of the Newtonville Women's Club. Seth Kalberg, Jr. is co-chairman of the program. Leo Judge, registrar of adult education at Newton Junior College, welcomed the early signers.

Other groups in the city are being formed at the Newton Highlands Women's Club under the direction of Mrs. John Locke, at the Central Congregational Church under the leadership of Stanley Johnson, at the Union Church, Waban, under the leadership of Mrs. Frederick Harvey, and at the Second Congregational Church under the direction of Mrs. Anton Fried.

Fact sheet kits for the discussion groups may be purchased at: Bookshelf, Inc., 325 Walnut street, Newtonville; Langley Book Shop, 1187 Centre street, Newton Centre; Elm Farm Market, Route 9, Newton Highlands; and Stop & Shop Market, Route 9, Chestnut Hill.

For additional information or to register, write or phone Registrar, Adult Education, Newton Junior College (W-Woodward 9-9570).

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By PAUL SHAPIRO

Jan. 10 was Bacon House Student Day at Newton High School as 153 students spent the day as housemaster, subject teachers, homeroom teachers, guidance counselors, secretaries and study-hall teachers. Each was chosen by the Bacon House faculty and each assumed responsibility for seeing that his individual chore was performed as it would have been by a faculty member.

Sharing the position of housemaster, normally held by Carl L. Swan, were Robert Alter, Stephen Brecher, Howell Carr, Peter Gifford, Chauncy Chu and Roger Matthews. Acting as student secretary were Wendy Phillips, Margaret Champion, Martha Saxton, Barbara DeMarco and Eileen Mann.

Guidance counselors were Eileen Toman, Howard Cohen, James Carolan, Daniel Von-Richtofen, Nancy Ingalls, Diane Schnider, Kathleen Flanagan, James Sandler, Miriam Calk, Richard Gouse, Martin Paris, Michael Gradone, Judith Chretien, Murray Both, Steven Glen and Vicki Ham-

A student assembly was presented under the direction of Karen Cohen. Featured performers were Irving Kornfield, vocal; Tomoko Sunikawa, violin; Marilee Wyman, vocal; Jim Bilezian, violin; Steven Gangi, accordion, and Bob Biederman and Bob Dietz guitars. General chairman for the entire student day was Judith Cossaboom.

A junior assembly was conducted Jan. 17, by Richard W. Mechem, Newton High principal, on college considerations. Mr. Mechem emphasized the importance of choosing the right college, pointing out that the prestige of a "name" school is worthless if the courses are not suited to a student's interests. He compared the choice of a college to that of a new home in that each is a type of investment and each involves consideration of expenses, location, structure and facilities. He also stated that acceptance to college is not an end in itself, meaning that hard work beings, not ends, as a student enters college.

The second speaker of the assembly was Robert H. Mitchell, guidance department head. Mr. Mitchell spoke on several excellent "small colleges" and, like Mr. Mechem, urged students not to spend time worrying about placement in "prestige" colleges.

Next, Miss Helen M. Finney of the guidance department talked briefly on the topics of college expenses, pre-college examinations and the importance of individual reading and writing.

During the question-and-answer period which followed, Mr. Mitchell explained that the most important attribute considered by colleges is day-by-day marks, although school activities, test scores, citizenship and individual talents are important also.

Recently-elected sophomore class committee officers are Jean Berman, chairman; Linda Shriber, vice-chairman; Diane Blumenthal, secretary and Jane Coleman, treasurer. Margie Levine and Cathy Muther were elected sophomore representatives to the Student Council.

Winners of "Bowler of the Week" trophies in the intramural tenpin bowling league thus far are Mike O'Toole, Howard Cohen and Barry Schlossberg. In the intramural basketball league, Adams House and Beals House were tied for first place with records of two wins, no losses, as of Jan. 17.

The Newton High School International Club invited all teachers and students to attend its Jan. 17 meeting which featured as guest speaker, William Griswold, who worked with refugees in North Africa and taught in Algeria. Mr. Griswold showed a short film during his discussion.

Reflections, the literary and creative magazine of both Newton high schools has been holding weekly meetings under the supervision of Tim Putnam, editor, and Thomas Wolf, faculty advisor, to establish a criterion for literary works submitted for the staff's approval or criticism as the year progresses.

"I wish you'd stop falling madly in love! It's hard enough doing your homework without having to do Janie Zimmerman's, too!"

New Xaverian High Is Accepting Applications For 9th Grade Boys

The area's newest and most modern college preparatory day school for boys, the Xaverian Brothers High School at 800 Clapboardtree street, Westwood, announces it is accepting applications for admission. The new $3,000,000 school opens its doors to approximately 250 freshmen in September of this year.

Admission is for boys who will complete the eighth grade in June. Only the ninth grade will be conducted the first year.

Placement examinations will be held Saturday, March 2 at St. Catherine's Grammar School, Norwood, at 1:30 p.m.

Application blanks for the placement examination may be obtained from: Brother Marcellus, C.F.X., 601 Winchester street, Newton Highlands 61, Mass. The deadline for return of application forms is Saturday, Feb. 16.

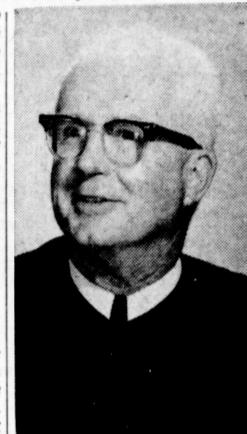

Bro. Marcellus, Principal-to-be of the new Xaverian High School, now is Principal of the Mission High School, Roxbury. He is one of the outstanding educators in this area and has taught in some of the leading Catholic educational institutions from Louisville, Ky., to Bangor, Me. His teaching field has been chemistry, biology, physics and radio. (He is a "ham" operator and his call letters are KILSZ.)

He is chairman of the New England Regional National Catholic Educational Association, and on the Archdiocesan level is chairman of the Science Fair Committee and the Science Syllabus Revision Committee. He is a member of many national professional organizations, but hastily adds that he is much interested in everyday activities, sports, news, etc.

Sports, of course, will be part and parcel of the new setup. There will be regular physical education classes and the new school will conduct an intramural and interscholastic athletic program in cooperation and competition with the Catholic and public schools of the area.

The new Xaverian High School's location on Clapboard street is one block north of Route 1A on the Norwood-Westwood line. It is a completely modern plant; contains 25 classrooms, plus special rooms for biology, physics, chemistry, languages, typing, engineering, drawing and music.

A public address system covers all sections of the school; open and closed TV will reach all the classrooms. Exclusive of the cost of the site, the new high school cost $2,300,000. The chapel is the heart and center of the school. Administrative and guidance offices are nearby, and also

Newton National Bank Honors 3 Former Directors

Three former directors of the Newton National Bank were honored at a recent meeting of the board by being elected Honorary Directors "in honor of their long years of service and valuable contributions to the growth of the bank."

The three, who were members of the board for a combined total of more than 90 years, are Walter R. Amesbury, Dr. Frank R. Clark and Vincent P. Roberts.

All three were original stockholders of the bank. In addition, Mr. Roberts was a member of the first board of directors in 1928.

Also elected at the annual meeting was S. Leroy Boudreau as assistant cashier. Mr. Boudreau, a lifetime resident of Newton, is manager of the Newton Centre office.

Other officers reelected were Louis G. LeBlanc, president; Charles E. Smith, vice president and trust officer; Albert W. Tocci, vice president and cashier; Wilfred Chagnon, vice president; John Balkus, comptroller; Robert L. Clinton, assistant vice president; Ellen R. Kavanagh, assistant cashier; Theodore L. Scafidi, auditor; Henry Van Unen, assistant trust officer and assistant cashier; George A. Monroe, assistant cashier, and George W. Stiglich, assistant cashier.

The board of directors for 1963 is as follows: Wilfred Chagnon, Orville O. Clapper, Donald L. Gibbs, Robert L. Gourley, Thomas R. King, Louis G. LeBlanc, Augustus J. Migell, Earl C. Mitchell, Murray E. Sholkin, G. Frank Smith and Howard Whitmore Jr.

Latin and French will be available to the boy for four years, with Spanish and Russian available for three. He also will have courses in the humanities, music, art and engineering drawing.

Each student will carry six subjects spread over a seven-year period.

Honor Award.

Judging for the honors awards was based on individual science project reports and a science aptitude examination, along with the general scholastic ratings and recommendations by teachers.

Examinations for 22,477 graduating seniors were requested for the current science talent search. Of this number, a total of 3,274 met all the qualifications for the judging. And, from this total ten per cent — or 327 — were selected for honor awards.

"All boys and girls awarded honors in the Science Talent Search are considered so outstanding that any institution of higher learning will be justified in considering their abilities carefully," a spokesman for the sponsoring firm said.

Barry's science project, which gained him the honor, was "Mathematical Theory of Scientific Explanations."

Court Battle.

The incinerator site would be closer to the West Newton residential area.

In the revolt, only Aldermen Joseph Bradley and Harry H. Ham balloted against Alderman Allard M. Valentine, who originally voted against the landtaking, and Tenant balloted in favor of the revolt.

Others in favor were Aldermen Ayransen, Ball, Carmen, Dangel, Dietz, Glovsky, Hicks, Hopkins, Hovey, Mann, Morang, Nixon, Ripley, Wood and Chairman Raupack.

He has long maintained an interest in the visual and psycho-educational problems of young people through his professional practice, teaching and research. He is a lecturer in psychology and education at Northeastern University Graduate School, and has a private practice in Brookline. For nine years he was consulting psychologist to the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

He is a Fellow of the American Academy of Optometry, a member of the American, Eastern, New England, and Massachusetts Psychological Associations, Fellow of the American Association on Mental Deficiency, Massachusetts School Psychologists Association, and other professional organizations.

Dr. Forsey At Y

Dr. Wallace Forsey, director of the Field Student Placement at Andover-Newton Theological School, was the guest speaker at the annual Clergymen's Luncheon at the Newton YMCA Tuesday. Dr. Forsey discussed "Impressions of the Educational Programs of Schools of Theology in the British Isles and on the Continent."

Lasell Sports Week-end Opens On January 31

Annual winter sports weekend of Lasell Junior College will be held on the Eastern Slopes of the White Mountains in New Hampshire during the first weekend in February.

Seventy-five girls will leave the campus in Newton on Thursday, Jan. 31, and return on Sunday, Feb. 3.

This sports weekend is a tradition started in 1899 at Lasell and follows the first semester examination period. This is the 64th annual trek.

Miss Muriel McClelland, asst. dean and director of physical education at Lasell, will accompany the students. This is her 25th year in planning and organizing these trips.

Gina Bachauer Gives Concert On February 1

Gina Bachauer, internationally known Greek pianist, will be the featured performer in a concert at the Country School auditorium in Weston at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1.

Madame Bachauer's concert will be the second presentation in the 12th season of Country Evening Concerts, Inc., series.

For her concert in Weston, she will play Toccata, Aria and Fugue in C Major by Johann Sebastian Bach; Sonata in E Minor by Franz Joseph Haydn; Sonata in C Major, Opus 53 (Waldestein) of Beethoven; Fantasia in F Minor and Three Etudes by Frederic Chopin, and Variations on a

City Works With SUPRAD On Problems of Education

(Ed. Note: This is another in a series of articles being published by The Graphic on Newton's public schools and the efforts being made to provide a higher quality of education for the city's children.)

Significant improvement in public education requires programs of thoughtful planning and effort on the part of many individuals and organizations working on many fronts. Three public school systems, including Newton and a university, Harvard, have cooperated over the past five years in attacking fundamental problems of education through SUPRAD, the School and University Program for Research and Development.

Over the years there have been numerous instances of public school-university efforts, locally and elsewhere. The most obvious and long-standing areas of mutual interest and effort have been those involving training personnel for service in public schools. In addition, there have been combined efforts in areas of research into teaching methods and curriculum development. Thus SUPRAD is by no means the first example of cooperative efforts, but it is unique in that it formalizes the efforts and provides for long term applications of Harvard-public school relationships to certain kinds of educational problems.

SUPRAD was established in 1957 upon the proposal of former Harvard Dean, Francis Keppler, now United States Commissioner of Education. Originally assisted by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, a grant from the Ford Foundation in 1959 furthered the support.

Joining with Harvard in this enterprise were the public school systems of Concord, Lexington, and Newton. Five years of co-operative efforts under SUPRAD have now transpired.

SUPRAD is not a research bureau with its own staff of researchers who work in the schools on occasion. Rather, it is a working arrangement which makes it possible for school and university people to plan, carry out, and evaluate research and development efforts together.

Inherent in the arrangement is the conviction that both the schools and the university should work together toward the improvement of education, and that neither can do the job as well by itself as the two working together.

Skills of team members are shared; isolation from colleagues is eliminated through the team approach — a situation particularly beneficial for new members of the staff. Echelons of teaching competence and remuneration are recognized in order to permit teachers to advance professionally without leaving the very area of proficiency in which they have demonstrated their capability.

The university has the resources of scholars from many disciplines, and emphasizes theoretical research and knowledge. The schools have the problems — and the staff who can bring a working knowledge of education to help solve them, along with the pupils and buildings which make "real" situations in which research and development can take place.

Administrative Board Establishes Policies

Governing SUPRAD and establishing its policies is an Administrative Board which includes the school superintendents of Concord, Lexington, and Newton; six members of the Harvard Faculty of Education; and the Executive Secretary of the New England School Development Council, an organization of 160 New England public school systems which share information about common problems.

An administrative staff carries out Board policy, makes budget and personnel recommendations, coordinate activities in the schools and the university, evaluates project proposals and budget requests, and recommends action to the Board.

Each project is directed by a committee whose chairman is the project director.

A basic requirement of SUPRAD projects is that they must deal with problems of mutual interest and importance to the schools and university. They must be expected to improve practice and add to the existing knowledge, not only in the specific situation in which they are conducted, but in other school systems as well.

Approved projects have ranged from short-term exploratory ventures to complex ones requiring many years to complete. School systems usually contribute a portion of the project cost by providing money, facilities, supplies, or staff time.

Concord provided the setting for a social studies project in which junior high school students were taught in a manner designed specifically to develop their ability to analyze contemporary national issues. Concord and Harvard personnel worked together developing and teaching a process of thinking aimed at strengthening the ability desired.

The project is now formally ended, but it lives on in the ideas and practices currently in effect at the school. A final evaluation is in process and will include statements regarding the implications of the project.

Life At St. Paul's Center On Radio Gets Keller Award

A radio presentation depicting life at St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center, 770 Centre Street, was cited this week by the American Foundation For The Blind.

The hour-long documentary titled, "World Without Sight" and presented by WBZ radio last November, received the Helen Keller award on Monday with special ceremonies held at a Boston hotel. The radio program was cited for bringing to the public a more realistic attitude toward blindness.

With the team teaching concept are being examined many of the traditional viewpoints existing in elementary education today. Instead of the usual arrangement in which a teacher teaches her class for all or most of the school day, teams of teachers take responsibility for the education of large groups of children. For example, eight teachers, headed by a team leader, work with 230 fourth, fifth, and sixth graders. The team plans together what will be taught to whom, and who will teach it.

The coveted award was presented by Dr. M. Robert Barnett, executive director of the American Foundation For The Blind and signed by the great humanitarian Helen Keller, to WBZ. It was accepted by Paul G. Friel, general manager.

Courtland D. Perry, assistant attorney general of Maine and a graduate of the St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center, was guest of honor and one of the principal speakers.

Mr. Kennedy went to the Rehabilitation Center and simulated the life of a blind man for two full days by blindfolding himself. He did what all other newly blinded men would do — learned to walk, eat, and orientate himself. He taped his experiences, commented on his emotional reactions in an interview with Reverend Thomas J. Carroll, and then wove the kernel of his recordings into an hour show on his series program PM. It was broadcast on November 19.

The award-winning documentary has been scheduled for re-broadcast on Program PM, (tonight) Thursday, January 24, at 9:30.

The projects cited briefly are but several out of the nearly two dozen projects being pursued to date. The past five years have seen a number of encouraging developments in school-university cooperation and improvement of the quality of education. Yet there remains much unfinished business — investigations bring forth still more questions to be answered. In the judgment of SUPRAD staff members, the task has only begun.

Other Newton SUPRAD projects have dealt with contract correctors in the high school, large group instruction, the use of records in teaching foreign languages and a study of behavior patterns in junior high school students.

The Women's Scholarship Association will feature an Art Festival "Highlights of Hibet" at the annual luncheonette meeting, to honor new members, at the Newton Centre Women's Club on next Wednesday, January 30, at 12 noon.

Edna Hibet, well known Boston artist, will give a demonstration of painting techniques at the meeting. Sally Marren, an artist's representative, will give the commentary.

Hostess of the afternoon will be Mrs. Morton Goldberg of Brookline. Hospitality will be given under the direction of Mrs. Sidney Sandler of Newton. The membership committee is headed by Mrs. Melvin Fields of Cambridge, assisted by Mrs. Melvin Safner of Newton, and Mrs. Jerome Roberts of Lexington. Mrs. Joseph Saklad of Belmont is association president.

Newton YMCA
Busy Schedule
For 'Y' Week

The Newton YMCA has a busy schedule of events listed for the final three days of its observation of National YMCA Week.

Today (Thursday) will be free guest day for the Women's Gym and Swim classes. Refreshments will be served at 11 a.m.

On Friday, two Church League basketball games are scheduled. Also planned is a sleep out in the gym for boys and a mothers' cheering section at the Father and Son Bowling League.

Events come to a rousing climax Saturday, with pie-eating contests, toboggan slides and skate exchange in the morning. In the afternoon, exhibitions in squash and handball will start at 2 p.m., while a judo demonstration by the boys' and men's judo club at 1 p.m.

Also at 2 a.m., a swim meet between the Newton and Cambridge Y swim teams is planned. At 3 p.m., there will be a tea and reception for adults in the Colonial Room.

A gymnastics and tableau demonstration by the Junior Leaders Club will take place at 4 p.m. A family swim and three Church League basketball games round out the Saturday program.

An American-Yiddish musical and comedy revue will be the second event in the social and cultural "Joy of Learning" series of Congregation Beth-El Atereth Israel, 561 Ward St., Newton Centre, at 8:15 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 27.

The revue's featured stars will be Israel and Esther Barenbaum. The couple come from Paris, where Israel was the producer and director of the Paris Art Theater, and his wife, Esther, was the star. They are veteran performers and have appeared with such luminaries as Molly Picon and Maurice Schwartz.

Following is the revised schedule of the remainder of the series:

Feb. 10 — Dr. Alexander Altman of Brandeis speaking on the "Anglo-Jewish Tradition."

Feb. 17 — Program to be announced.

Mar. 3 — Dr. Murray Levin will discuss "Is There a Jewish Vote?"

Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls Hold Science Meeting

The Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls of Newton Centre and Waban presented a special science program on Tuesday evening, January 22 at the Methodist Church in Newton Centre.

The program featured James Gillis, director of science for Meadowbrook Junior High School.

"Science Can Be Fun" was the theme of the program with demonstrations chosen for the junior high age group by Mr. Gillis. He presented a "Cross Section of Earth" showing the hottest and coldest gases on our planet.

Mrs. John Salemme's Junior Hi group from Auburndale were special guests of the meeting.

John Ward PTA
Meets on Monday

The mid-winter meeting of the John Ward PTA will take place at 8:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 28, at the school.

Full Schedule At Newton Community Center Is Set

Activities at the Newton Community Center are well underway as the new year is about to become one month of age. Anthony J. Bibbo, executive director, reports.

The most recent to be established was the golf school under the direction of Dan Meany, whose classes began yesterday (Wednesday) and will continue on successive Wednesday evenings for six weeks. A few vacancies remain in the adult classes.

Registrations are being taken at this time for the adult women's cake decorating and sewing classes. The cake decorating class, which is scheduled for evening sessions, will be conducted by Mrs. Ruth Lucas and will begin on March 6. Mrs. Marie Riccio will conduct the sewing classes which will be held on Wednesday mornings beginning March 20 and run from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m.

Afternoon program will soon have two new offerings. Youngsters from 7 to 12 will be treated to movies or some special event each Friday afternoon beginning at 4 and continue for one hour. Starting date for this activity will be February 2. Teeners are also in for a good deal of fun with regularly scheduled record hops due to get underway on Wednesday afternoon, January 30th. The minimum age for attendance at these informal dances will be 13. The hops will run from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m., under the supervision of Miss Carol Gorgone of the staff.

With two sessions now completed in the many arts classes, James Callahan, instructor for the groups, indicates a great deal of enthusiasm and interest by the boys. Among some of the techniques introduced to the boys was the art of self defense in boxing. Mr. Callahan plans to introduce some wrestling and exercise fundamentals in the coming weeks.

Sal Marrazzo continues to take children bowling each Saturday morning. He indicates that many of the boys and girls have made a good

NHS Hoopsters Win 2 Contests; NSHS Drops Pair

The basketball picture for Newton High School brightened considerably in the past week, as the Tigers scored a pair of wins. Across town, Newton South experienced a losing week, dropping both contests.

The improving Newton quintet followed up its 46-40 win over Newton South Friday, with a 47-40 victory over Weymouth Tuesday. Newton South, meanwhile, bowed to Brookline, 73-57.

This week finds Newton travelling to Rindge for a Friday contest and then hosting Brockton on Tuesday. The Southies journeyed to Arlington on Friday and returned home against Weymouth Tuesday.

In this past Tuesday's game, Newton spurted for big 20 points in the final period to overcome Weymouth. Going into the fourth quarter, the locals trailed 30-27. Top scorers for the winners were Capt. Jeff Hicks and Mickey Beard, with 11 each, and Steve Freidus, with 10.

The Newton South-Brookline contest was anybody's game until the final quarter, when Brookline poured 21 points through the basket, while holding the locals to 10. Paris was South's top scorer with 17, while White had 13 and MacLean tallied 12.

An overflow crowd last Friday saw Newton put on a wild finish to overcome their crosstown rivals. The outcome was in doubt almost to the very end. Again it was a big fourth quarter which gave Newton the win, as they tallied 19 to South's 12. South's McLean led all scorers with 18, while Beard and Rosenberg had 10 apiece for the winners.

The council has over 2,600 boys and adults in Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring. One of the major functions of the council is the training of scout leaders, and served by the new agency are Brookline, Wellesley, Framingham, Waltham, Natick, Sherborn, Sudbury, Wayland and Weston.

Newton members of the new agency's board of directors are Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Robert L. Clinton, Mrs. Felix W. Knauth and Murray E. Sholkin. The Newton incorporator is Robert L. Clinton.

Complexion — dependent on many factors. Food habits, toxicity of the blood stream, exercise, and, of course, the individual's personal care are all involved.

Some complexions suffer from excessive amounts of oil; the danger spot being primarily in the triangular area formed by the nose and chin. Make-up tends to cake in this area and enlarged pores and blemishes occur.

Local winners were Freedman, Golder, Daniles and Hartman, while playing to draw were Sherman, Goldman, Bert and Norman.

The team this year shows a record of 5-1, with wins over Brookline, Newton, Cambridge Latin, Boston English and Saugus. Its only loss was to Arlington.

The regional program went into effect Jan. 1, with headquarters at 74 Walnut street, Newton. The Family Service Bureau of Newton, Inc., and three other agencies participated in the formation of the new bureau. All four will continue to function but will jointly provide regional services through the new organization.

The blow not only entails prospective unemployment for the crews and shorebased personnel operating the three vessels involved, but the elimination of a valuable Civil Defense emergency evacuation facility. It will deprive residents and industries on Long Island of the only direct connection with the mainland except through congested metropolitan areas.

TEEN-TIME
TOPICS

By DOT DUNN

Dear Dot,
I am 17, almost 18. I am a college freshman. I've been dating a boy (Mac) from my high school graduating class for more than a year. I've been going "steady", yet not "steady" with him.

Recently I invited him to a formal at my college. He accepted but he did mention that his mid-year exams were rather near. He also made it very clear that he could spare the time.

One week later — just casually — he told me he'd not be able to go. He said that his studies were pressing. Believe me my reaction was just plain furious. Even my parents were upset.

After cooling down, I took the 'bull by the horns' and asked a former boy friend. Do you know when I told Mac about this, he was wild, furious and hurt? Now I get a letter each day (his college is out of state) telling me to be sure to have a good time.

In these communications he mentions that he is about to present me with a friendship ring. I am not ready to accept such a ring from any boy, even if I were so inclined, my parents would frown upon such an idea.

My question is do you think it is wise for me to stick to number one boy for the remainder of my college year or should I continue to date other boys as well? A.F.

Dear A.F.
I am told that many teenagers go steady to be certain that they have an escort for important occasions. This may have been some of your reasons for dating Mac while you both were at the same school.

Now that you are separated, both by distance and different schools, your real problems are looming.

Why not keep this friendship as it is. Be sure to explain this to the boy. This separation may offer you a good way to develop other relationships. Even if it proves that this boy remains top man in your life, you will keep alive socially.

Because you do have some doubts at this moment on whether to go steady, you may find yourself asking, "How can I get rid of good old Mac."

Dear Dot,
I am 16. I feel that I have a very real problem. It's my teeth. They are not the best looking in this world. In fact, I think, when I smile, I could pass as a bottle opener.

My dentist suggests braces, I have a friend who wears a set. It's really brutal the way he is so often the butt of many jokes on the matter. I'm wondering if braces would be worth all the struggle I will have to go through. What do you think? Bucky.

Dear Bucky,
Truthfully it doesn't matter how old you are. I've known some adults who have worn them. If I were you, I'd get them P.D.Q. The only thing you should be considering is how to foot the bills.

If anyone laughs now, just laugh right back. We have to take just so much kidding in this man's world before we mature enough to realize that we are honestly having the most fun. It may be because it's at our own expense. Just think you'll be accomplishing two important goals. You'll straighten out both your teeth and your sense of humor. What a victory. Good luck.

Dear Dot,
My brother has a police radio, which he keeps in his own room. It's a very nice radio, I admit. I have nothing against the police department, but that radio is blasting through the house night and day. I honestly believe my brother has become some kind of addict.

He never shuts the thing off. This has got to stop. Isn't it illegal or something? What can I do? J.O.'s

Dear J.O.'s,
You certainly appear to have a noisy problem. Of course there is nothing illegal about owning or using a police receiver. Even if it were illegal, I hope you wouldn't want your brother dragged away.

Naturally he should turn down the volume! I'll bet if you tried the word please a few times it might soften him up. How about the rest of your family? How do they stand it?

Diane Ward Becomes Bride Of William Arthur Harting

Now making their home in Dedham are Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Harting (the former Diane Mary Ward), who were united in marriage at a recent double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Ernest Woodworth in the West Roxbury Congregational Church. A reception followed at the Holiday Haven in Norwood.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Ward of 56 Sherbrooke street, West Roxbury, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white silk taffeta gown fashioned with a circlet neckline, long tapered sleeves and a crushed cummerbund. Alencon lace appliques highlighted her bell-shaped skirt which terminated in a full court train.

Her veil of elbow length French illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and crystals, and she carried her Rainbow Bible decorated with white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Eleanor White of West Roxbury was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Dianne Benjamin of Roslindale, Miss Cynthia George of West Roxbury, Miss Susan Harting of Roslindale, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jean Trenholm of Hampton, N.H.

Pretty Home Wedding Unites Miss Anderson-Mr. Petersen

Now making their home at 22 Maple street in Norwood are Mr. Frederick John Petersen and his bride, the former Miss Carol Jean Anderson of 69 Oakland avenue, Auburndale.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Earl C. Andersen of Baltimore, Md., and the late Mrs. Andersen. Mr. Petersen is the son of Mrs. Vivien Petersen of Norwood.

The pretty winter bridal took place at a 8 o'clock evening ceremony in the Auburndale home of the bride's aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Mark.

The single-ring service was performed by the Rev. Eugene Meyer of the Auburndale Congregational Church. A reception followed.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of peau jolie. Her fingertip illusion veil was caught to a becoming headpiece. Her flowers were white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Louise Anderson of New York City was matron of honor for her sister-in-law.

er of the groom; Mr. Paul Toomey of Scituate, Mr. David Haskell of Malden, and Mr. Joseph Santora of Brockton.

Young Bruce Mason of Lewiston, Me., served as ring bearer.

The bride was graduated from Roslindale High School and attended Mount Ida Junior College. She is presently employed at the General Electric Company in Newton.

Mr. Harting also graduated from Roslindale High School and is a senior at Northeastern University, where he is editor of the school paper. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harting of 95 Ardale street, Roslindale.

The newlyweds went to New York and the Berkshires for their honeymoon trip.

He is returning to the faculty after retiring last June as a member of the daytime staff in order to devote full time to business activities.

Naturally, if you could provide moisture in the air so that this drying out did not happen, nature could continue the cleaning of nasal passages, thus avoiding much of your upper respiratory ailments and colds during the winter heating season.

Closely allied to health is the matter of personal comfort. Almost everyone has had a dry, tickly nose in winter. Or they suffer from itchy, chapped and scaly skin. Humidification can help relieve and prevent these discomforts caused by dry air.

Another harmful effect of winter dry air is the damage,

Archie Whitman Scores Win Over Archie Whitman

City Treasurer and Collector Archie Whitman defeated himself at the Board of Aldermen's meeting Monday night.

When it came time for the board to elect a city treasurer and collector for a year, the name Archie R. Whitman was the only one put forth. However, one Alderman suggested that he should be listed as Archie Roy Whitman for complete identification.

Following Mr. Holmes' tally, Laurence Martin, formerly of M.I.T. and a participant in many Channel 2 discussions, will moderate a brief panel discussion among the three speakers. There will then be approximately an hour for a lively audience question period.

In any event, it means that Mr. Whitman will continue in the posts which he has held since November, 1947.

A resident of 15 Ithaca Cir., Newton Lower Falls, he became a city employee in November, 1944, when he was named assistant to the city treasurer. The following April, he was named comptroller of accounts, a post he held until becoming treasurer and collector.

NHS Track Squad Wins; South Bowls

It was the same old story in the local high school track scene last Saturday—Newton High won and Newton South lost.

Newton High racked up four straight wins, without a loss, of the season, with an easy 44½-21½ victory over Malden. Winless Newton South dropped its fourth of the season, bowing to Cambridge Latin, 47-30.

Newton remains in a first-place tie with Rindge in Division One, while Newton South is at the bottom of Division Three.

The Met League duals meets have a week off Saturday, with the State track meet on tap.

Valentine Ball To Benefit Newton-Wellesley Hospital

The traditional Valentine Ball, sponsored by the Junior Aid Association of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, will be held this year to raise funds for a new instrument preparation service at the hospital.

This colorful social event will be held on February 8th at the Newton Armory. It will focus the efforts of many people from Newton and Wellesley not only on a brilliant evening but also will help launch the hospital project.

According to Mr. William Barnes, director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, such an instrument preparation unit would permit all instruments used in the hospital, either in operating rooms, in the emergency department, the delivery rooms, or on patient floors, to be cleaned, repaired and sterilized in one central place.

Among those working for the success of this party are Mrs. Kevin Hughes, Mrs. Eugene Halloran, Mrs. Robert Wise, Mrs. J. Marshall Leydon, Mrs. Thomas Kelleher, Mrs. Richard Husseb, Mrs. Fred King, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Robert Griffin, Mrs. Reed Rollins, Mrs. Claude Maichen, and Mrs. William Follett.

Victorian background of hearts and flowers will transform the Armory into a romantic setting, but it has been decided that arrangement of the flowers will not be left up to the Armory's regular occupants. Don Russell will play from 10 until 2 with his recording band. Round tables are arranged to seat ten, and reservations, which are being handled by Mrs. Thomas Franks of Wellesley, will close on January 31.

Beauty Garden Salon Opens At Cleveland Circle

The most exciting, exotic, more especially beauty salons, Boston's newest and smartest beauty salon. The Beauty Garden, 1912 Beacon street, Cleveland Circle, Brookline, opened its doors to the public last Saturday morning, Jan. 19, and received a hearty and most enthusiastic welcome from the host of customers.

Saturday night over 600 invited guests were on hand to view this spacious, beautiful new salon and to compliment the owner and staff on their accomplishments.

A completely new concept in Beauty Salon decor has been especially created to provide the ultimate in luxury and styling for the discriminating in taste. Over 10 months of meticulous planning has produced a living concept emphasizing every possible comfort and convenience.

The Beauty Garden's elegant decor has been created by an authority famous for beauty salon interior and design. You will delight at the dramatic and color richness of the distinctive walls and paneling.

The Beauty Garden boasts of its private and semi-private booths, which above all else assure personal privacy . . . luxurious drying lounges, enveloping air-conditioned dryers, eliminating heat and discomfort, yet its gentle soft breeze dries your hair in minutes.

Each booth in addition to its privacy is equipped with color magic harmony, soothing to your nerves as you relax in most comfortable hydraulic chairs. Both heat and air conditioning are automatically controlled all year round. And the most rewarding of all is the installation of scientifically controlled equipment designed to destroy any bacteria wherever present. This innovation is recognized as a tremendous step in the field of science and art.

Political Highlights

The Republicans are more civil and coolly polite in feuding among themselves than are the Democrats. They don't go around shouting and screaming. They are more restrained when it comes to hurling verbal brickbats.

But where the Democrats blow off steam and forget their quarrels more quickly, the Republicans harbor their feuds. There are Republicans in Massachusetts today who pass each other in icy silence because of an argument they had at the GOP State Convention back in 1936.

So the GOP House members who sought to oust Curtiss as their leader and the Republican Senators who opposed the election of Graham as their spokesman will sit back and wait for them to make a major mistake.

Graham's position is more secure than that of Curtiss. A group of Republican Senators sought out Graham and persuaded him to stand against Lamson because they felt the latter was not forceful and aggressive enough. The blunt, outspoken Graham is sufficiently forceful and aggressive to satisfy the most ardent and partisan Republican.

Lamson will wait for the right issue on which to engage in a public clash with Graham, but even then he will not be able to muster the support to strip the rugged Hamilton Senator of his mantle as leader.

It's different, however, in the House. There a sword hangs over Curtiss. One wrong move by him, and it will drop on his neck, for the Young Turks, some of whom could qualify as middle-aged Turks, realize they made a strategical error at a critical point in their fight to knock out Curtiss. If another opening presents itself, they'll try again.

The reason given publicly, of course, for the dissatisfaction a substantial number of House Republicans express with Curtiss' leadership was that he didn't join with Governor Peabody in the battle to prevent John F. Thompson's reelection as Speaker.

Actually, the feeling against Curtiss goes deeper than that. The GOP House rebels believe that Curtiss is not a strong, effective leader.

To a degree that's true. In fairness, however, Curtiss is confronted with a political problem. He can't fight every proposal made by a Democratic Governor without leaving the House Republicans open to the charge of obstructionism.

Neither can he work hand in glove with a Democratic Governor, as some of the GOP dissidents wanted him to do in the Speakership struggle.

One humorous aspect to the fight to depose Curtiss was that some of the Curtiss critics argued that they wanted a younger and more vigorous spokesman. It developed that Representative William I. Randall whom they backed against Curtiss is two years older than Curtiss.

Curtiss could achieve a greater degree of harmony between the two Republican factions in the House if he named Randall as his assistant floor leader or whip. Whether the bitterness and mistrust between the two groups is too strong for such a move appears uncertain.

Furcolo Radio Talk Causes Conjecture

Former Governor Foster Furcolo insists that he has no present intention of standing for public office again. But on the Gerry Williams show recently he sounded very much like a man who is leaving the door open to a possible political comeback attempt.

Furcolo now has been back in private life a little more than two years after a career that saw him serve as Congressman, State Treasurer and Governor.

He went out of office disappointed and disillusioned, rejected by the voters of his own party when he sought the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Furcolo has been hurt even more both by the poor image of his administration created by the disclosures of the corruption which occurred while he was in office.

In all the investigations, however, there never has been any evidence which linked Furcolo in any way with any dishonest or corrupt action.

It all adds up to the fact that the task of rebuilding the Republican party in Massachusetts is made more difficult by the strife and discord between the GOP legislative factions. It also points up the lack of a strong overall leadership at the top of the GOP.

It all adds up to the fact that the task of rebuilding the occurred at certain levels in State agencies any more than ex-Governor Herter should be held accountable for alleged shakedowns by right-of-way negotiators when he headed the State government and John A. Volpe was the State Public Works Commissioner.

Yet, the things which happened while he was Governor unquestionably would hamper a comeback move by Furcolo if he were to decide to return to the political arena.

But Furcolo is still young. He is an exceptionally good speaker, has a pleasing personality, and conceivably might fight his way back to the position of prominence he held only a relatively short time ago.

If he were to return to politics in the reasonably near future, he undoubtedly would be obliged to set his sights below the Governorship or the U. S. Senate. Whether he has any such ideas is something only he knows. However, he sounded like Foster Furcolo, the politician, on the Williams show.

Volpe's Silence Only Temporary

A number of readers have asked why ex-Governor Volpe dropped out of sight so suddenly after walking down the State House stairs on inaugural day and seemingly passing into oblivion.

The answer is that Volpe has gone on a vacation cruise with his thoughts, his memories and his regrets.

There are conflicting reports as to the part Volpe will take in political affairs when he returns home.

Some persons close to him indicate that he will assume a position as titular leader of the Republican party in Massachusetts, will speak out on public issues and begin laying the groundwork for another bid for the Governorship in 1964.

Others assert that Volpe probably will seek a return fight with Governor Peabody next year but that he is likely to remain rather quiet this year and launch his campaign about 12 months from now.

Volpe will be confronted with the problem of overcoming the unfavorable impression created by the wheeling and dealing with the Governor's Council in the closing stages of his administration before he can hope to successfully negotiate the political comeback trail.

Legislative Hearings Have Familiar Ring

As the tempo of legislative activity begins to pick up on Beacon Hill, battles are either developing or shaping up on the same issues which were the subject of bitter controversies last year and the year before and the year before that.

Except in unusual instances the results in the Legislature will be the same.

Millions of words will be spoken and thousands of dollars and hundreds of hours wasted as Massachusetts citizens exercise their right of free petition and their privilege of appearing before a legislative committee to speak their pieces on measures doomed for defeat.

There will be widely publicized hearings marked by flourish, fanfare and farce such as the one on the sweepstakes bill. And there will be the smaller, quieter hearings attended by only a handful of persons.

Spokesmen for labor and industry will engage in the same must act on every bill filed by every citizen.

In New York and numerous other States the law-makers convene for a period of weeks, then go home, leaving hundreds of important bills bottled up in committees or in somebody's pocket.

DEATHS

Thomas J. Browne
A Solemn Requiem Mass for Thomas J. Browne, 80, of 38 Court street, Newtonville, a Hood Rubber Co. employee until his retirement in 1941, was celebrated in Our Lady's Church on Jan. 21. He died Jan. 17.

He was born in Ireland, and had lived in Newtonville for 50 years.

Mr. Browne was a member of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady's Parish.

Surviving are a nephew, Thomas H. Browne, with whom he lived; two brothers, Michael and James Browne, both of Ireland, a grand nephew and a grand niece.

Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Philip Gorgone
A Requiem Mass for Phillip Gorgone, 83, of 18 Cottage place, West Newton, was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church last Friday. Mr. Gorgone died in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

He was a native of Italy, and had been a Newton resident for 42 years, and was a member of the Christopher Columbus Society of Newton.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Gaetana Astone of West Newton, Mrs. Mary Umbrino of San Gabriel, Cal., Mrs. Rose Cetrone of Sudbury, and Mrs. Grace Cerra. Mrs. Carmela Murphy and Mrs. Ann Pila, all of West Newton; two sons, Basil Gorgone of West Newton and Antonio Gorgone of Waltham, 29 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Charles C. Levy
Funeral services for Charles C. Levy, 66, of 335 Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, were held in Boston on Jan. 21.

Mr. Levy, a retired Boston hotel man, died at his home last Thursday. He was a Boston native, and during his career had managed the Touraine, Westminster, Vendome Hotels, but had been in retirement since 1957.

A sister, Miss Cora R. Levy of Newton, survives. Burial was in Sharon.

Helen T. Cohen
The funeral of Mrs. Helen T. Cohen, 46, of 90 Hanson road, Newton Centre, was held in Boston last Friday.

Mrs. Cohen, prominent in scientific circles, died Thursday in the New England Deaconess Hospital.

She was a Boston native, and a 1937 Radcliffe graduate. She served in the Army during World War II, doing electric work, and wrote an Army technical and training book. The war over, she joined MIT's radiation laboratory, and in 1948 she was named assistant to the engineering vice president at the laboratories for electronics. Later, she became a data authority on radio astronomy, and was a technical editor at Wentworth Institute.

A prolific writer, Mrs. Cohen's career as an author was devoted for the most part to scientific subjects, but on the occasion of her Radcliffe class' 25th reunion she helped write a musical comedy for the affair. Last year she co-authored a published research report on radio measurements of two total eclipses.

She belonged to Temple Sinai in Brookline, and the Newton Chapter of Hadassah, and also of New England Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Surviving are her husband, Robert L. Cohen; a son, Mark Cohen; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Wenetsky of Mattapan and three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Gordon of Mattapan, and Mrs. Selma Schneider and Mrs. Evelyn Cohen of Newton.

Burial was in Sharon Memorial Park.

Ernest F. Doyle
Services for Ernest F. Doyle, 65, of 224 Eliot St., Newton Upper Falls, were conducted by the Rev. Francis F. Crisci of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church at the Eaton Funeral Home, Needham, yesterday (Wednesday).

Mr. Doyle, a Newton native, died Monday in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton.

He was a member of Home Lodge, I.O.O.F., Newton Upper Falls.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Gladys L. Doyle; a son, Ernest F. Doyle, Jr., of Needham; two brothers, Charles of Medfield and Frederick Doyle of Brockton; and two sisters, Mrs. Malvina Hannington of Norwood and Mrs. Viola McDougal of Belmont.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

William J. Maloney

A solemn high Mass of requiem for William J. Maloney, 65, of 16 Carol Rd., Needham, World War I veteran and retired Newton police officer, was offered in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, yesterday (Wednesday).

Mr. Maloney died suddenly at home Monday morning. He was born in Newton and had lived here until moving to Needham five years ago.

In World War I he was a sergeant in the 101st Field Artillery, Yankee Division. He was a member of the Newton Police Benefit Association, and former chairman of the United Veterans Organization of Newton. Also, he belonged to the Newton Retired City Employees Association, was a former member of American Legion Post 48, and a member of Fr. Farrell Post, D.A.V., and past commander of the Eugene Daly Post, V.F.W.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Florence A. (Fisher) Maloney; four sons, Walter H. of Bedford, William J. Jr., of New Mexico, Eugene T. of Ingewood, Calif., and Philip Maloney of Stow; two daughters, Mrs. Sandra S. Anderson of West Newton, and Dorothy H. Maloney of Needham, and a brother, H. Wallace Maloney of Newtonville.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Marion Helm

Funeral services for Mrs. Marion (Willard) Helm, 64, of 21 Furbush Ave., West Newton, were conducted by the Rev. Ross Cannon and the Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwell in the Second Church in Newton today (Thursday).

Mrs. Helm, a native of Springfield, died Monday in Newton-Wellesley Hospital. She was charter and life member of Isadore Forbes Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Springfield.

She leaves her husband, Walter J. Helm; a son, Robert W. Helm of Needham; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley H. Lassalle of Newton; a brother, C. Albert Willard of Orland, Fla., and four grandchildren.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Katherine Shea

A requiem Mass for Mrs. Katherine (Dunne) Shea of 106 Dane Hill road, Newton Highlands, was celebrated in Our Lady's Church on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The Rev. John J. McNally was celebrant assisted by the Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, pastor, who was deacon and the Rev. Francis L. Gallagher sub-deacon.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Margaret M. Ransom

A high Mass of requiem for Mrs. Margaret M. (MacNeil) Ransom, R.N., who formerly worked at 35 Brooks Avenue, Newtonville, was celebrated in Our Lady's Church on Tuesday, Jan. 15.

Celebrant was her cousin, the Rev. Edmund M. Gannon of Our Lady's of the Angels Church, Worcester.

Seated in the sanctuary were the Rev. John Savage of Washington, D. C., and the Rev. Thomas J. Reddy, O.F.M., Provincial House, Jamaica Plain. Present were nurses from St. Elizabeth's Hospital Nursing School, Boston City Hospital and the Worcester State Hospital.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury, with prayers by Fr. Gannon and Fr. Savage.

T. F. Coppington

Is Honored By Elks Of Newton

A testimonial dinner for Thomas F. Coppington, who had served the Newton Lodge of Elks as secretary for 33 years up to his retirement last April, was held last Saturday on the Lodge Home, 429 Centre street.

In addition to his service here, Mr. Coppington has been secretary of the Massachusetts Elks Association for 22 years.

Past Exalted Ruler Walter Kearn, who acted as toastmaster, read telegrams of congratulation, and Past Exalted Ruler Franak Lovely read a letter received from Mr. Coppington's daughter and son-in-law, stationed in Germany. Mr. Lovely also presented the honored guest with a purse and plaque commemorating the event.

Honorary chairmen for the affair were Mr. Kearn, Mr. Lovely and Esteemed Leading Knight Richard Brennan.

At the head table were Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Past Exalted Grand Ruler John E. Malley and Judge John Fenton of the Massachusetts Land Court, Judge and Mrs. Francis Lappin, State Elks Association President William Burke of Hudson, Grand Esteemed Leading Knight Edward Spry of Boston, Miss Mary Coppington, the Rev. T. Coppington, the honored guest's nephew Mr. Kearn, Exalted Ruler and Mrs. W. Edward Wilson, Mr. Lovely and Mr. Brennan.

Among other guests were Rep. Joseph G. Bradley of Newton, Rep. Peter G. Asaf of Brockton, Rep. Joseph E. Brett of Quincy, Rep. John W. Whittemore of Newton, and the following Newton Past Exalted Rulers: Oswald J. McCourt, John Keefe, Hugh Boyd, Stephen O'Brien, Arthur Brouillet, Michael DeGeorge, Charles Burgess, James Boyle, William Earle and Malcolm McVarish.

Dancing followed the dinner.

Dr. Greenblatt Is Named Head Of State Hospital

Mr. Milton Greenblatt, 11 Burnside road, Newton Highlands, has been named superintendent of the Boston State Hospital, effective April 1.

Dr. Greenblatt is currently an assistant clinical professor of psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School. Since 1946, he has been director of laboratories and research of the Massachusetts Mental Health Center and also was its director of clinical psychiatry for four years.

In his new post, he will succeed Dr. Walter E. Barton, who is retiring from the state hospital position after more than 31 years of service in the Commonwealth's Department of Mental Health. In 1951, Dr. Greenblatt won the Hofheimer Prize for the best research. He is a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association, chairman of the APA's committee on research and a member of its contact survey board that advises on statewide hospital program planning.

His many affiliations include Harvard School of Public Relations and consultant to the Boston, Togus, Bedford, Brockton and Northampton V.A. Hospitals. Dr. Greenblatt is on the courtesy staff of Beth Israel and Bournewood Hospitals and is the author of more than 160 articles and 11 books and monographs, all dealing with clinical aspects of care of the psychiatric patient or with research studies of a more basic nature.

A native of Boston, Dr. Greenblatt received his A.B. degree, summa cum laude, with special honors in biology from Tufts College in 1935. Four years later, he graduated cum laude from Tufts Medical School.

His internship was served in general medicine at the Beth Israel Hospital. He was also the Charleton Research Fellow and an instructor in physiology at the Tufts Medical School at the time. Dr. Greenblatt received his psychiatric training at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center, formerly the Boston Psychopathic hospital. He was named director of the Electroencephalographic Laboratory in the early 1940's.

CITIZENS RALLY FOR ROAD EVICTEES

23,565 Are Immunized Against Polio

City Clerk Monte G. Basbas and those assisting him in the two-weeks polio immunization campaign here, expressed great satisfaction at the number of persons who came to the clinics for the oral doses of Sabin Type 1.

The total figure was 23,565. Following is the breakdown:

Number of children at the weekly clinics: 684.

Doses administered to adults at the weekly clinics: 10,303.

Pre-school children at the school clinics: 779.

School children: 9943.

School personnel: 1090.

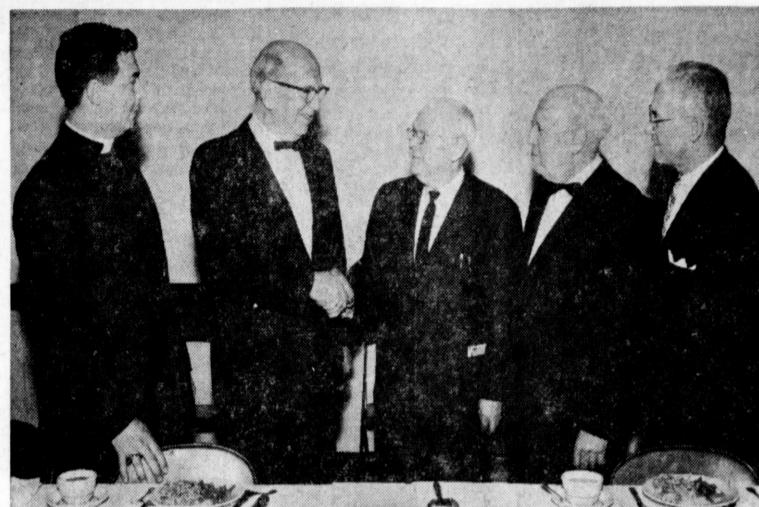

Parents of school children: 766.

Mr. Basbas expressed gratitude to all those who participated in the project, the city employees, Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, League of Women Voters, Newton Red Cross, physicians, nurses, pharmacists, police and Legionnaires.

Local Sponsors For Roosevelt Dinner Feb. 2nd

The following Newton residents, Hon. Irving Fishman, Dr. and Mrs. Philip M. LeCompte, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Feingold, Mrs. Joseph M. Corwin and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Katz, are among sponsors of the 15th annual Roosevelt Day Dinner, to be conducted by the Massachusetts Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action.

The dinner will be held Saturday evening, February 2nd at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston.

Old Man Winter Takes His Toll In Accidents

Snow and ice were at the bottom of a number of cases treated during the week at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

A snow blower, something looked upon as a status symbol this year, had a victim in Michael Baskin, 14, of 7 Dorothy Rd., Oak Hill. He injured the little finger of his right hand while operating it, and police transported him to the Massachusetts Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action.

A Belmont woman was cut there by police after she cut a hand in a fall on ice at

Local Student One Of Nation's Top Seniors

Barry K. Rosen, a 17-year-old Newton High School lad, has received word of his being named as one of 40 talented high school seniors, chosen from a field of 22,000, as the "nation's most promising future scientists."

As one of nine girls and 31 boys—of whom three boys and one girl are from Massachusetts—the son of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin H. Rosen, 409 Crafts St., Newtonville, has been awarded an all-expenses trip to Washington, where the 40 youngsters will compete for $34,250 in Westinghouse scholarships and awards during a five-day Science Talent Insti-

Police Working Hard On Newton Crimes Of Week

Yeggs, purse snatchers, car thieves and just plain burglars contributed this past week to the crime picture in Newton.

The largest haul was $25,000, life savings of Luigi DeSantis of 11 Cottage Ct., Nonantum.

The money was in bills of various denominations. Its owner told police he had been banking it for 52 years, but had withdrawn the bills two years ago and stored them in a cracker can in a closet at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Viola Lucas, with whom he lives. The police are working on the case.

The second largest haul was $1782.60, most of which was

City's Proposed Incinerator Seems Finally To Be Completely Snagged

There will be at least three incinerators beingraging for the last six months. Last Monday a technically arose when it was discovered that the order for the proposed bond issue appropriation should have been based on this year's property valuation instead of that of 1962. As a result, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will have to ask for a refigured appropriation from the Aldermen next Monday.

Around City Hall this week the opinion was fairly general that prospects for the facility had become very dim. As matters stand, approval of the issue hangs on a favorable vote from one of the Aldermen who were absent at the meeting last month when the issue was previously voted.

That question, plus Alderman Earle D. Wood's opposition to the Rumford avenue site and still another obstacle—Waltham's claim of ownership of two acres of land that are the subject of eminent domain proceedings—add up to a rather forlorn hope that an incinerator will ever be erected in the Rumford avenue area.

Another item on Monday's docket will be a proposal to appoint former Rep. Arthur G. Heaney as an election commissioner. The term of office is four years, and the pay is $3000.

The third matter of importance involves an overdraft of $2500 in the office of Veterans Services. Before current bills can be paid a special bill will have to be filed in the Massachusetts Legislature for authority to appropriate the required money. Approval of the Aldermen will be necessary for the filing of the legislative petition.

Booklet Tells Where To Park

There is both useful information and bad news in a revised edition of a pamphlet entitled "Where To Park in Downtown Boston," available to the general public by writing to the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, 125 High St., Boston 10.

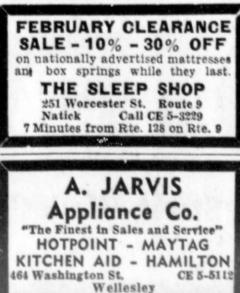

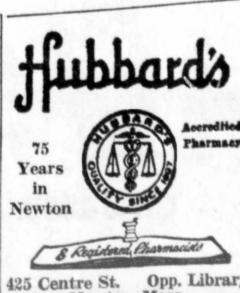

Included in the useful material is a map showing the parking garages and lots, and information that with the legal spaces at curbs there are some 25,000 legal parking spaces.

The bad news comprises a list of what you can do to make yourself liable to fines of from $3 to $15.

Mental Health Survey

Dr. Leonard Solomon of West Newton, associate professor and research associate at Boston University's Research Center, introduced the speakers at a discussion of the results of a recent mental health survey held last night (Wednesday) at the B.U. School of Public Relations.

Youths Of N.E. Unitarian Church 3-Day Guests

Representatives of some 40 areas of the New England Regional Committee of the Liberal Religious youth will be guests of the First Unitarian Church in West Newton on February 8, 9 and 10.

Membership comprises groups of high school age Unitarians and Universalists. The students will sleep in the parish hall and in other areas in church, as well as have their meals served and prepared within the church.

Discussions, committee meetings, and business planning sessions will highlight the gathering and give members an opportunity to exchange ideas and information on a New England-wide basis.

Diana Gurry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gurry, 57 Hunnewell Avenue, Newton, chairman of the Jaynes League, youth group of the First Unitarian Church in West Newton, will act as conference host.

Chaperones for the conference will be the Rev. Herbert Weeks, Unitarian Church, North Adams; the Rev. Lawrence Jaffa, Unitarian Church, Groton, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace J. Fletcher, 351 Otis street, West Newton, advisors to the Jaynes League at First Unitarian.

Newton GOP Updates Law In New Move

The formation of a By-Laws Committee is being planned by the Republican City Committee in Newton according to information released by Carleton P. Merrill.

This is part of the long range recognition program for the local GOP committee. The By-Laws Committee will have responsibility of reviewing the current By-Laws and to recommend to the Executive Committee those changes which will allow the local group to function with modern day application of practical politics and not those of the late 1930s, according to Chairman Merrill.

Appointed as chairman of the committee was Alderman Melvin J. Dangel of West Newton and to serve with Mr. Dangel are School Committeeman Edwin Hawkridge of Waban, Mrs. Dorothy W. Vinicombe of Chestnut Hill and Mr. Richard C. Hesselbee of Newtonville.

In making the announcement Mr. Merrill stated, "The By-Laws of the City Committee were originally adopted in 1938 and since that time only two amendments have been made to same, one in 1954 and another in 1961. Since the General Laws of the Commonwealth, Chapter 52, Section 10 allows a city committee to make such rules and regulations which are consistent with law, it becomes most important that as a part of our reorganization program that we take a severe and a practical look at those regulations which govern us as a political organization.

Newton can no longer sit back and wait for a state organization to plan, to direct and to organize for us. Newton Republicans must take the lead and in co-operation with the state G. O. P. show other local organizations that the job must be done at the local level, not from an office in Boston."

Rites Will Be Held Today For Mrs. E. Hohman

Mrs. Edna (Geyer) Hohman, 4 Beverly road, Newton Highlands, wife of Harry A. Hohman, died Monday after a prolonged illness at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Mrs. Hohman had been associated with the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company since 1932 and last served as Manager of the Newton Highlands Branch Office. For many years she worked as treasurer of Newton's well known Jackson Homestead and recently served as regional vice president of the New England Division of the National Association of Bank Women.

A former president of the Zonta Club of Newton, Mrs. Hohman was also very active in local civic and charitable endeavors.

She was a member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church from which services will be held today Thursday afternoon January 31, at 2 p.m.

Study Grants For 2 Doctors

Two West Newton doctors who are chemistry professors at Boston University were among five B. U. chemists to receive grants totalling more than $60,000 from public and private agencies, according to an announcement by President Harold C. Case.

Dr. Sonja R. Gross, 35 Knollwood drive, received $2500 from the U.S. Public Health Service, supplementing an earlier grant, to study the biogenesis of alkaloids.

The National Cancer Institute awarded Dr. Norman N. Lichten, 45 Elinor road, and his research associate, Dr. Jehuda H. Leftkin of Framingham, a grant of $11,500 to study a project whose goal is to find specific compounds that will kill cancer cells.

MR. CORY OF CONTINENTAL

The perfect combination for keeping the human body in shape is exercise and rational eating habits. However, few people seem to have either the time or the inclination to exercise consistently and eat with restraint.

Exercise, whether it be sports, calisthenics or machine-type, should be engaged in with consistency. A frantic day of wild exertion can't make up for several months of inactivity. The same steady dedication to proper dieting must be observed if the individual is to assume and retain the figure desired.

What you may desire in the matter of hair styling, however, is another story. The happy answer to that story will be found at CONTINENTAL COIFFEURS, where our stylists know all facets of their trade. Make your appointment soon at CONTINENTAL COIFFEURS, 74 Langley Rd., Newton Centre, phone WO 9-8317 or 1271 Washington St. in West Newton, phone LA 7-9329.

THIS WEEK'S HELPFUL HINT: Smooth, velvety skin can be had by rubbing cheeks, chin and forehead with a skinned avocado.

Peace Corps Emissary To Visit Newton

Sally Horner, special assistant in the college and university division of the Peace Corps, will visit Newton College of the Sacred Heart next Tuesday, Feb. 5, to meet with students and faculty members who are interested in service with the corps.

Miss Horner is a 1954 graduate of Smith College. She has been engaged primarily in the field of architecture and interior design in Boston before joining the Peace Corps staff in its early days. She recently participated in the International Middle Manpower Conference sponsored by the Peace Corps in Puerto Rico.

Married couples are eligible if both qualify for the same project and have no dependents under 18. There is no upper age limit.

Minister And Rabbi To Appear On TV Together

The "We Believe" program of Wednesday morning, Feb. 6, at 10:15 over Channel 5, WHDH-TV, will have Rabbi Murray L. Rothman, leader of Temple Shalom, Newton, and Dr. Ross Cannon, minister of the Second Church in Newton, in a "pulpit conversation."

Rabbi Rothman is chairman of the Radio and TV Committee of the Massachusetts Board of Rabbis.

The program will be the first of the month in which Brotherhood Week is observed.

The congregations of the Second Church and Temple Shalom during the past years have worshiped together annually at a Sabbath Eve Service at the temple, where Dr. Cannon and Rabbi Rothman engaged in a pulpit conversation; on the following Sunday at the church where both congregations joined again at the Morning Worship Service, the pulpit conversation was continued.

THE CONGREGATIONS OF THE SECOND CHURCH AND TEMPLE SHALOM DURING THE PAST YEARS HAVE WORSHIPPED TOGETHER ANNUALLY AT A SABBATH EVE SERVICE AT THE TEMPLE, WHERE DR. CANNON AND RABBI ROTHMAN ENGAGED IN A PULPIT CONVERSATION; ON THE FOLLOWING SUNDAY AT THE CHURCH WHERE BOTH CONGREGATIONS JOINED AGAIN AT THE MORNING WORSHIP SERVICE, THE PULPIT CONVERSATION WAS CONTINUED.

$11,926 Grant Given Newton Blind Center

The American Center for Research in Blindness and Rehabilitation in Newton has been awarded a grant of $11,926, to investigate "Auditory Measurements of a Sample of the Blind Population" by the board of directors of the Medical Foundation, Inc., of Boston.

The Center, a service of the Catholic Guild for All the Blind, has received the grant for one year study. Leo H. Riley, M.D., director of research, received the grant from Harold W. Demone, Jr., executive director of the Medical Foundation.

The first project grant received by the Center, the money will be used to measure hearing deficiencies in a sampling of blind persons.

Mrs. Barbara Melrose, audiologist for the Center, will do the audiometric studies involved in the project. Dr. Riley stated that experiences from St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center, another service of the Guild, have shown more information is needed in this area to render more effective services to blind persons.

The American Center for Research in Blindness and Rehabilitation opened its new, unique research facility at 770 Center street, Newton, with a series of professional seminars during the month of January. The Center is located on a 5 1/2 acre area adjoining its parent organization, the Catholic Guild for All the Blind, directed by Rev. Thomas J. Carroll.

Custom-Made Mouth Guards For Athletes

The Newton section of the Charles River Dental Society has co-operated with the Physical Education Department of the Newton Public Schools and the Newton Health Department in a program to furnish custom-made mouth protectors to all football and hockey players at both Newton High School and Newton South High School.

This is part of a nationwide program recommended by the National Alliance Football Rules Committee to protect players from tooth and mouth injuries. Mouth injuries comprise about 20 percent of all football and hockey injuries and use of the mouth protectors will virtually eliminate them.

Local Newton dentists volunteered their time and knowledge to take impressions of the boys' teeth for the fabrication of the latex protectors.

Materials, assistance, and part of the laboratory costs were provided by the School Department. The mouth protector is a personal piece of equipment and belongs to each player.

Appointed to assist at the dinner as hostesses are: Mrs. Victor D. Baer, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mrs. Harry Brenner, Mrs. Morgan S. Campbell, Mrs. Daniel Carmen, Mrs. Anthony W. Chalkowski, Mrs. Spencer F. Deming, Mrs. Ernest Dietz, Mrs. Stanley Epstein, Mrs. Richard Goldman, Mrs. Arno H. A. Heyn, Mrs. Arthur N. Hogquist, Mrs. Franklin D. Jerome, Mrs. Alan W. Licari, Miss Marilyn Lombardi, Miss Jean Noble, Mrs. Dorothy H. Reed, Mrs. M. Michael Shulman, Mrs. Maynard Slessinger, Mrs. Herman Smerling and Mrs. Elliot Stone.

This is the first year that the program has been in effect in the Newton schools.

The results are under study by Dr. Robert Kirschbaum, co-ordinator of Dental Services, Newton Health Department, and Frank M. Simmons, supervisor, Physical Health and Safety Education, Newton Public Schools.

At the head table will be the leaders of the several Republican organizations which have combined to sponsor the event: Mrs. William L. Bruce, president, Newton Republican Club; Carleton P. Merrill, chairman, Newton Republican City Committee; Edward J. O'Donoghue, president, Newton Republican Club, and Alan W. Licari, president, Newton Young Republican Club. They will introduce various personalities participating in the dinner program.

Added to the already lengthening list of patrons reserving tables at the dinner are: Mrs. Edward C. Becherer, Wallace F. Forbes, Mrs. James N. Gabriel, Edwin Hawridge, Mrs. George C. Janes, Alan W. Licari, Mr. and Mrs. George Michaels, Richard Rosen, Mrs. Herman Smerling, Mrs. Leonelle Wells, Rep. John Whittemore. The chairman of reservations, Mrs. David M. Schulman will report additional names in forthcoming statements.

United Church Women To Hold Meeting Friday

The annual meeting and luncheon of the United Church Women of Newton, will be held tomorrow Friday, February 1st, at Trinity Church, Newton Centre, at 12:15 o'clock, according to the announcement today from Mrs. Clarence L. Southmayd, president of the organization.

Donald W. Kawbler, a student at the School of Theology of Boston University, will be the speaker. His topic is "Making Local Churches Ecumenical". Mr. Kawbler was the recent speaker at the Greater Boston Ecumenical Seminar which discussed such a subject. Mr. Kawbler is a native of Granville, Ohio, and a graduate of Ohio State University. He has done chaplaincy work with the National Parks Service and is currently the Boy Scout chaplain and youth worker for the Newton Council of Churches. His topic is in keeping with the theme for May Fellowship Day subject: The Church Ecumenical: Its Mission.

Mrs. Charles Renker, chairman of the World Day of Prayer, announced that this year there will be two services on March 1, this year's World Day of Prayer date. The afternoon service will be at two o'clock in the Newton Centre Methodist Church. The speaker will be the Rev. Walter G. Mueler. The evening service will be at eight o'clock at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Nels Ferre will be the speaker at this service. Mrs. Renker is being assisted by Mrs. Carl Holdridge and Mrs. Philip Baird.

There will be baby sitting at Trinity Church during the annual meeting and luncheon.

Mrs. Anthony Jaureguay, president of the Trinity church women, is being assisted by Mrs. Stewart W. Holmes as hostesses for this meeting. Miss Katherine Robinson is chairman of reservations. The luncheon is being prepared by Mrs. Robert Purinton, Mrs. Amos Kent, Mrs. Franklin Fullerton, Mrs. Joseph Urbanetti, Mrs. Joseph Melick and Mrs. Kenneth Monteith.

Power Of Pen And Phone

The American taxpayer has sat in calmness, composed in the face of mounting demands upon his hard-earned money, all the time positive that he was being taken—almost as brazenly as the corn-fed jasper who wondered into the Big Town only to be sold the Brooklyn Bridge.

The taxpayer's capacity for ungrudgingly sharing the financial load, his tolerance of those hoisting the weight on his shoulders, have been accepted as the national image of John Q. Public. Oh, he will grumble among his own but is never inspired to march upon the barricades. However, of late there are slight winds of unrest noted in our Commonwealth. They could indicate the spawning of a real, old-fashioned northeaster of public indignation. It is geared to descend upon the Golden Dome of our hallowed State House.

The voice crying in the wilderness of mounting taxes is that of Frank J. Zeo, executive director of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations. Director Zeo forecasts a genuine taxpayer's revolt, complete with swaying placards and a grim march on Beacon Hill, if Governor Peabody and the lads in the State Legislature fail to provide a big boost in state aid to help reduce local property taxes.

Director Zeo told the recent annual meeting of the Massachusetts Press Association, of which Transcript Publication newspapers are members, that the proposed Federal tax cut would be a real boon to the overloaded taxpayer. Bringing the problem back to our own Commonwealth, he predicted that the average Massachusetts family, now paying more than $500 in property taxes yearly, will be paying close to $600 in 1965, and at least $750 by 1970, unless relief is granted. He called these predicted taxes "perilously close to confiscatory taxation" for many families.

"More groups and individuals than ever before are focused on the governor and legislators because of this urgent need for local tax relief, and I don't believe these citizens will be satisfied if only a few fiscal scraps are tossed their way," Zeo commented.

A revolt would have happened before now, Zeo indicated, except for these factors: The local taxpayer usually trusts his legislators to look out for his interests; he is conditioned to gradual increases in his taxes; he doesn't always know he is paying too much in property taxes compared to other taxpayers; and he complains to the wrong people.

As Director Zeo sees the local taxpayer: "He sounds off at town meetings when he should be talking to his State legislators. The taxpayer forgets that the communities have nowhere to turn for substantial relief except to the Legislature, and he is unaware of the appalling degree to which the State heaps costs on the cities and towns."

A far less complicated solution to this problem is proposed to our readers today, to replace the State House march and the thrusting placards. Write or phone your own representatives in the Legislature. Keep the phones ringing and the ink slinging.

Legislators are quick to discern the formation of waves of public opinion and are certain to act accordingly before the waves swell into breakers and crash on the shore. Every voter is his or her own task force, his own public relations expert. Write or phone—and often.

To facilitate the use of the pen or phone, this newspaper carries the names of all local State Representatives and Senators from this district. Inform these public servants of your dissatisfaction with the drag caused by our monstrous Massachusetts property tax, which carries 60 percent of the total tax load in this State, along with its sidekick, the motor vehicle excise tax.

The property tax is the fastest growing of all our major taxes—up 16 percent in three years and 5 percent, or 37 million dollars, over last year.

It is high time we get busy with the phone and pen. The solons on Beacon Hill will be happy to hear from you. Should we disappoint them?

Political Highlights

Eyebrows clicked at the ease and the margin by which McCormack beat down a Dixiecrat move to cut back the size of the House Rules Committee. McCormack handled it with such skill as to make it look easy. He had done his homework.

One of the big secrets of McCormack's success in the Congress is that he always does his homework, that he works harder at the job of being a Congressman than does anyone else.

McCormack is now tested and proven. No longer is there any question whatever concerning his ability as a leader.

Where he was viewed with some skepticism when he donned the mantle Sam Rayburn had worn so long, he is now regarded as a bulwark of strength for the Kennedy administration.

John McCormack has won over the skeptics and converted the doubters. He is now firmly established as the second most powerful figure in the national government. He is writing his own chapter in the history books.

GOP Leadership Ridiculous In Ted Kennedy Probe Move

Members of the Republican State Committee, who have been floundering around trying to find some kind of issue on which the GOP might capitalize, placed themselves in a ridiculous position in seeking an investigation of the campaign expenditures by Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

In the first place, if any demand were to be made for a probe of Ted Kennedy's expenditures, the proper person to make it would be George C. Lodge, the candidate who opposed him. Lodge has made no such request.

The motion by a member of the GOP State Committee had too many earmarks of a political smear.

In the second place, there is no evidence that Kennedy spent an unreasonable large sum in pressing his campaign or that he spent more than he said he did.

The Democrats in the House of Representatives at first got their signals crossed on how to meet the Republican move for an investigation of Ted's campaign costs.

This may prove to be a premature and hasty appraisal.

Speaker John F. Thompson spearheaded a fight against the measure only to have Representative Gerard Doherty of Charlestown, who was picked by Senator Kennedy to be Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, join with the Republicans in voting for the probe.

That Thompson and Doherty took opposing stands on the matter was obviously due to the fact that Doherty arrived late for the legislative session and had no opportunity to get together with Thompson on the strategy.

But it also pointed up that Kennedy's top lieutenants and his leading backers in the House not only were unconcerned about the proposed probe but had decided that it might boomerang on the GOP.

If Republican masterminds want to assemble ammunition to fire against Ted Kennedy when he comes up for reelection in 1964, it would seem that the thing to do is to keep a close watch on what he does as Senator and to hammer away at any actions with which they are in disagreement.

That might be both awkward and difficult since Ted Kennedy and Senator Leverett Saltonstall appear to be working closely together. In fact, it will be interesting to see on what, if any, issues Kennedy and Saltonstall take opposing positions.

Those mapping the GOP strategy in Massachusetts would do well to start looking ahead instead of back. The view to the rear is not exactly an attractive one from the Republican standpoint.

Pundits Err In Rating Peabody A Conservative

Some political pundits already are expressing the concern that Endicott Peabody will be a conservative Governor.

Peabody's first budget message to the Legislature was conservative in the sense that he advocated no new taxes although there is considerable doubt that Peabody can run the State government for the next two years without getting additional money from some source.

They point out that if Peabody needs any additional taxes to finance the operation of the State Government during his administration, the time to seek them is now rather than to procrastinate and that Peabody would have little or no chance of obtaining approval of a tax hike bill in 1964, an election year.

If Peabody does even a small part of the things which he declared in the campaign last fall should be done, he will need more tax revenue. The fact that he didn't call for new taxes in his first budget message may not be as significant as some political observers seem to believe.

And if Peabody turns out to be a conservative Governor, it will be one of the surprises of the year.

GOP Senator Pays Tribute To Powers

A Republican State Senator, in a private discussion, praised Senate President John E. Powers as one of the ablest, fairest and most conscientious presiding officers of any legislative body in the United States.

He said his appraisal applied not only to the Legislatures in the various States but also to Congress.

The GOP Solon asserted that during his four years as president of the Senate, Powers has never given any member of the body fast shuffle, that he has never tried to railroad through a bill and has never prevented a full discussion on any measure, regardless of how strongly he personally favored it.

He said that for political reasons he didn't want his eulogy of Powers quoted but that during all his years on Beacon Hill he had never seen as hard working a legislator or public official as is John E. Powers.

His words pointed up dramatically the fact that some political writers have a tendency to gloss over the tremendous job done by Powers and the long hours he devotes to his duties while playing up the appointment of Powers' brother as a legislative attache.

Powers never seems to receive the full credit he deserves for his dedication to the important position he holds and for working far in excess of what anyone has a right to expect of him.

Two Waban lads, 15 and 16 years old, were in Newton District Court Monday charged with snatching a handbag containing $20 from Theresa Longphée of 37 Woodman Rd., Chestnut Hill, at the MTA station in Chestnut Hill. Their case was continued until tomorrow (Friday).

Three boys whose age ranged from 13 to 17 were turned over to Boston police after being caught in a stolen car in the Chestnut Hill shopping area.

Other thefts reported during the week were: The car of Peter Kanavos, 99 Aspen Ave., Auburndale, which was recovered; a suit taken from the car of Leon LeClair, 28 Annapolis Rd., West Newton, at a Chestnut Hill supermarket parking space; a wallet with $10 taken from a Wellesley man during the basketball game in Newton High gym Saturday; a bicycle stolen from David Ricks, 63 Columbus St., Newton Highlands; $40 taken from the home of Harry W. Abells, 331 Kenrick St., Newton.

Emerson's Big Rug Sale Will End This Saturday

This Saturday is the final day of Emerson Rug's Annual January Sale . . . and Emerson Rug's Norwood showroom is ready for a last minute rush of shoppers.

The Emerson store at 950 Providence Highway, Route 1, has enjoyed a banner month . . . with more families buying broadloom than ever before.

And no wonder. Each year at this time, Emerson Rug fills its stores with hundreds of exciting broadloom buys. And smart shoppers flock to Emerson Rug, where they save 1/2 to 1/4 on famous makers' broadlooms.

This year's selection will delight all who want a rich, sumptuous appearance in broadloom. Emerson Rug has combed the country for luxurious high-pile carpets, and has found some remarkable values. At the Norwood store you'll see velvety plush carpets and thick high-pile twist carpets at savings of up to $6 a square yard. There are tweeds, textured and sculptured carpets in every decorator color imaginable. Over 1,000 brand name broadlooms are on display. This enormous selection is bound to give you many new ideas for home decoration.

Emerson stores are located in Quincy, Norwood, Natick, and Stoneham and are open daily 'til 9 p.m., and Saturday 'til 5:30 p.m.

James D. Carey, 361 Crafts street, Newtonville, a member of the Army ROTC, Boston University, has been initiated into the Pershing Rifles, a national honor society.

Newton South Wins 2; NHS Drops A Pair

As has happened a few times in the past this season, the Newton basketball week saw one high school win a pair of contests, while the other was dropping two.

This week, it was Newton South all victorious, while Newton showed an 0-2 mark. Ironically, last week, the story was just the opposite.

On Tuesday, Newton South stopped Weymouth, 69-61.
Strong performances in the two middle periods gave the Lions the win. The evenly balanced scoring attack found four locals in double figures, White and MacLean with 17 apiece, Polen with 12 and Paris with 10.

Last Friday, the Lions broke their losing skein with an impressive 71-64 victory over Arlington. MacLean scored a whopping 36 points to pace the club, while White had 11.

Meanwhile at Newton, the club bowed to potent Brockton, 66-55. Brockton sewed up the contest in the second period, when they outscored the locals, 19-8. That 11-point difference turned out to be the margin of victory. Beard, with 18, and Hicks, with 11, were Newton's top scorers.

On Friday, the club bowed to another Suburban League powerhouse, Rindge, 65-34.
The Tigers remained in contention throughout the first half, trailing only 25-21 at intermission. However, the second half was all Rindge, as the locals were able to tally only 13 points, while the winners racked up 40. No one for Newton hit double figures.

Pharmacy Is Named Pickup News Station

Countryside Pharmacy, 98
Winchester St., corner of Dedham St., in Newton Highlands, has been appointed as a "pickup station" for news copy and classified ads for the Newton Graphic.

Ted Ross, proprietor of the pharmacy, says he is glad to extend this service to the neighborhood and feels that it will be a real convenience for contributors to The Graphic.

Countryside Pharmacy, which opened two years ago, has been welcomed by residents of Newton Highlands as a boon to the neighborhood, and considerable appreciation has been expressed for its prompt prescription service and free delivery.

Well known for his activities in the Newton, Brookline and Needham area, Ted Ross is a past commander of J.W.V. Post 195. He is married, has two children, and lives in Needham.

Mayor Proclaims Dental Health Week Observance

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has proclaimed the week of February 3-9, as Children's Dental Health Week. This is the fifteenth national observance of this event, the purpose of which is to call attention to the early preventive measures which can protect children from a large part of the dental disease, especially tooth decay, that affects more than ninety-five per cent of the people.

As part of the observance
Dr. Robert Kirschbaum, coordinator of Dental Services, Newton Health Department, has announced an "open house" at the Public Health Dental Clinic which is located in the Newton City Hall.

The public is invited to visit the clinic on Wednesday, Feb.
6, between the hours of 1:00 and 4:00 p.m. The regular dental staff will be in attendance to demonstrate the clinic in operation and the dental hygienists, who examine the children in the schools each year, will be present with a display of dental health material. The staff will be pleased to answer any questions that parents may have concerning the Public Health dental program.

The Public Health Dental Clinic provides treatment to students in the Newton public and parochial schools through the sixth grade. Patients are selected by the school nurses who make the necessary appointments during school hours. The clinic is operated each school day throughout the year with the dentists in attendance. During school vacations the hygienists use the facilities to clean the children's teeth.

Dr. Kirschbaum has listed four rules to insure dental health. If followed they are effective in helping the individual to keep his teeth. These rules are:

1. A well-balanced diet with consumption of sweets kept to a minimum. Sugar is turned into destructive mouth acids that cause dental decay.

2. Proper toothbrushing habits beginning at an early age. This means brushing the teeth immediately after eating.

3. Early detection and treatment of dental disease. This will prevent more extensive dental ills later on. Neglect may produce serious dental problems which will continue throughout life.

4. Use of drinking water containing the proper amount of fluorides for prevention of tooth decay, and application of fluoride solutions to the teeth at periodic intervals. In communities without fluoridated water the dentist or physician can prescribe fluoride tablets as a dietary supplement.

Bishop Mathews To Preach Here

Bishop James K. Mathews, resident bishop of the Boston Area of the Methodist Church, will make his first visit to the Newton Centre Methodist Church on Sunday morning,
Feb. 3, at 11, when he will be the guest preacher.

Members and friends have planned an informal reception following the service to give the people an opportunity to greet the bishop and Mrs.
Mathews.

Bishop Mathews was elected to the episcopacy and assigned to oversee work of New England Methodist churches in June, 1960. As spiritual leader of Methodism in the northeast, he has responsibility for approximately 600 churches with a total membership of 200,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Berman Making Home In Milton

The marriage of Miss Marcia Wasserman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wasserman of 45 Daniel street, Newton Centre, to Richard Berman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berman of Milton, took place recently at the home of her parents.

Rabbi Philip Kieval officiated at the 7 o'clock evening service. A reception followed the double-ring ceremony.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown. The fitted bodice was marked with jeweled lace insets, had long sleeves. The full skirt terminated in a short train.

Seed pearls misted the lace headpiece which held in place her elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid.

Miss Ardiff, Mr. Ormiston Marry In Needham Church

Christ Episcopal Church in Needham was the setting on January's final Saturday, the 26th, for the marriage of Miss Eleanor Frances Ardiff to Alan Roger Ormiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Francis Ardiff of 110 Waban avenue, Waban, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Julian Ormiston of Deery, N. H., are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Harold E. Chase Jr., officiated at the 3 o'clock afternoon service. A reception followed at the Parish House.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of white faille. Her fitted bodice had a sabrina neckline etched with lace inserts and three quarter-length sleeves. Her sheath-skirt was styled with a modified cathedral train.

Her imported headpiece, made of lilies and orange blossoms, held in place a bouffant elbow-length illusion veil. She carried a cascade of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Mary Ellen Crowe of Longmeadow was maid of honor. Mrs. Robert E. Loveland of Cambridge and Mrs. Richard C. Newman of New Brunswick, N. J., were bridesmaids.

Young Deborah L. Ardiff was her aunt's flower girl, while Master Jeffrey Neil Boulter, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer.

(Jay Ted)

MRS. RICHARD BERMAN

and Miss Sandra Wasserman, another sister of the bride.

The best man was Stephen Bankoff of Mattapan. Alan Wolfson of Newton Centre, cousin of the bride, Gerald Koss and Stephen Goren, both of Mattapan, were the ushers.

The couple, now making their home in Milton, spent their honeymoon in the Catskills.

A graduate of Newton High School, the bride attended LaSalle Junior College and was graduated from Boston University.

Mr. Berman is a graduate of Milton High School. He is now a senior at Northeastern University.

man. The ushers were S. Lawrence Dingman of Cambridge, Gordon Dewitt of Hanover, N. H., and Richard Damery of Wakefield, cousin of the bridegroom.

Now in New Hampshire on their honeymoon, the couple plan to live in Cambridge.

The bride is a graduate of Colby College, class of 1960.

Mr. Ormiston was graduated from Harvard College, class of 1958, and received his master's degree at Dartmouth College. He is now a doctoral candidate at Harvard University.

Guests of honor will be Miss Avis Walsh, president of the West Newton Woman's Club, and several former leaders and members of the American Home Class.

Members and guests will enjoy a buffet lunch put on by the chairman of the day, Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson assisted by her committee — Mrs. Rudolf McKay and Mrs. Wallace G. Burbo.

Following the luncheon a birthday cake will be cut by the oldest former member present.

Mr. Bonyun will preside over the business meeting following which Mrs. Donald C. Moody will present highlights of the American Home class through the years 1913 to 1963.

Boston Opera Guild Formed In This Area

A new chapter for the Boston Opera Group Guild was formed last week in the Newton area at a meeting held at the Exeter Street, home of Mrs. David H. Wilson in West Newton.

Sarah Caldwell, founder and artistic director, was the speaker and explained the functions and purposes of having local, autonomous chapters in order to help create a truly resident opera company for Greater Boston.

Mrs. Arnold B. Wilson, chairman of the Newton chapter, reported that more than twenty persons have joined the local Opera Guild. It was announced that they would attend an open dress rehearsal of Faust on Feb. 12.

Those interested in joining the Newton chapter of the Boston Opera Guild are asked to telephone Mrs. Arnold Wilson at DE 2-6988.

allocate $10,000 of its own funds to provide the most elementary relocation assistance to its people.

"Five hundred families have been forced to leave their homes and to spend their own money to move their household goods elsewhere to get out of the way of this road. Over 100 businesses have had to move for the public good, and they have had to use their own funds to make this move. Fifty-nine businesses had to apply to the Chamber of Commerce for aid in relocating, but despite this, about 20 percent had to leave Newton and another 10 percent went out of business, and that means more tax loss to the city."

People Suffering Major Upheaval

Continuing, Mrs. Feingold declared that the people were suffering a major upheaval in having to pull up their roots, move their children to new schools, join a new church.

"There can be no compensation for this, but it is piling injustice on injury to ask them to pay the moving man for that privilege," she said.

She went on to say that the people she had worked with during the past year lacked the kind of money the furniture movers demand. She cited the experience of a Negro couple with eight children, two of them in college. Their rented house was taken. After looking at more than

Conservators Will Discuss Charles River

"The Charles River, Newton's priceless boundary," will be the main topic discussed by the Newton Conservators, Inc. at the organization's annual meeting to-night (Thursday) January 31, at the Newton Highlands Workshop at 8:00 p.m.

State and federal aids to municipal and other agencies seeking to conserve open areas will be described, together with an outline of what communities and groups can do themselves. Colored slides of little known open spaces in Newton will be shown. The public is invited.

100 houses they finally found one for sale at a price within their means. The father could not afford a mover, so hired a U-Haul-It truck and did the moving, losing a day's pay in the process.

"As renters they were entitled to nothing," Mrs. Feingold said,—no market value, nothing. The people involved in eminent domain takings are human beings, whether they are renters or owners, and are entitled to more than 'fair market value.' They are entitled to prompt payment, at least on a pro tanto basis, and they are entitled to help in finding a new home, or a new store.

"In the City of Newton the vacancy rate is less than 1 percent, and this in a city where 85 percent of the housing is valued at $15,000 and above. Where could the 500 families go? The answer is obvious. Many of them could not stay in Newton.

"The bills before you represent many reactions to this problem, and many attempts to reach a more equitable solution. The Galvin-Brady-Fishman bills include provisions for moving allowances, a relocation agency with the responsibility of insuring the availability of decent, safe and sanitary dwellings to replace the ones being taken, and the provision that any person affected by the taking may apply for injunctive relief if he believes that the law is not fully being carried out. These are vital and necessary provisions to any bill that may be passed.

"Lastly, I would like to point out that it would have cost the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority $310,000 to provide maximum moving allowances for the families and businesses displaced in Newton, and relocation services to assist them. This is all that helping the human beings in one city would have added to the mammoth cost of this road."

Wilbur W. Bullen, chairman of the Newton Community Council, spoke briefly, urging a favorable report on the relocation-relief legislation, and saying that the Council was "concerned at the moment for other communities that

Women Voters Meeting To Highlight United Nations

The League of Women Voters of Newton will conduct its second series of discussion groups on The United Nations on February 5, 6, and 7.

The material will concentrate on the all-important area of the United Nations as a peacemaker. Public opinion has often questioned the effectiveness of United Nations policy in Korea, Suez, and the Congo. The League will attempt to evaluate U. N. experience in the past and investigate its potential for the future. Special attention will be directed toward the role of the U. N. in the formulation of U. S. foreign policy.

Unit meetings will be as follows: Tuesday, 7:45 p.m., Newton Centre, Feb. 5, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Williams, 30 Jacobs Terrace; Wed., 9:45 a.m., Newtonville, Newtonville Library, 345 Walnut St., on Feb. 6; Wed., 9:45 a.m., Newton Centre, Feb. 6, at the home of Mrs. Norman Krim, 15 Fox Lane; Wed., 8:00 p.m., Newton, Feb. 6, at the home of Mrs. Robert Wofsey, 78 Clements Rd.; Thurs., 9:45 a.m., Newton Highlands, Feb. 7, Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus St.; Thurs., 9:45 a.m., West Newton, Feb. 7, at the home of Mrs. Lester Havens, 22 Winthrop St.;

Coming and Going in Newton

By JANE SCHNEIDER

A number of Newtonites associated with G.E.'s advanced manufacturing department have written or phoned concerning news in the Newtons. Mrs. Dorothy Rome recently wrote a letter bringing attention to a young group of boys from Newton who have organized a dance band. The band, called Gerry Porges and the Revelers, is composed of 16 and 17 year old boys. About a year and a half ago the young musicians pooled their talents and formed the Revelers. Radio Station WEEI has since invited the boys to make some recordings for Wally O'Hara. The band has had some excellent bookings in churches, temples, private and public schools, and private affairs.

Ricky Blocker of Newton recently visited family friends in New York. Ricky is a student in the six-year medical school plan at B. U.

Gerry Sherman, a freshman at Brandeis University, spent last weekend at Stowe, Vt., where he skied most of the time. He was accompanied by three friends from school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Labb, formerly of Newton, are now making their home in Wayland. They have one daughter, Ellen, who is a year old.

Mrs. Jack Olans and her son Robert are vacationing in Miami Beach, for a few weeks. Bobby has just returned from Fort Dix, N. J., where he spent six months.

Betsy Tichnor is presently student-teaching at the Mason-Rice School. She is in a fifth grade classroom. Last semester, Betsy taught the first grade at the Beethoven School in Waban. A senior at Boston University's School of Education, she previously attended Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. She is a Newton High graduate.

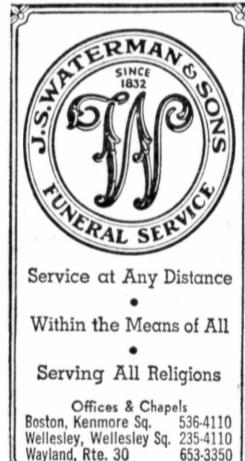

Bobby Koppel of Newton Centre is the drummer for a dance band called the Majestics. The group, composed of boys from Newton South and Newton North High Schools, recently provided music at a Brandeis University function.

Margaret Ann Clark of Newton and Jack Burke of Somerville, recently announced plans to be married April 20. Peggy, a graduate of Boston Teachers College, is teaching in the Boston School System. Jack is a graduate of Bentley School of Accounting.

Linda Kaplan and Beverly Gollis of Newton Centre recently spent their intercession from Boston University in Puerto Rico. Both girls are 1961 graduates of Newton High.

Mrs. Gerald Stein, the former Myrna Rice of Newton, is presently teaching school in New York. She is in charge of a fourth grade class.

Jimmy Clark, a graduate of Newton High and the Colorado School of Mines, is presently employed with General Electric in Johnson City, N. Y. A metallurgical engineer, he is

Newest Concept In Nursing Home Opens in Framingham

The newest concept in Nursing Homes was unveiled at a preview opening of the new Lodge at Meadowbrook Manor in Framingham.

Uniquely, Meadowbrook Manor successfully achieves the perfect blend of home comforts, with the luxury of hotel accommodations and the ultimate in nursing care. For the convalescing or elderly, Meadowbrook Manor provides the perfect atmosphere in which twenty-four hour care is combined with gracious living.

Meadowbrook Manor nestles amid a new residential community on eight acres of landscaped grounds. The Manor House, Lodge, and Cottage are connected by flowered walkways, and all enjoy

Newtonville Woman's Club Plans Affair

The Newtonville Woman's Club is making plans for a Scholarship Bridge, which will be held March 19 in the social hall of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

Proceeds from the affair provide a college scholarship for a local girl.

Mrs. Charles W. Tenney, education chairman, and her committee are in charge of the affair. Subcommittee chairmen include Mrs. Harry W. Abells, refreshments; Mrs. Clifford O. Mooney and Mrs. Charles W. Laffin, decorations; Mrs. Harry L. Kinsel and Mrs. Joseph Sevigny, candy; Mrs. John F. Farrington, assisted by Miss Theresa Cram, silent auction, and Mrs. Tenney, reservations and prizes.

Others working on the affair are Mrs. E. Rudolph McKay, Mrs. Dwight L. Woodberry, Mrs. Dennis P. Tanguay, Mrs. Edward Raphel, Mrs. Wilbur J. Witty and Mrs. Fred L. Toppan.

Mother Bills Get Hearings

Several bills filed by Rep. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., of Newton, were given their public hearings last week at the State House as follows:

A bill to increase committee responsibility by requiring a fiscal note or "spending price tag" on measures reported favorably;

A bill, joined in by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, to allow cities to have women parking control officers or "meter maids";

A bill to require high school instruction in economics and comparative modern government; and

A bill to let retired teachers accept limited employment teaching in university extension courses.

Rep. Muther also is recorded in favor of the five Newton bills which seek to have the MDC construct and maintain a skating rink and swimming pool in Newton.

Plans are for this play-opera to be performed sometime in April.

Recent Deaths

Ellen J. Doherty

A solemn requiem Mass for Mrs. Ellen J. (Lane) Doherty, 89, of 95 Glen avenue, Newton Centre, who died Sunday in a Wellesley nursing home after a long illness, was offered yesterday, (Wednesday) in Sacred Heart Church.

Mrs. Doherty was born in Newton and lived here all her life. She was a member of Middlesex Court, Catholic Association of Foresters, and of Sacred Heart Church Sodality, Newton Centre.

She leaves three sons, William J. of Brockton, George L. of Watertown and Charles J. Doherty of West Newton; a daughter, Mrs. Cleo F. (Helen) Jaijett of Newton Centre, and six grandchildren.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Rose Doucet

A requiem Mass for Mrs. Rose (Cormier) Doucet, 62, of 42 Waterston road, Newton, who died suddenly Monday in Newton-Wellesley Hospital, was celebrated today (Thursday) in St. Joseph's Church, Waltham.

Mrs. Doucet was born in Canada and formerly was a Waltham resident.

She leaves two sons, Richard of Georgia, and Earl Doucet of Florida; five grandchildren; two brothers, Fred Cormier of Waltham and Henry Cormier of Detroit, and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine LeBlanc and Mrs. Josephine Boudreau, both of Waltham.

Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Louis T. Giroux

A requiem Mass for Louis T. Giroux, 52, of 204 North street, Newtonville was celebrated in Our Lady's Church Tuesday, Jan. 29.

Mr. Giroux died of a heart attack last Friday in Las Vegas, Nev., while on his way with his wife to the West Coast.

He formerly operated the Giroux Transportation Company of Newton, and was a member of the Newton Lodge of Elks.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth C. (Fitzgerald) Giroux, he leaves three sons, Louis F. of Shrewsbury, Albert E. of Pelham, N. H. and James T. Giroux of Waltham; six daughters, Mrs. Jerome English of Huntington, N. Y., Mrs. Walter Piotti of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Lawrence Quinn, Miss Donna, Betty Lou and Cora J. Giroux, all of Newtonville; 17 grandchildren; a brother, Herbert C. Giroux of North Weymouth, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Davidson of Ipswich.

Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown.

Charles D. Thomas

Services for Charles D. Thomas, 81, of 245 River street, West Newton, a Spanish-American War veteran, were conducted in a West Newton funeral home on Friday, Jan. 25 by the Rev. Robert Colledge, pastor of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale.

Mr. Thomas died in the V.A. Hospital, Jamaica Plain, after a long illness.

He was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and had been a Newton resident for 35 years. He belonged to Thomas Burnett Camp No. 10, Spanish War Veterans, and had been a custodian in a Newton school.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Gertrude (Collins) Thomas, a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark of Brighton; a son, Leonard Thomas of Waverly; two brothers, Frank of Rockland and Joseph Thomas of Waltham, and several grandchildren.

Burial was in the veterans' lot at Newton Cemetery.

Patrick J. Donlan

A requiem Mass for Patrick J. Donlan, 84, of 45 Kensington street, Newtonville, who died Saturday in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a short illness, was celebrated Tuesday, Jan. 29, in St. Bernard's Church.

Mr. Donlan was born in Galway, Ireland, and was a Newtonville resident for most of his life. He was a member of St. Bernard's Holy Name Society and of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary (Shields) Donlan of Brighton; a son, Edward Donlan; five daughters, Mrs. Mary Bertrand of Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Margaret Harrington and Mrs. Theresa Cameron of West Newton, Mrs. Helen Randall and Mrs. Katherine DeRamio of Waltham; 19 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

He was a self-employed landscape gardener until his retirement.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

Barney Blatt

Services for Barney Blatt, 64, a former resident of Newton, were held Tuesday in Brookline.

Mr. Blatt died last Friday in his home in Port Charlotte, Fla.

A member of the Massachusetts Bar Association, he was graduated from Boston University Law School in 1920. He was a Navy veteran of World War I, and was a member of the Shrine and of Abba Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ida Blatt; a son, Arnold Blatt of Brookline; a brother, Louis Blatt of Meriden, N. H., and two sisters, Rhoda Blatt of Brookline and Mrs. Louis M. Feinberg of Miami Beach.

Alexander Goodman

Services for Alexander Goodman, 60, of 37 Montrose St., Newton, were held yesterday (Wednesday) in Brookline.

Mr. Goodman, a furniture store executive, was a heart attack victim at his home Tuesday morning.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Anne (Saks) Goodman; a daughter, Mrs. Jayne Benson, and a brother, Milton Goodman of Newton.

Burial was in Temple Emanuel Cemetery, Randolph.

William A. O'Neil

A requiem Mass for William A. O'Neil of 97 Crescent street, Auburndale, was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church Saturday, Jan. 27.

Mr. O'Neil, a plumber with the R. H. James Company of Newtonville, until his retirement, died in Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

He had lived in Auburndale for 36 years, moving there from Waltham. He was formerly financial secretary of Local 289, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union of Waltham, and a member of St. Bernard's Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary L. (Egan) O'Neil; a sister, Esther O'Neil, and a brother, Francis O'Neil, both of Waltham.

Patrick J. Fleming

A solemn Mass of requiem for Patrick J. Fleming, 75, of 926 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, a truck driver for the Paul Coal Company, Newton Centre, prior to his retirement, was offered in Sacred Heart Church today (Thursday).

Mr. Fleming died suddenly on Monday.

He was born in Ireland and had lived in Newton for some 50 years.

A brother and a nephew survive in Ireland.

Andrew W. Flaherty

A solemn requiem Mass for Andrew W. Flaherty, 81, formerly of 2085 Commonwealth Ave., Auburndale, who retired as a Middlesex and Boston Street Railway bus driver in 1947, was celebrated today (Thursday) in Corpus Christi Church.

Mr. Flaherty, who was born in Woburn, and lived in Auburndale for 30 years, died Monday in Ghost Hospital, Cambridge, after a long illness.

He was employed by the street railway company for 33 years, and was a member of Local 600, Bus Operators Union.

His wife, Elizabeth V. (Tracy) Flaherty, died earlier in January.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Susan Murphy and Mrs. Helen Ball, both of Woburn.

Louis Goldstein

Services for Louis Goldstein, 53, of 171 Wolcott road, Chestnut Hill, a Newton and Boston auctioneer, were held in Brookline, with Rabbi Benjamin L. Grossman officiating, on Sunday.

Mr. Goldstein collapsed Saturday while auctioning office equipment at his Newton corner place of business, and was dead on arrival at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

He was a native of Bedford, Me., and was a member of Solomon Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rose (Schnipper) Goldstein; a son, Abraham Goldstein of Chestnut Hill; two daughters, Mrs. Sandra Weiner of Brighton and Miss Ina Goldstein of Chestnut Hill; three brothers, Philip of West Roxbury, Harry of Stoughton and Morris Goldstein of Miami, and a sister, Miss Dora Goldstein of Brookline.

Burial was in Sharon Memorial Park.

Memorial week is being observed at his home.

Harm To Charles River's Beauty To Be Discussed

Notice of a meeting for discussion of activities that tend to spoil the beauty of the Charles River's banks have been sent to public officials, civic organizations and interested persons in nine communities, including Newton.

Recent disfigurement of the river banks in the vicinity of the junction of Route 128 and 16 is pointed out as a major cause of protest.

Featured at the meeting will be a talk, "Charles River Scenery, Asset or Liability?" by Benjamin Fink, chief park engineer for the Metropolitan District Commission. It will be held in the Hunnewell School, Wellesley, Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, at 8.

Mr. Fink will be introduced by Sen. Leslie B. Cutler of Needham, whose home is on the river bank.

There will be a question period. Questions, some of which have already been submitted, should be sent to Mrs. Henry W. Berntraeger, 24 Livermore Rd., Wellesley Hills, or may be submitted in writing at the meeting.

Has the ADC the right of eminent domain in acquiring park lands?

What is its policy in preserving the wilderness areas along the Charles?

How can local groups assist it in resisting the requests made by manufacturers and other commercial interests for MDC park land, especially along the Charles?

Charles W. Jordan

The funeral of Charles W. Jordan of 30 Gammons road, Waban, who died suddenly at his home Saturday, Jan. 26, was held in West Newton Tuesday.

He was born in Auburn, Me., and had been a Waban resident for 30 years. Until his retirement six months ago, he was assistant treasurer and a director of the Franklin Company of Boston and Lewiston, Me., and he also was assistant treasurer of the Continental Mills in Lewiston, Me.

Mr. Jordan was a member of Aleppo Temple in Boston, and of Union Lodge, AF & AM, and of Omar Commandery, Dorchester Chapter.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary E. (Killilea) Jordan; a son, Charles W. Jordan, Jr., of Needham; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Philomena J. Duffy

A solemn requiem Mass for Mrs. Philomena J. (Keegan) Duffy, who lived with her daughter, Mrs. Mary G. Shaughnessy at 219 Tremont street, Newton, was offered in St. Charles Church, Waltham on Saturday, Jan. 27.

Mrs. Duffy died last Wednesday at a Waltham Nursing home after a long illness.

She was born in Ireland and had lived for many years in Waltham before moving to Newton two years ago.

In addition to her daughter, she leaves a son, Paul R. Duffy of Waltham, 14 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Beta Sigma Chi

Plans Activities

Chi Chapter, Beta Sigma Chi met at the home of Mrs. Dolores Goodwin, 24 Turner street, Newtonville, to complete plans for the Hawaiian Luau, held yesterday (Wednesday).

Plans were also discussed for the Founders Day Banquet to be held April 30.

In giving the evening's cultural program, Peggy Cushing explained how pronunciation differs in various parts of the U. S. A. of the Boston accent, she said that "it is very crisp and in places suggestive of the best English, but the vowels are so curiously flattened the speech has a saltless effect."

Chi welcomed Carolyn Skinsacos to the chapter as a transferee. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Goodwin.

Burial was in Dorchester Cemetery.

Bertram A. Silva

Services for Bertram A. Silva, 67, of 7 Brier La., Newtonville, were conducted in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, by the Rev. Wilbur J. Kingwill yesterday (Wednesday).

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rose (Schnipper) Goldstein; a son, Abraham Goldstein of Chestnut Hill; two daughters, Mrs. Sandra Weiner of Brighton and Miss Ina Goldstein of Chestnut Hill; three brothers, Philip of West Roxbury, Harry of Stoughton and Morris Goldstein of Miami, and a sister, Miss Dora Goldstein of Brookline.

Burial was in Sharon Memorial Park.

JIM WILL DO IT!

World Traveler
Among Speakers
Here On Tues.

Mrs. Francis J. Flagg will be mistress of ceremonies at the program of the Woman's Association of the Eliot Church of Newton on Tuesday, February 5th in Fellowship Hall.

She will introduce Miss Phyllis Robbins, author of MAUDE ADAMS and THE YOUNG MAUDE ADAMS who will show colored slides of her summer's trip; Mary Doehler (Mrs. Paul A.) director of Esophageal Speech, Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, director of the International Association of Laryngectomists and president of the Cured Cancer Club of Boston; and Mary Parker Dunning (Mrs. Harry W.) a world traveler in far away places ever since her marriage in 1908 to an assistant professor of Eastern languages at Yale.

Together they have seen dynasties fall and have followed world events from the fall of the great Manchu dynasty in China, the ending of the Ottoman Empire in Turkey and the preparations for the crowning of King Mahendra in Nepal. In an old court costume of the Manchu dynasty, Mrs. Dunning will tell of the white banners of mourning that blew all over China at the death of the Empress Dowager, the last journey to the mosque of Abdul Hamid of Turkey, and of her flight over the Himalayas to Katmandu, the capital of what was always known as "Forbidden Nepal", the primitive land untouched by Western civilization for many centuries.

Preceding the program of the afternoon, luncheon will be served at 12:15 with Mrs. Leonard H. Abbott, Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland, Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, Mrs. Raymond Garon and Mrs. Philip N. Horne serving as hostesses. Miss Alice M. Corson, president of the Woman's Association, will conduct the business meeting immediately following the luncheon.

Repairs Set For Eleven Streets

Director of Public Works Willard S. Pratt has designated 11 streets for repair projects under the Chapter 90 arrangement whereby the city pays half the cost and the county and state a fourth each.

The streets, and amount of payment by the city, are as follows:

Winchester St., Newton Highlands, $50,000; Prince St., West Newton, $50,000; Ripley St., Newton Centre, $25,000; Central St., Auburndale, $18,000; Hobart Rd., Newton Centre, $10,000; Hartford St., Newton Highlands, $10,000; Glen Ave., Newton Centre, $15,000; Oliver Rd., Waban, $7,000; Clyde St., Newtonville, $10,000; Fuller St., West Newton, $15,000, and Windsor Rd., Waban, $14,000.
